FLYERS HOP TO DALLAS

Expect to Reach Here Tuesday

San Diego Prepares to Hail Aviators Monday After Jump from Tucson

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DALLAS (Tex.) Sept. 19.—America's globe-girdling flyers arrived here at 4:20 o'clock this afternoon, circling down onto Love Field after their 225-mile journey from Muskogee, Okla., from which point they took off at 12:26 this afternoon. Rain flurries pelted them most of the way, but made no changes in their route necessary.

The trip was uneventful to the flyers themselves, but one of the Army escort planes met with trouble which might have resulted fatally. The engine of Lieut. McKenery's escort ship balked shortly after the start from Muskogee and he was forced to make a landing in which his machine was wrecked, but he emerged without injury.

There was a huge crowd present to greet the flyers, and their reception was as ardent as the red-blooded Texans could make it. Tonight they were guests at a banquet followed by a theater party.

This is the farthest point south the flyers touch in their homecoming transcontinental journey.

Early Saturday morning they plan to fly to El Paso, 625 miles due west of Dallas, their longest cross-country ride since reaching the United States. The prospects are for good flying weather.

SMITH EXPECTS TO BE HERE TUESDAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 19.—The 'round-the-world flyers will arrive at Rockwell Field here from Tucson Monday afternoon, according to word received this morning by the Chamber of Commerce from Flight Commander Lowell H. Smith, and will leave for Los Angeles Tuesday morning.

Lieut. Smith's message read: "In reply to your message regarding our arrival, will say we expect to arrive in San Diego late the afternoon of the 22nd inst., continuing our flight to Los Angeles the 23rd inst. You can co-ordinate for an afternoon or evening reception with officers at Rockwell Field."

Because of the desire of the officers at Rockwell Field, where Lieut. Smith was on duty prior to starting on the world flight, to accord full honors to the flight commander and his wingmates, every ef-

PROSECUTOR TO AID DRY AGENT ON TRIAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—U. S. Dist.-Atty. Sterling Carr announced today that his office would defend John H. Vail, Federal prohibition officer charged with murder in Shasta county in the shooting of James S. White, State Game Warden, in a liquor raid at Castella. Mr. Carr said that he was impelled to act because of evidence that White was shot while Vail was performing a sworn duty as a Federal officer.

Demurrers Are Denied by Judge; Delay in Setting of Trial Date Pleases Pair

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Federal Judge Carpenter today denied the demurrers of counsel for Col. Charles R. Forbes, former director of the United States Veterans' Bureau, and J. B. Thompson, senior member of the Chicago-St. Louis firm of Thompson-Black Company, against the indictment charging them with conspiracy to defraud the government. He set October 14 as the time when he will name the date of their trial.

With this announcement the faces of defendants and their attorneys became wreathed in smiles because they have contended that if the case is tried before election day there will be much prejudice against it on account of the use made of the case by the three major candidates of the political parties.

James Hamilton Lewis, counsel for Forbes, announced that he will produce numerous newspaper clippings on October 14 to show the asserted prejudice against his client, and ask that the trial date be set for a time after November 5.

Judge Carpenter said: "The arguments against the indictment by the defense are not well taken. Conspiracy to defraud the government is a broad term. The indictment states the charge so that no one could misunderstand it."

AIM JEERS AT SOLDIERS IN ISLANDS

Strikers Visit Camp With Howls and Insults; One Trooper is Beaten

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LIHOW (T. H.) Sept. 19.—A detachment of the Seventeenth Militia stationed at Makaweli to maintain order, which, it was feared would be disturbed following the recent clash between strikers and police near here, reported that their camp had been visited early this morning by howling and jeering striking Filipinos.

Sergt. Harry Richardson chased two of the strikers and catching one of them took a revolver from him.

On returning to camp, the sergeant was attacked by two Filipinos, who recovered the revolver with which they struck him in the face.

WOOD TO INVESTIGATE PLIGHT OF REFUGEES

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MANILA (P. I.) Sept. 18.—(Delayed)—Conditions among the remaining Russian refugees at Olongapo are to be investigated personally by Gov.-Gen. They have been cared for by the Red Cross many months.

LEGION CHOOSES DRAIN AS NATIONAL COMMANDER

Washington Lawyer Is Elected by Large Vote; Other Officers Also Named at Final Session

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ST. PAUL, Sept. 19.—Prominent in the world of the American Legion since its incipiency, James A. Drain of Washington, D. C., was chosen National Commander of that organization at the concluding session of its sixth annual convention here today.

Besides electing overwhelmingly the new commander, the convention chose five national vice-commanders unanimously and named Father Joseph Lonergan of Durand, Ill., a Catholic priest, national chaplain. Omaha previously had been selected for the 1925 convention.

CONVENTION SUCCESS

"One of the most successful conventions we have ever held," one of the Legion officials said, terming it "appropriate after a year of great work under National Commander John R. Quinn," who surrendered his post to the new commander just before sine die adjournment.

A man whose close study and practice of military problems brought him through special commission, a place in the American Expeditionary Force despite a physical handicap, will lead the Legion for the next year.

Loss of his right hand in a hunting accident when he was 30 years of age, has made "Jim" Drain at 54, unusually interested in the Legion's work to aid disabled soldiers, his friends said, explaining that he had devoted more than half his time the last three years to this work.

And, in a statement to newspaper men tonight, the new commander emphasized that it is the rehabilitation work that will receive much of his attention and the child welfare program of the Legion. His interest in children is natural, he says, for he has six.

For the greater part of the first six months of his administration, the new commander will give close attention to the work of the organization headquarters at Indianapolis, where he will establish his residence within ten days.

"Jim" Drain was born in Warren county Illinois, in 1870, was 16 years of age and living on a farm near Lincoln, Neb., when he decided a college education was not worth while, despite his father's insistence.

A few years later, when he was employed as private secretary to a railroad president in the State of Washington, he studied and read law twenty hours a week for two years, until he was able to pass the bar examination.

From Seattle he moved to New York in 1906 and two years later moved to Washington, D. C. But during his residence in the State of Washington, he advanced from a private in the State National Guard to a brigadier-general.

During the Spanish-American War, Gen. Drain volunteered for active service and was commissioned a captain of infantry, but did not get to the front. It was his long military experience that enabled him to "get into the big fight" despite the handicap of having only one hand.

He was an ordnance officer of the First Division and later held a similar post in the Tank Corps. For two years he was American member of the Anglo-American tank commission.

His decorations for war service include the Distinguished Service Medal, the Cross of the Legion of Honor, and the Cross of the King of Italy.

Gen. Drain was a member of the original caucus in Paris that formulated the general plan for the American Legion. He served two terms as department commander of the District of Washington, and has been a member of the national executive committee.

While Commander Drain was opposed by E. E. Spafford of New York and John R. McQuigg of Cleveland he received 715 votes on the first and only ballot and his

CALLS WHEELER A "LIAR"

Former Atty.-Gen. Daugherty Attacks La Follette Running Mate's Ohio Speeches

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

COLUMBUS (O.) Sept. 19.—United States Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, running mate of La Follette on the Independent ticket, was termed a "common liar" bq Harry M. Daugherty, former Attorney-General, in a statement given out here today, after a political address made here last night by Wheeler.

Wheeler, in his address, inveighed against the "Ohio crowd," specifically mentioning persons and incidents.

Speaking of the Senate investigation, Daugherty's statement said:

"Wheeler has come and gone and Columbus still stands. He heralded his entrance into the State by a camouflage statement about an imaginary suit to be instituted against him. Either he was taking counsel with fears inspired by a guilty conscience or, circus-like, he was advertising himself to increase the door receipts.

"So far as I know no one has any desire to mix with Wheeler, even in a lawsuit. The stench he raised in his rotten inquisition with false assertions and hired witnesses, is too malodorous to invite company. Like most of his procured witnesses, Wheeler is just a common liar.

"It would be fortunate if every voter could hear him. All then would know to what extremes the Reds and radicals will go because of their opposition to the injunction, which kept the railroads running and prevented the people of this country from starving and freezing."

CHEKIANG ARMY LEADER WILL FIGHT TO FINISH

Gen. Lu Unmoved by Mutiny of Troops; Kiangsu Forces Raze Liuho; New Revolt Seen

BY JOHN POWELL
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1924, by the Chicago Tribune.]

SHANGHAI, Sept. 19.—Despite disloyalty in the ranks which forced Gen. Lu Yung Hsiang, leader of the Chekiang troops, to leave his capital, bag and baggage, and come to Shanghai, the fight on the Shanghai front continued today with renewed fierceness. Gen Lu has announced his intention of fighting it out regardless of his previous misfortunes.

Surrounded by his loyal troops and reinforced by troops from Fukien, whose entrance into Kiangsu several weeks ago precipitated the present struggle, Gen. Lu and his associate, Gen. Ho Feng Lin, state emphatically their intention of fighting to a finish.

Their statements are borne out by the heavy fighting on the Liuho sector. Gunfire was plainly audible in the foreign settlements here today. The town of Liuho has now been completely burned, according to the reports of passengers on the Yantze passing the place this morning.

RALLY BY CHEKIANG

Late reports state that the town of Liuho was shelled all morning and had been practically reduced to shreds by the big guns of the Kiangsu navy. The Kiangsu forces are in possession of the town tonight, with the Chekiang troops withdrawing in the direction of Shanghai, fighting every foot of the way. In the vicinity of Kading, midway between Huangto and Liuho, the Kiangsu troops broke through, but the Chekiang forces rallied and assert the capture of 500 prisoners.

A report from the Huangtu sector is indefinite, owing to the bar on correspondents, but it is stated that there is little fighting there and there is even fraternizing between the rival troops.

It is generally felt, however, that the worst is over, but there is still some anxiety regarding the final disposition of the arsenal and the powder works, which are still in the possession of Gen. Lu. It is reported that there is disloyalty in the ranks of Gen. Lu's forces here and there is a fear that a rebellion may break out tonight at the arsenal, which might cause serious trouble. The arsenal is only three miles from the borders of the French settlement, wherein most of the Americans and American schools are situated.

LU DEMANDS GIFT

There was no word here today regarding the progress of the fighting between the forces of Gen. Wu Pei Fu, Chihli war lord and the power behind the Peking government, and Gen. Chang Tso Lin, the Manchu tiger. There is considerable speculation as to whether the Manchurian forces were continuing their attack in view of the impending collapse of the Chekiang army.

Reports from Hangchow, the capital of Chekiang Province, tell of intense excitement and rioting there when Gen. Lu departed. Gen. Lu demanded that the Chamber of Commerce produce $400,000 as a parting gift, otherwise looting might take place. The Chamber of Commerce finally agreed to do this and Gen. Lu brought the money to Shanghai for deposit in a foreign bank.

REFUGE OFFERED

The foreign forces are still mobilized and in complete readiness for trouble tonight in case of riots among Chekiang troops and in case these forces, routed, attempt to flee to the foreign settlements. The powers have decided to disarm all troops on the borders, but to permit them to enter for refuge.

Gen. Chi Shieh Yuan, the leader of the Kiangsu army, in an interview today announced his intention to extend full protection to all foreigners and foreign interests. He said he had no intention of interfering in any way with the foreign settlement unless the Chekiang troops attempt to use the foreign settlements as a place from which to conduct the fight against Kiangsu.

Gen. Chi suggested that the powers order Gen. Lu out of the Shanghai area so that Gen. Chi could get at him without bother-

UNITE FOR CAMPAIGN

State Issues to be Submerged

Presidential Committee to be Formed by Republicans to Merge All Factions

Requa and Teague Expected to be Named Leaders for Coolidge-Dawes Drive

BY KYLE D. PALMER
"Times" Staff Correspondent
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Organization of a Republican Presidential campaign committee to conduct the fight in California for Coolidge and Dawes will be authorized at the first meeting of the new Republican State Central Committee in the Palace Hotel here tomorrow.

Mark L. Requa of Piedmont, who was authorized by the Republican National Committee to conduct preliminary organization work in this State, will be named chairman of the Presidential committee. It is probably that Charles C. Teague, president of the California Citrus and Walnut Growers' associations, and associated with Requa in preliminary organization plans, will be named vice-chairman of the Presidential committee and placed in charge of campaign activities in Southern California.

The procedure of naming a committee to conduct the Presidential campaign not formally a part of the Republican State Central Committee is a departure from former practice and will be followed as a continuation of the policy of separating the national campaign from State issues.

NEUMILLER SLATED

Charles L. Neumiller of Stockton, manager of Hiram Johnson's California campaign in the recent Presidential primary, is slated for the chairmanship of the Republican State Central Committee. Those who oppose Neumiller and the faction he represents are expected, in their endeavor to serve party harmony at this time, to offer no opposition to his election.

Neumiller's loyalty to the Republican Presidential ticket is unquestioned by those who recently opposed him in the Republican primary and, aside from the fact that his election tomorrow is certain to intensify the factional strife within the party when State affairs are at stake, all party elements apparently are willing to work with him in behalf of the national ticket.

It is probable that, following his election, Neumiller will announce the appointment of Requa and Teague as chairman and vice-chairman of the Presidential campaign committee and say that appointment of members of the committee will be deferred until a conference on the subject is held by himself and the campaign committee heads.

The selection of Neumiller as chairman of the State Central Committee will result in the election of a Southern California Republican as committee vice-chairman. It is probable that this post will go to Alfred L. Bartlett of Los Angeles.

THOROUGH CANVASS

Preparations have been completed by Requa for a thorough canvass of the State on all phases of the Presidential contest, and the Coolidge-Dawes headquarters here will issue within two or three days a summary of the situation which, in its discussion of La Follette's candidacy and Senatorial record, is expected to assume a predominant part in the campaign.

Opinions differ as to the relative strength of Coolidge, La Follette and Davis in San Francisco, but as to the State at large all reports agree that the La Follette

RICH WOMAN MURDERED

Man She Helped is Hunted

Locks Second Dinner Guest, Cousin of Mrs. C. H. Hunn, in Bathroom and Flees

Victim's Head Crushed by Hammer, Shot; Daughter Accuses ex-Convict

With her head crushed by hammer blows and a bullet wound in her heart, Mrs. C. H. Hunn, 55 years of age, wife of a wealthy business man of Chicago, was found murdered last night at her home at 90 West Madison avenue, Pasadena. The body was found by her cousin, F. R. Gibson of 505 Walnut street, Pasadena, who was one of two dinner guests at the Hunn home.

The other dinner guest, Harry Garbutt, alias Harry Connor, who, according to officers, has served time in Joliet prison and who through the influence of Mrs. Hunn was granted parole, was seen fleeing down Madison avenue by Gibson. Garbutt is being hunted by the police.

VALUABLE GEMS MISSING

Gibson said Mrs. Hunn owned diamonds valued at $20,000. A search of the house failed to reveal the gems and Detective Lieutenants Lee Culver and Robert O'Rourke of the Pasadena police, who conducted the investigation, said they believed the gems had been taken by Garbutt. A ring valued at $5000 was found on one of Mrs. Hunn's fingers.

Gibson told the Pasadena police he was invited to dine last night with Mrs. Hunn and her 8-year-old adopted daughter, Virginia Hunn. Shortly after his arrival, he said, Garbutt arrived. The four finished dinner and Gibson arose from the table and went into the bathroom. Just as he stepped into the room the door was locked behind him and he heard a groan. Gibson made his exit from the bathroom through another door and started around the house. Before arriving at the front door he heard a shot fired. When he reached the front door he found the body of Mrs. Hunn.

HAMMER IS WEAPON

Gibson said he then summoned F. W. Lathan, owner of the bungalow court in which Mrs. Hunn lived, who in turn summoned the police.

Virginia, the adopted daughter of Mrs. Hunn, told the officers that Garbutt hit her mother several blows with a hammer and then shot her. The child was taken to the Lathan home after the tragedy.

Garbutt was traced in his flight to the Pasadena Ice Company, where he called a cab of the Tanner Taxicab Service. He rode to a Los Angeles hotel. Upon arriving at the hotel he jumped from the cab and fled through the lobby without paying the driver, who was unable to find his late passenger.

BURGLAR TOOLS FOUND

A combination hammer and burglar's jimmy, smeared with blood, was found in the dining-room and the walls were spattered with blood. Power burns were found on the blue-and-white jacket worn by Mrs. Hunn, showing that the shot which killed her was fired at close range.

Mrs. Hunn, according to the police, secured the release of Garbutt from prison on a charge of robbery, gave him clothing and money and aided him in every way to get a new start in life. At the time of the murder Garbutt was wearing a light checked suit, light cap and tan shoes. He is described as being about 5 feet 6 or 7 inches in height, age about 45 years, weight 125 or 130 pounds, smooth-shaven and with pointed features.

ARMS PARLEY NEXT JUNE

Leaders of Geneva League Assembly Decide to Call Conference of All Nations on New Program

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, Sept. 19.—After three weeks of tense labor, success looms hopefully over Geneva tonight as crowning the efforts of the representatives of the fifty nations who are striving to put an end to war through arbitration, security and a reduction in armaments.

A protocol on arbitration and security has virtually been agreed upon, and so confident do the leading statesmen feel it will be ratified that the so-called "big twelve" of the present Assembly of the League of Nations decided today to recommend the convocation of a great international conference on reduction of armaments in Geneva on June 15, 1925.

The United States and all other countries not now members of the League of Nations will be invited to participate in the conference. As soon as the League's Assembly ratifies the protocol, the League experts will buckle down to the work of preparing the program for the conference, which must be forwarded to all governments at least two months before the time set for the opening sessions.

The text of the protocol will be whipped into shape and probably be presented to the Assembly next Wednesday, allowing for two days' discussion before the full disarmament commission. The present plans are that fifteen states must ratify the protocol before the arms conference can actually be convened. Several of these states, probably three or four of them, must have representatives in the Council of the League of Nations, but the question regarding the number necessary for ratification has not yet been definitely determined upon.

The "big twelve," the name given to the group of leaders handling the disarmament discussion, are proceeding on the theory that the necessary ratification will be obtained. Hence their determination to strike out boldly and fix a definite date for an arms conference, which, of course, will be postponed if the number of ratifications is insufficient.

THIRD TWINS ARRIVE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Sept. 19.—For the third time in less than five years twin babies have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Helmuth (Chief) Geffert of Yorktown, Tex. The first twins, both girls, arrived on October 19, 1919, and the second set of twins, boys, on January 20, 1922. The last pair of twins are girls. Without exception the children are in excellent health.

DENVER AND RIO TO GO ON BLOCK

Road to be Joint Property of Two Carriers

Missouri and Western Aim at Settlement

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DENVER, Sept. 19.—The Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad will be sold at public auction within seventy days under a decree of foreclosure signed today by Judge J. Foster Symes of the United States District Court. The upset price was fixed at $17,935,700.

When Cass E. Harrington of Denver, who was named master of the sale, completes his work, it will be the second time the railroad property has been sold on the block to the highest bidder. On November 20, 1920, the road—then known as the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad—was sold to satisfy a judgment against it held by the Western Pacific, and was reorganized by interests affiliated with the Western Pacific under the name of the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad. Under this reorganization, $87,775,670 in preferred and common stock was wiped out.

Of the upset price, as decreed today by Judge Symes, $6,500,000 will have to be paid in cash to take up the outstanding receivers' stock to pay for the operation of the road since it has been in the hands of a Federal receiver. Under a reorganization plan recently approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, it is expected the road will become the joint property of the Missouri Pacific and the Western Pacific railroads.

APPRAISAL AND SALE REORGANIZATION MOVE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—The appraisal and sale of the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad by the United States District Court in Denver is merely part of a reorganization and refinancing plan whereby the system will be obtained jointly by the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company and the Western Pacific Railroad Corporation of New York, it was announced here today by Charles M. Levey, president of the Western Pacific Railroad Company. The appraisal and auction are designed to relieve the midcontinent line of its present receivership and to settle differences between the Missouri Pacific, a large stockholder in the system, and the Western Pacific Corporation arising out of a former reorganization of the Denver and Rio Grande system. The Missouri Pacific had contended that its stockholders were not properly represented in the former financing, and forced the negotiations that led to the court appraisal and declaration of today's upset.

GEN. WU TAKES FIRM HOLD ON PEKING

BY JOHN CLARK

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1924, by the Chicago Tribune]

PEKING, Sept. 19.—Gen. Wu Pei-Fu today formally established temporary headquarters here as commander-in-chief of the northern armies. He indicates that he intends to exercise strong control by promptly issuing a general order to the police and other authorities relative to the preservation of order. He also issued instructions to the metropolitan area Mayor saying that food supplies to Peking must be kept up.

He points out that the recent floods brought a shortage of crops, and, therefore, it is particularly important to obtain grain from outside points. The movement of troops during war time is important, but nothing should be allowed to interefere with the transportation of grain. The railway administration is to be instructed in this sense. Shops also must keep grain prices down.

The collapse of the Chekiang armies has not affected Wu Pei-Fu's determination to make a vigorous attack upon the Manchurian tiger. Mobilization and dispatch of troops northward from Peking was strenuously rushed all day Friday. Wang Huai Ching, commander of the second Chihli army, left for the front today. The head of the government aviation service left today for Shanghai, taking all available airplanes and aviators. Wu Pei-Fu is bringing the rest of the crack Third Division to Peking. Over half of Feng Hu Hsiang's men already are marching northward.

Twister Visits Arkansas Town, Wrecks Church

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

HOT SPRINGS (Ark.) Sept. 19. A tornado dipped to earth here late today demolishing the St. Luke's Episcopal Church and unroofing a portion of the Eastman Hotel. No fatalities were reported early tonight.

The twister swept in from the Hot Springs National Park, dipped into the city and then passed over Hot Springs Mountain, northeast of the city. In addition to wrecking the church and damaging the Eastman Hotel, the wind destroyed the cottage home of Mrs. G. A. Bates, damaged the Glenwood Hotel and scattered automobiles about the streets.

Numerous buildings were slightly damaged.

REVEAL PERSHING GOOD-BY

Officials of War Department Make Public Last General Order Addressed to "My Comrades"

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Gen. Pershing's formal farewell to the Army, written in the form of the last general order he signed on his birthday on the 13th inst., which will be read to every Army organization by the officer commanding at the first parade formation after it is received, was made public today at the War Department.

It is addressed "To My Comrades" and bears the simple signature: "John J. Pershing," without other indication of his rank than the heading at the top "General of the Armies."

"No words seem adequate to express to you the conflicting emotions that I feel upon reaching the date which officially marks the termination of my active service," Gen. Pershing wrote. "Our experiences together have been varied. We have withstood the same hardships and shared the same pleasures. We have faced discouragements and rejoiced over victories.

"Today, the recollections that swiftly pass in review fill my heart with a deep sense of gratitude for the loyal service and warm appreciation of the sincere devotion to the country of the patriotic officers and men with whom it has been my good fortune to be associated during the fleeting years of my army life.

"It is my proud privilege, in parting, to say of the men of all ranks who have borne arms under the flag that none has more earnestly wished peace, yet in defense of right none has ever been imbued with loftier purpose nor more completely consecrated to the maintenance of our ideals.

"My esteem for them and my admiration for their achievements continue to increase with the passing of time. The inspiration of their exalted conception of citizenship and their fulfillment of its obligations should ever assure the preservation of our institutions. The glorious example to their fidelity and courage will be remembered by those who come after us.

"It is with an abiding confidence in our national forces and with the assurance of my lasting interest in the welfare that I bid you all an affectionate farewell."

SHASTA MUD FLOW ENDS

Freezing Weather Averts Menace to McCloud; Glacial Torrent Due to Warm Fall

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—Freezing temperature at the base of Mt. Shasta early today checked the stupendous flow of ashes, mud and lava formation which poured down the sides of the mountain before a torrent of flood water, imperiling the lumber town of McCloud, five miles distant.

The walls of Mud Creek Canyon which held the onrush after the weight of the rolling formation caved in fifteen acres on the side of the peak, became more rigid early this morning with the dropping of the thermometer.

Soon after the rampage of the volcanic formation gained impetus, engineers of the United States geological station went to the scene of the disturbance and pronounced a flood imminent unless the flow was abated.

FLOOD IS AVERTED

Preparations were being made last night to reinforce the temporary reservoir walls which hold the McCloud water supply, when the sudden change in weather conditions froze the soft rolling elements, coating the surface with a thin, rigid layer of ice.

V. V. Vostmeyer, Forest Service official of the geological station here, said tonight the sudden change in the temperature is all that held back the rolling torrent from the low lying valley. He said if the Mud Creek Canyon walls had opened, there would have been no way to have halted the progress of the flow.

Vostmeyer declared that the warm weather for the year has ended and from now on the weather will become colder, climaxing in heavy snowstorms along the slopes of the mountain.

NO GLACIAL SLIP

New ice fields above the glacial formations, which were not known to exist on the mountain, are declared to be the cause for the avalanche, Vostmeyer said. These fields are at about the 10,000 and 11,000-foot levels and have been protected from the rays of the sun by snows which in some sections were from ten to forty feet in depth.

J. R. Hall, supervisor of the Shasta National Forest, scouts the report that a glacier has slipped from the northern slope of Mt. Shasta and is sliding downhill at the rate of five miles an hour. Glaciers travel only a foot or two a year, he explained. Even the glacier that has given Mud Creek Canyon such a deluge did not slip from its moorings.

The glacier is still "at home," but the heat of the summer and fall has transformed it into a steaming water pot with the aid of the volcanic ashes which caved away.

DECLARE UNIT FOR CAMPAIGN

movement reached a maximum impetus two or three weeks ago and is now either at a standstill or retrograding.

In San Francisco, where the political organization of Sheriff Finn made a clean sweep in the recent primary, the outlook for Coolidge is more encouraging than at any time since the La Follette organization opened its campaign in this State. Finn, Al McCabe and other organization leaders are working for the Republican ticket and Finn himself, who rarely misses a guess as to the outcome of political contests here, asserts that the results in November will attest the loyalty of the Bay City Republicans.

SUBMERGE FEELINGS

There is no question that the somewhat high-handed methods of the Johnson element in seizing control of the machinery of the Republican convention at Sacramento and in dominating the party's State committee have invited resentment from other elements in the party, particularly from Gov. Richardson and various legislative nominees, but whatever reprisals are contemplated will be deferred until a more opportune hour.

The Governor and all of his administration heads have enlisted in the Republican campaign and their services are being utilized by the Coolidge leaders. A more paradoxical situation probably could not exist, but the actual experience and conduct of the Presidential campaign have already demonstrated that the rupture in Republican ranks in 1912 and again in 1916 will not be repeated in 1924.

It was upon such an anticipated split in the Republican party in California that the hope of the La Follette movement in this State was based. With the passing of this hope it is believed that all uncertainty as to the outcome will have disappeared before the election.

And it is a fact at this time that La Follette has not only been unable to create a division among Republicans, but has brought to the support of Coolidge and Dawes, in California at least, many thousands of Democrats who appear to realize the futility of the effort being made by the nominees of their own party.

STATE DECLARED UNITED FOR COOLIDGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—"Reports of factional differences among the Republicans of California were certainly dispelled by the complete harmony of the Republican State convention on Tuesday," Chester W. Rowell, former newspaper publisher of California, who is in Washington, stated today. "It appears that if any slight factional differences were ruffling Republican waters they subsided at the State convention Tuesday and complete accord resulted."

It was reported here today that there is complete co-operation in the Republican organization in California with a 100 per cent desire among real workers in the Republican ranks to elect Coolidge in that State.

Prominent California business men visiting Washington headquarters today also discounted rumors spread by the Socialist third party that trouble was brewing among California Republicans and that there was a split in the ranks. Leo V. Belden, A. J. Mount and A. P. Giannini, all of San Francisco, asserted that California would vote for Coolidge and that all other claims were absurd. They reported that Republicans throughout the State were merging all activities to center on Coolidge as men and women throughout the State are impressed by his character and principles.

DAVIS SAYS HE'LL FIGHT TO THE END

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

GARY (Ind.) Sept. 19.—A declaration of intent to do battle "in every State in the Union," a renewed assault on "privilege in government" and a vigorous appeal for devotion to those "fundamental principles of human equality, personal liberty and popular sovereignty" were predominant in the opening address here tonight by John W. Davis, in his campaign in Indiana.

Mr. Davis declared that he did not concede anything to the adversaries of the Democratic party.

"I want the word to go out," he said, "that there are no lost Democratic battalions cut off from headquarters. It is not in mortals to command success, but in forty-eight States of the American union we propose to do better—we propose to deserve it."

Appealing for devotion to the principles of equality, liberty and sovereignty, Mr. Davis said he had come to his audience tonight as a Democrat because he believed that the Democratic party has followed these principles with more devotion and consistency than any other organization.

Declaring that the doctrine of privilege from government was a "dangerous thing," Mr. Davis said there had been introduced into public service through this doctrine, "a virus of corruption that constitutes a menace to government."

As illustrations of the effect of the theory in actual practice, Mr. Davis referred again to the oil and Veterans' Bureau scandals. He said Albert B. Fall did not think it was wrong to "take Doheny's money" because he had been "brought up in that school." The same was true, he added, of Charles R. Forbes.

In reiterating his definition of true Americans as those who believe in the doctrines of equal rights, personal liberty and popular government, Mr. Davis made another thrust at the La Follette doctrine of a veto over the Supreme Court of the United States by Congress and Legislatures in legislative acts. He declared that Americans never would surrender those rights.

CHILDREN GET LIQUOR FINE OF MOTHER CUT

Her four children got Mrs. S. M. Budincich, 32 years of age, of 652 North Broadway, a reduction in fine from $1000 to $250 yesterday in Police Judge Sheldon's court. She pleaded guilty to possession of fifteen gallons of whisky which Sergt. Childers and a squad found hidden beneath her kitchen floor. Police Judge Sheldon said he would suspend $750 of the fine if Mrs. Budincich would quit bootlegging for two years, and she agreed. She was fined $125 for a similar offense last December.

PARLEY HEARS POPE'S LETTER

Thousands Attend Holy Name Meeting Ceremonies

Cardinal O'Connell, Papal Legatee, Speaks

Unknown Soldier's Grave is Visited by Delegates

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Thousands of Holy Name Society delegates and visitors here for their annual convention took part in imposing celebrations today expressing the spiritual and patriotic objects of the confraternity.

The reading of the Pope's letter to the convention and an address by Cardinal O'Connell, extraordinary papal delegate, in the morning, were followed in the afternoon by a pilgrimage to Arlington, where a ceremony took place at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Archbishop Michael J. Curley of Baltimore, as official host of the convention, officially welcomed the papal legatee to the convention. A picturesque ecclesiastical procession accompanied Cardinal O'Connell from his residence across the Catholic University campus to the stadium where an altar and throne, covered with a canopy, had been erected. Here high pontifical mass was celebrated by Archbishop Curley in the presence of thousands who crowded the stadium steps.

Immediately afterward the convention assembled in the meeting hall where the papal letter was read, first in its Latin text and then in English.

The Pope expressed high admiration and pleasure for the activities of the Holy Name societies in America, described many benefits that had already accrued to the United States through a proper worship of the Christian faith.

The apostolic benediction then was bestowed on all members of the confraternity and on all the American people.

A letter from Cardinal Boggiana, protector of all Holy Name societies also was read, after which Cardinal O'Connell delivered his speech.

fort will be made to have the aviators prolong their stay until Tuesday noon, at least. Telegrams were forwarded to Lieut. Smith this afternoon, urging an extension of time, in order to accommodate thousands of school children whose participation in the welcome is planned.

In the event Rockwell Field authorities are successful, a program will be carried out in the Stadium which, because of its total capacity of nearly 50,000, would be the most suitable place for a great assembly.

Invitation was sent today to Mr. and Mrs. Jasper G. Smith, parents of Lieut. Smith, who reside in Los Angeles, asking them to be the guests of San Diego during the stay of their son and his companions.

The fund being raised here by popular subscription for the purpose of purchasing gifts for the six aviators, was increased to nearly $3000 today.

ENGLISH BIRDMEN HOME AFTER FAILURE

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Maj. MacLaren, Lieut. Plenderleith and Sergt. Andrews, British airmen whose world flight failed, arrived in England today, landing at Liverpool from the Canopic liner Montcalm.

Maj. MacLaren said the failure of the flight was due to nothing but fog. "If we could have avoided the Behring Sea there would have been no trouble about the last 10,000 miles of our world flight," he declared.

Soon after leaving Tokio the British birdmen met heavy fog which forced them to fly only five feet above water with a visibility of less than fifty feet. They nearly crashed into a small island and were forced to descend into a rough sea, which broke their plane.

ARIZONA GOVERNOR WILL WELCOME FLYERS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MANILA (P. I.) Sept. 19.—The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada was held at Hongkong until 3000 cases of liquor consigned to wholesale dealers in the Philippines could be unloaded, officers of the ship reported on her arrival here today.

The American Consul, the officers related, refused to issue a health certificate or permit the vessel to clear while the liquor was aboard. The Consul ruled that the Philippine Islands are American territory and subject to provisions of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Maj. Smith of the United States Public Health Service announced that he would protest the action. British importers here said they understand other liquor shipments to Manila from British ports had been held up on similar rulings.

SALT CREEK CRUDE CUT BELOW DOLLAR

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CASPER (Wyo.) Sept. 19.—Salt Creek crude, which makes up the major part of Wyoming oil production, fell below the dollar mark in price today when the Midwest Refining Company announced a reduction of 25 cents a barrel in this and other grades. The new prices include: Salt Creek, 85 cents; Osage, $1.15; Cat Creek (Montant,) $1.20.

oil combine," and that Mr. Coolidge by that action had assisted the people of South Dakota in getting cheaper gasoline "for otherwise you would be paying 30 cents a gallon for your gasoline."

NORBECK PRESIDES

Senator Norbeck, who like Gov. McMaster supported Senator Johnson of California in the Presidential primary, presided at the meeting and also declared his support of President Coolidge.

Dawes, in discussing the agricultural problem, declared it to be of such a serious nature "that by common consent there is a turning away from political quack doctors." The only practicable solution, he asserted, could come through the appointment of a nonpartisan, nonpolitical commission such as proposed by President Coolidge.

Approximately half of Mr. Dawes's address was a recapitulation of his Lincoln speech, also devoted to the farm question, and in which he told his audience in the Coliseum here tonight he sought to discuss the agricultural problem "as an economic problem, as the farmers themselves are discussing it, and as I think it should be discussed—on the basis of the facts and the proper conclusions to be drawn from them, and not from the standpoint of politics."

HITS DAVIS

"I note that Mr. Davis in his Omaha speech, discusses the question chiefly as a political problem," Mr. Dawes continued. "He says: 'If we eliminate from political debate every question that is either national in its scope or economic in its character, we will reach that millennium when government through political parties will cease to exist.' He therefore maintains, in general, that the Democratic party will solve the agricultural problem.

"Now, no one can make a proper statement of the facts involved in the proper solution of the agricultural problem without referring to some of the involved and conflicting economic interests of our people. The course of the politician, in discussing the solution, is primarily from the standpoint of getting votes. The proper course is that discussion which may result in a constructive solution without side-stepping embarassing facts in certain localities to gain votes.

"Mr. Davis, for political purposes, has seized upon a reference which I made in my Lincoln speech, to the tendency of reclamation and irrigation projects to increase the supply of agricultural products, which under the law of supply and demand, tends to increase the selling price of farm products, and which must be studied in any honest economic consideration of the problem. Evidently he does not regard political commitment, before a full and careful consideration of all the elements involved in the problem, as injurious to the chances for progress toward the proper and economic solution of agricultural difficulties. If so, I agree with him.

INTERESTS CONFLICT

"The nonpartisan, economic and practical agricultural commission, which the President is about to appoint in an endeavor to find a solution of a complex and difficult question, will face numerous situations of this kind in which there are conflicting interests. The farmers desire high prices for beef on the hoof; the consumers desire low prices for what they buy, while the farmer justly demands higher prices for what he sells.

"In its endeavor to reach a proper solution of this national problem, the commission cannot start in as the politicians do with pledges to conflicting interests, designed to satisfy both sides in advance. This would mean certain failure.

"My objection to putting the agricultural problem in politics is that it involves wholesale preliminary commitments from candidates after votes in certain localities, which tends to preclude, afterward, impartial consideration of constructive remedies for the agricultural industry as a whole.

"In my speech at Lincoln, I endeavored to look at the whole agricultural question in the same way as our expert committee at first viewed the complex and desperate situation of European industry, which was due to the inability of politicians in the Allied countries and Germany in the past to adjust conflicting demands. They had kept Europe in industrial chaos for five years as the politicians are now keeping the agricultural problem in chaos here.

FURNISH COMPETITION

"In my statement relative to irrigation and reclamation that 'we have undoubtedly put under cultivation millions of acres of land which should have been conserved as a source of food supply for future generations and in this connection that every reclamation project, whether by irrigation or drainage, furnishes added competition for existing cultivated farmers, orchards, and vineyards, at a time when we already are seriously embarrassed by overproduction in many lines,' I simply stated one of the many facts which must be discussed and considered by any nonpartisan commission honestly endeavoring to find a solution of this national problem.

"All good Americans are interested in the progress of irrigation, but I think they understand that the opening of new irrigated districts at a time of great surplus in farm products only puts an additional burden upon present irrigation producers and the farming industry as a whole. I assumed in my Lincoln speech, and I maintain now, that there should be an honest consideration by the commission of all the facts involved in reclamation and irrigation projects, in their proper relation to the whole situation.

"The appointment of a commission to consider the agricultural problem upon an economic, nonpartisan, and common-sense basis, and to present a specific plan upon which discussion can be focused, is a step as much in the interests of the farmer upon irrigated land as upon any other. The problem can not be settled piece-meal by politicians, and the people know it.

the necessity, in seeking a proper and economic solution of the national problem of agriculture, of consideration of the many factors tending to increase supply, including new irrigation projects would be amusing if it were not significant of this great danger which the agricultural problem faces, to-wit: its attempted legislative settlement by politicians, who refuse to face the facts and want to please everybody.

EQUAL RIGHTS

"Stand up any one of these gentlemen, a man to man, in a room by himself, and ask him, upon his honor, whether there can be a proper and economic consideration of the national question of relief for agriculture without considering the relation to it of new irrigation and reclamation projects, and all other facts bearing on increase of supply and his answer must be in the negative. He should defend the irrigation and reclamation program upon proper grounds: that irrigation has as much right to a future as other forms of agriculture; that it only demands with others forms of agriculture fair treatment in any general national policy of legislation framed for the relief of agriculture as a whole; that it will be glad to consider together with all other forms of agriculture, any plan for relief which is developed by men on the square, having no thought of political expediency and only concerned with finding constructive relief consistent with economic law.

"In answer to a certain amount of unsolicited advice from western political office holders in my own party, to dodge relevant facts in an economic discussion of agricultural relief whenever it may tend to lose votes, I will give them a little advice: if they, as public servants, desire to really protect the interests of irrigation and reclamation, they should present its just claims in a proper and nonpolitical way, from the basis of facts, and as a part of the great problem which must be solved for agricultural relief, if all producers of farm products, including those on irrigated lands, are to receive essential relief."

INTERDEPENDENT

Mr. Dawes at this point in his speech reiterated some of the statements made in his Lincoln address, declaring there was a great disparity in the earnings of the agricultural and industrial populations of the country, that agricultural distress was general, that the agricultural and industrial elements of the country are interdependent, that the recent advance in agricultural prices was only a natural result of the law of supply and demand, that the cause of farm troubles were fundamental, that there was overproduction in many lines of agricultural products, and that the theory of co-operative marketing and distribution is unquestionably sound, but in the operation of the principle involved many serious difficulties have been encountered.

In view of this situation the contemplated commission to study the problem much as the experts' committee studied the reparation problem, Mr. Dawes said, represents the best hope of real progress.

"The idea of an economic, nonpartisan, and impartial commission, to suggest a plan for legislative or other relief is to have the subject impartially and competently considered from all standpoints," he added. "There is at present no consensus of either economic, agricultural or political opinion behind any specific remedy. It has not been possible to secure for any proposed plan of relief the indorsement of all of the leading agricultural organizations, although not following the advice of the politicians they are considering the question from a strictly nonpartisan and economic basis.

PALS SOB AT "JIMMY'S" BIER

Hundreds Pay Silent Tribute to Beloved Race Driver at Station; Funeral Services Announced

BY PAUL LOWRY

All that is mortal of Jimmy Murphy, the racing world's greatest star, came home to his friends in Los Angeles yesterday. Gathered at the Santa Fe station when the long train bearing Murphy's body from the East rolled in were hundreds who stood with heads bared and sobbed as six former racing companions carried the copper casket from the train to the waiting hearse.

Emblematic of the checkered flag which Murphy had seen flashed in his face so often when he rode to victory, a floral piece with black squares rampant on a field of white was tenderly placed on the casket before the doors of the hearse were closed.

LAST CHECKERED FLAG

Jimmy Murphy had received his last checkered flag! Strong men and courageous women broke down and wept. Steel-nerved race drivers, hardened by constant brushes with death, were unable to control themselves.

There they were—Harlan Fengler, Bennett Hill, Harry Hartz, Bob McDonough, Fred Comer, Red Cariens, Art Klein, Riley Brett, Antoinne Mourre and others—all boys whom Jimmy had raced with, rivals on the race stage and pals in playtime, crying as if their hearts would break. There were others gathered about those closing hearse doors who were very dear to the dead boy—Judge Martin O'Donnell, his uncle, who reared him when his parents died; Fred Wagner, the starter; Harry Miller, who built Jimmy's race car and loved the boy like an only son; "Babe" Doyle, his cousin, who worked in Jimmy's pit in many a race; A. M. Young, head of the Los Angeles Speedway Association; H. A. Patterson, head of the Fresno Speedway Association; Val Haresnape, A.A.A. contest board representative here.

For fully five minutes after the hearse doors had closed and it had started to move away a group of these men stood stock still, so moved by emotion that they were neither able to say a word or stir from the spot. It was the most impressive silent tribute I have ever seen paid to one of the sport world's shattered figures.

FRIENDS WERE LEGION

The train was met at San Bernardino by Harry Miller and Judge O'Donnell, who accompanied the body to the city. The escort of honor which came across the country with the dead race star was composed of Bennett Hill, Harry Hertz, Bob McDonough, Red Carriens, Riley Brett, Fred Comer and Starter Fred Wagner. These acted as pallbearers in carrying the casket to the hearse, in addition to dozens of other willing hands who pressed around the baggage-car door as the train came to a halt.

In contrast to the dozens of times Jimmy Murphy has been welcomed home as a returning hero was yesterday's last sad homecoming—a bareheaded, moist-eyed tribute to the great star whom thousands called "pal." Jimmy Murphy's friends were legion. His enemies were none.

The body will be at the funeral parlors of the Cunningham & O'Connor today and will be taken to the Knights of Columbus Hall, where it will lie in state tomorrow from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until 11 o'clock at night. Members of the Knights of Columbus (fourth degree) and the Elks will form the guard of honor as it lies in state.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

At 8 o'clock Sunday evening, in the auditorium of the Knights of Columbus clubhouse at 614 South Flower street, the funeral ritual of the Elks will be exemplified by the officers of the Los Angeles Lodge, No. 99, headed by Exalted Ruler George M. Breslin. Following these exercises a eulogy will be delivered on behalf of the Knights of Columbus by Past State Deputy Joseph Scott. The prayers for the dead will be recited by Rev. Thomas Blackwell, Chaplain of Los Angeles Council, Knights of Columbus.

While the exercises on Sunday evening will be open to the public it is especially requested that members of the Elks and of the Knights of Columbus be in attendance. The arrangements are in charge of James H. Mahoney, Grand Knight of Los Angeles Council, No. 621, Knights of Columbus. The funeral services will be conducted Monday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Vincent's Church, Washington and Grand avenue. Solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated. The officers of the mass will be Rev. W. P. Rootes, C.M., celebrant; Rev. Martin G. Hanley, C.M., deacon, and Rev. S. J. Depta, C.M., subdeacon. The funeral sermon will be preached by Father Hanley, rector of St. Vincent's Church. Rt. Rev. Mgr. John M. McCarthy, administrator of the diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego, in the absence of Bishop Cantrell, will preside in the sanctuary and will give the final absolution.

Interment will take place in Calvary Cemetery. A detail of motorcycle officers and the band of Hollywood Post of the American Legion will escort the funeral procession.

Mexican War Secretary to Quit His Post

BY FREDERICK NEUMEIER

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1924, by the Chicago Tribune]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 19.—Gen. Francisco Serrano will resign as Secretary of War, he announced today. He will leave soon after his resignation on a trip to Spain, France and England.

It is probable that Gen. Eugenio Martinez, now commanding troops in a Federal district, will be made Secretary of War by President Obregon.

Shipping Board Officials Will Inspect Coast

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Commissioners Meyer Lissner and Bert E. Haney of the Shipping Board will leave tomorrow for a tour of inspection of Pacific Coast ports, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle.

AMERICAN MISSION ON WAY HOME

Obregon Tells Delegation Mexico Welcomes Capital With Conscience

BY JACK STARR-HUNT

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 19.—The American Industrial Mission departed for home today after a four-days' round of entertainments, during the Independence holidays. While visiting the military workshops, President Obregon addressed the Americans, stating that Mexico knew how to appreciate and welcome such men as contributed toward the welfare of Mexico. Capital and labor must co-operate collectively toward the betterment of society, he said.

"To you industrialists," he said, "I say that we desire foreign capital which will have a heart and conscience. We do not want capital of great trusts or of those exploiting syndicates who ignore workers' necessities. We make an appeal to such capital as is governed by modern morality and not on the basis of a larger or smaller dividend or which coldly calculates in figures.

"Return home and tell the American people that if they extend to us their hand they will find ours ready to grasp it."

SAN ANTONIO CONCERN LETS PIPING CONTRACT

DIRECT LINE TO LULING OIL FIELD EXPECTED TO YIELD PROFIT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LULING (Tex.) Sept. 19.—Contract has been awarded by the Grayburg Oil Company of San Antonio for laying a four-inch pipe line from the Luling field to its refinery at San Antonio. The construction cost, including three pumping stations, will be approximately $250,000, it is stated. The company has 40,000 barrels of oil in storage at its tank farm near here.

The company is engaged in wildcatting as well as drilling proven acreage in the Guadalupe field. With crude prices holding firm the concern can build the line profitably and make it a paying proposition from the start, officials say. This will also give the company its own line into the two principal fields.

The Magnolia Petroleum Company has just completed an eight-inch welded line from Luling to Hull Junction, a distance of 183 miles. This line cost $2,000,000 and has a capacity of 18,000 barrels daily. Only 11,000 barrels daily are being pumped through this line, as two pumping stations are still incomplete. This line connects with the Magnolia Petroleum Company's Mid-Continent line at Hull. The four pumping stations are forty-five miles apart, located at Luling, Schulenburg, Sealy and Adline.

CHICO MAN HELD IN AUTO DEATH IN EAST

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) Sept. 19.—Joseph Jackson of Chico, Cal., is being held here while the County Attorney's office is investigating the automobile accident in which an occupant of the car Jackson was driving was fatally injured. Jackson was arrested Wednesday by police who allege he was under the influence of liquor when he sped around a corner at an excessive rate of speed, which forced the machine to turn completely over. Oscar Olson, who was riding with Jackson, was taken to the General Hospital, where he died shortly afterward. The Chico man gave his address as 611 Chestnut street.

PRISON CANNERY SAVES FOR OHIO

State Uses Fifty Prisoners to Operate Plant

Institution Inmates Are Fed Much More Cheaply

Cost of Equipment is Small Item, Reports Show

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON (O.) Sept. 19.—The State-operated canning factory at the London prison farm, near here, is proving not only a huge success but also one of the best investments ever made by the State, according to officials of the farm and of the State department in charge of the work.

The canning factory employs about fifty prisoners from the State penitentiary at Columbus and the products canned this year will save the State several thousands of dollars, it is said, in the canning of sweet corn and tomatoes grown on the prison farm.

CAN MANY TOMATOES

Several thousand cans of tomatoes have been put up in the factory in the last ten days and more are to be canned in the coming weeks, farm officials declare.

Several thousand gallons of tomato juice also will be put up at the plant, this material to be used in the making of tomato soup for the prisoners during the winter. It is said that one gallon of the juice will make about five gallons of excellent soup, which will provide nearly 100,000 gallons of soup in storage for winter food for the State's wards.

Estimates of the tomato crop at the farm place the total production around 15,000 gallons for this year. The crop was practically doubled by the recent heavy rains here, which also saved other farm crops and aided in the harvest of the sweet corn.

It is expected that nearly 35,000 gallons of sweet corn will be canned at the prison farm plant this season. This will add considerably to the storage supplies of winter food.

SAVES STATE $10,000

It is estimated by farm and State officials that the State, by the use of the prison farm canning plant and products, will save about $10,000 this year alone.

The plant has been fully equipped at a cost of about $3600 to the State and is provided with all modern machinery for canning purposes except outfits to pare and cut the tomatoes and husk the corn.

This work is done by hand by the prisoners.

NEW OIL REFINERY TO OPERATE IN OCTOBER

TEXAS CITY PLANT WILL USE NOVEL PROCESS TO GAIN LARGE OUTPUT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TEXAS CITY (Tex.) Sept. 19.—The first unit of the oil refinery of the Knox Process Corporation will be finished and placed in operation early in October, it is authoritatively stated. This unit will cost $500,000, and to it will be added five other units of the same size, the total cost of the completed plant to be $3,000,000, which is the amount of capitalization of the company.

The refinery will extract gasoline from a low-grade of crude oil under a new process, and when finished it will have a total capacity of 125,000 barrels of gasoline a day. Its only by-product will be a gas oil for use in manufacturing illuminating gas. The company owns 160 acres of land adjacent to Texas City, which is being used as a site for its plant.

The new process is said to recover a considerably higher percentage of gasoline from lower grades of oil than any other yet developed. It is an electric process and one of the basic units consists of a gigantic "stove" fifty-two feet high, nine feet, nine inches in diameter, constructed of steel one and three-quarters inches thick. This stove, which already has been put in place, weighs 700,000 pounds and was shipped to Texas City by rail in one piece. Its erection was a feat of engineering.

WIFE'S FAINT HALTS HORSEWHIPPING TRIAL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

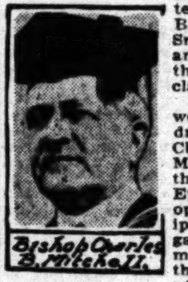
NEW YORK, Sept. 19. — The proceedings against Vera Milne Hall of 114 West Eighty-first street, whom Edward Hurley, an employee of the Pathe Motion-Picture Exchange, had arrested for using a horsewhip on him in his office, were adjourned until Sunday in West Side Police Court when Hurley's wife, Marion Haslup Hurley, fainted on the stand. The latter who, like Miss Hall, is a motion-picture actress, has instituted divorce proceedings and is living with Miss Hall. The divorce action seems to be at the bottom of the trouble, Miss Hall declaring that she took the whip to Hurley when he refused to withdraw charges concerning her which he had made in his answer to his wife's suit. Miss Hall helped carry the fainting woman from the room and as she passed Hurley, snarled at him "You dirty brute."

WEST POINTERS SENT TO POST AT BAY CITY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Seven recent graduates from West Point have been added to the coast defenses of San Francisco. They are Second Lieutenants D. F. Finnegan and C. S. Raymond, who are assigned to the Sixth Coast Artillery, and Second Lieutenants C. E. Moore, G. Schmidt, W. L. Richardson, E. A. Merkle and S. J. Goodman, all of whom are assigned to the Sixty-third Coast Artillery. Four other officers, Second Lieutenants F. L. Lazarus, L. E. Simon, H. B. Gard and W. H. Kendall, will be attached to the local coast defenses until October 15, when they will sail for the Philippine Islands.

Philippine Bishop Delivers Sermon to Student Body



Bishop Charles B. Mitchell.

The student body of the University of Southern California held its first chapel exercises in Bovard Auditorium yesterday. Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid presided and welcomed the freshman class.

Following the welcoming address, Bishop Charles Bayard Mitchell, who is the Methodist Episcopal bishop of the Philippine Islands, gave the customary prayer for the incoming students. To Bishop Mitchell goes the honor of preaching to the largest student body that has ever been enrolled in the university.

One of the features of the chapel exercises was the introduction of thirty new teachers, who will assist in instructing the students this year.

Soldier Killed, Three Hurt, in Quarry Cave-in

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MONTEREY, Sept. 19. — One soldier was killed, another probably fatally injured, and two others less seriously hurt in a cave-in at the Monterey Presidio this afternoon. The four were working in a quarry when the side caved in.

Private Nicholas Tullius was buried under about half a ton of dirt and was dead when he was dug out ten or fifteen minutes later. Private Peter Woodcock received injuries which are expected to cause his death. Privates Roy Thompson and Carl Scanko also were hurt. All are members of Battery E, Seventy-sixth Field Artillery.

Scout Troops of City Hear Talks on Constitution

At almost all of the 145 troop headquarters of the Boy Scouts of Los Angeles special observance was made last evening of Constitution Week. Scout masters, special speakers and teachers gave addresses on the Constitution and early American history leading to its adoption. Other troops which have their weekly meetings on other than Friday night had previously recognized the occasion.

One of the qualifications for promotion above the tenderfoot rank in Scoutdom is familiarity with the Constitution, the Declaration of Independence, history of the American Flag and the principles of citizenship. In these matters they are frequently rehearsed and re-examined. The Scouts were one of the first organizations to indorse Constitution Week when it was founded by the American Bar Association, and it is nationally observed by the boys and their leaders.

ALIMONY DEMANDS OF MODEL CUT BY COURT

WIFE OF FILM ACTOR TOLD TO MOVE TO QUARTERS LESS EXPENSIVE

If Mrs. Gladys E. Frank expects to live on alimony pending trial of her suit for separate maintenance against her film-actor husband, Christian J. Frank, she will have to do it at some less expensive place than a certain downtown hotel, Judge Guerin told her, when she appeared before him for a ruling on the amount Frank will have to pay her.

"I'm afraid you'll have to move," Judge Guerin said. "I can not require your husband to pay you more than $25 a week under the circumstances."

The circumstances the court referred to were Frank's financial circumstances. He testified that although just at present he was on the payroll of a film production at $200 a week, he was simply "free lancing" and would soon be out of a job.

In a cross-complaint for divorce Frank said that his wife was living at the hotel and that when he asked her where she got the money for her expenses, she replied that she "had lots of money."

Mrs. Frank is a New York model, having come to Los Angeles to enter her separate maintenance suit. Frank charged her with habitual intemperance.

FOUR MACEDONIANS CONDEMNED TO DIE

ASSASSINATION OF REFUGEES IN VIENNA BELIEVED TO BE PLANNED

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VIENNA, Sept. 19.—Four Macedonian leaders in Vienna were condemned to death by the Sofia courts yesterday. They include the editor of a Macedonian newspaper published here, which has been a chief propaganda spreader for the Communist Balkan Federation.

It is understood that the sentences will be carried out in Vienna through assassination. The Vienna police, viewing this possibility, have taken every precaution to protect the exiles.

The situation continues troubled along the Bulgarian-Serbian frontier, with constant skirmishes between the followers of Aleko Pasha and Todor Alexandroff, both anxious to revenge the murder of their chiefs.

GIRL GIVEN PROBATION

Plan for Winter Sports in National Park

ORANGE COVE, Sept. 19.—Wilma Morehead, aged 9 years, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Morehead, owes her life, it is believed, to the quick action of Viola Clark, a playmate, who rescued her when her clothing became entangled in the shaft of an irrigation pump on the Morehead ranch.

Miss Morehead and her companion were playing near the pump when Miss Morehead's clothing wound around the shaft. As the shaft revolved Miss Morehead was dragged around, her head striking the ground several times. Miss Clark grasped her companion's hands and pulled with such vigor that the belt driving the shaft was pulled off the pulley.

Except for painful bruises about the head and shoulders Miss Morehead escaped unhurt.

POULTRY PRICES BETTER

TULARE, Sept. 19.—Poultry and egg trade continued its upward climb during August, increasing 30 per cent during the month, as compared with the same period last year. Total business handled by the Tulare Co-operative Poultry Association during the month amounted to $31,000, as compared with $24,000 in August of 1923, according to report at the directors' meeting.

Report of Manager L. I. Foss showed that 1300 cases of eggs sold for $13,000; poultry amounted to $7000; feeds, $11,000. There was also a small movement of baby chicks.

READY FOR WINTER

GIANT FOREST, Sept. 19.—Park administrative office and headquarters force are moving to Alder Creek permanent headquarters, and mail should henceforth be addressed to Three Rivers. The road crew and government mess will be continued at Giant Forest until October 1, and a park ranger will always be present to serve motor visitors. The dining-room and lunch counter at Giant Forest Lodge have been discontinued by Manager Maize, but sleeping accommodations in tents or cabins will be available until about the end of September. Emergency meals may be secured at government mess by visitors who do not care to cook. Giant Forest will be open to visitors with food and equipment until the roads are closed by snow.

Park Ranger and Mrs. Magly, who have been stationed at Cedar Creek, will move to Giant Forest about October 1 and will prepare for their fourth consecutive winter season and snow sports. Full details as to winter route will be published later. Nearly 500 persons visited Giant Forest last winter by the snowshoe route.

MUST ATTEND DRILL

VISALIA, Sept. 19. — Misdemeanor warrants have been issued for three members of Company H, One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Infantry, California National Guard, by Capt. Guy V. Buckman. The trio, John E. Berg and Clinton McGee of Exeter, and Arnet Fleming of Visalia, are charged with failing to attend drills.

This is the first move on the part of the commander of the company to enforce attendance through court action.

GUARDS DAY AND NIGHT

VISALIA, Sept. 19. — Buildings and grounds of the Visalia Union High School will be guarded at night as well as during the day time in the future, according to decision of the school board. A night janitor will be employed for the purpose, S. C. Simons being selected for the post.

INCREASED ENROLLMENT

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 19.—Work has started at Porterville Union High School with an enrollment of 611 pupils, as compared to an attendance of less than 600 a year ago. The freshman class of 200 is the largest in the school, although enrollment has not yet been completely segregated.

Since opening day from thirty to forty new pupils have entered elementary schools, bringing enrollment up to about 1050. After the fruit harvest is completed this figure is expected to be materially increased, as many of the Mexicans are now working in the fruit.

START OLIVE HARVEST

LINDSAY, Sept. 19.—Harvesting of the Lindsay olive crop has started, with picking at the present time being confined to green olives, for which orders have been received. It is expected that picking of ripe olives will start two weeks earlier this season than last. The crop is reported to be light throughout the district.

COURT ENDS ROMANCE BY SUIT DECREE

Sailor Wins $2000 from Actress He Says Turned Him Down After Pledge

A judgment entered by Judge Walton J. Wood yesterday marked the end of a romance between a sailor and a motion-picture actress.

The judgment was in the amount of $2000 in favor of Thomas F. Haughey against Bertie Mercer. It represented the value of an engagement ring and cash advances said to have been made by Haughey to Miss Mercer.

It all started in Norfolk, Va., when Haughey was an ensign in the Navy and Miss Mercer was one of the town belles. After a lengthy courtship they became engaged, according to Haughey's complaint, and it was eventually agreed they would marry in New York.

Haughey went to New York, expecting his fiancee to follow ten days later. Instead of going to New York, Miss Mercer came to Hollywood to go into pictures. She has since refused either to marry him or return the ring and reimburse him for cash advanced, Haughey charges.

In her answer to the suit, Miss Mercer asserted she would never marry him, and said she had offered to return the ring. She denied he had given her any cash worth mentioning. She did not appear to ask a continuance and judgment was entered by default.

Suspect Found Smashing Silver Is Held as Thief

William A. Stone of 5646 Hollywood Boulevard, who was arrested recently while smashing a quantity of sterling silver receptacles said to have been stolen from Mrs. W. T. Walling of 411½ Palm Drive, Beverly Hills, yesterday was held to answer by Justice Scott on a charge of burglary.

Stone, according to police, rented a house from H. G. Roskind and gave a check for rental, which was later returned as worthless. Roskind complained to police and in company with several officers went to the home of Stone and found him, police say, beating the silver pieces with a hammer.

Silverware and other asserted stolen property found at the home are valued at more than $12,000, according to officers.

WOES PILE UP FOR M'DONALD

British Premier Will Find Trouble on Return

Egypt and Italy Offer Hard Problem in Africa

League Use of English Fleet Causing Conflict

BY JOHN STEELE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Sept. 19.—International trouble is pilling up for Prime Minister MacDonald, who is now on his way from Scotland to London in his gift and endowed motor car. When he arrives tomorrow night he will find new trouble in Africa waiting to be solved, which promises to complicate the negotiations with Zaghlul Pasha over the Sudan.

There is a demand from Premier Mussolini for the cession of Zollum on the borders of the Italian province of Abyssinia. Zollum is now Egyptian territory and Egypt declines to give it up, reminding England that under the declaration by which Egypt was given its independence England announced that any attempt by any other power to interfere with its sovereignty would be regarded as an unfriendly act.

MORE COMPLICATIONS

The situation is also complicated by events before the Egyptian independence. When Italy entered the war England promised it ratification of the African frontiers. In pursuance of this plan England turned over to Italy recently a large tract of country in Jubaland and had the protectorate of Egypt been continued it probably would have given Zollum too. Now, however, England is in a position of being pledged to defend Egypt in retaining the territory which the Italians believe to belong to them.

There is also a possibility of a dispute over the Dodecanese which Premier Mussolini has announced his intention of annexing formally. Italy is acting under the Lausanne Treaty, but it is pledged to hand back some of these islands to Greece, and it is reported that it now has the intention to do so. England is more or less pledged to see that the rights of Greece are protected.

Another matter which promises trouble for Mr. MacDonald is the development of security negotiations in Geneva. The French are claiming that Great Britain is pledged under a proposed pact to place its fleet at the service of the League of Nations for police duties. Mr. MacDonald already has refused to do anything of the kind. In his recent letter on the proposed pact of security he pointed out that pact would mean an increase instead of decrease in armament and that the English people would never stand for international control of the English fleet.

Now reports from Geneva seem to indicate that Lord Parmoor has been maneuvered into making some declaration which is interpreted as committing England to a plan policing the seas for the League. It is absolutely absurd to believe Parliament ever will agree and if Lord Parmoor has made any such promise he will have to repudiate it.

TREATY WITH GERMANY

The next problem is that of a trade treaty with Germany, rendered necessary by the expiration of most favored nation clause in the Versailles Treaty next Tuesday. There is considerable anxiety felt in London over the recent rapprochement between the French and German governments on commercial matters, and an effort is to be made at once to obtain at least as favorable terms as France for trade with Germany.

Events are developing rapidly in the negotiations for an Irish settlement on the lines of two equal dominions. Patrick Moylett, one of the men who conducted the first negotiations with Downing street which led to the Anglo-Irish Treaty, had a long conference with Mr. MacDonald in Scotland a few days ago, and it is believed obtained his approval for a plan which also has the approval of the Free State government.

Sir James Craig, Premier of Ulster, has issued a formal statement that he is not aware of any attempt to arrange a further conference between the Free State and Ulster but he held out another invitation to President Cosgrave to make a move in that direction. It is not likely that much will be accomplished before the return of J. H. Thomas, colonial secretary, from Africa. Mr. Thomas is on his way now and two secretaries have been dispatched in a fast ship to meet him at Madiera and work out a plan for a settlement on the way back.

ARIZONA UNIVERSITY STUDENT LIST GROWS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 19.—The University of Arizona, this year is to have a gross enrollment of about 1250, or 10 per cent above last year's figures. Six hundred former students already are listed. A laboratory course has been added this year to the study of astronomy under charge of Dr. A. E. Douglas, director of the Steward Observatory. This will give the astronomical department students opportunity to obtain the full eight units leading to a degree of bachelor of science or of arts.

NEW SCHOLARS NUMEROUS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Sept. 19.—The Phoenix Union High School commenced its fall sessions with an enrollment of 1760 students. The new freshman class, with 600 members, is the largest in the school's history. Military training will be taken by the junior and sophomore classes, directed by Capt. J. M. Palmer, U. S. A., while the seniors and freshmen will have physicial training under R. B. Robinson.

VETERANS' OFFICE GROWS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Sept. 19.—The Phoenix district office of the United States Veterans' Bureau has been made a regional office, with addition of about twenty-five attaches, under R. H. Walker. Within the local organization will be medical, claims, rehabilitation and service divisions.

MIDDLE WEST NEWS IN BRIEF

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 19.—An estate of $100,000 is left to relatives in the will of Mrs. Ada McMillan, widow of B. F. McMillan, pioneer lumberman of Stevens Point. Mrs. McMillan was buried beside her husband a few weeks ago.

Found in a dying condition at the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad crossing on Morris street, Fond Du Lac, where he fell after being struck by a passenger train yesterday morning, Charles Murphy, 75 years of age, one of the county's oldest stock shippers, died a short time after being taken to St. Agnes Hospital.

Pastors of Oshkosh churches are waging a campaign against the Sunday funeral, declaring that many workers lose their day of rest when the dead are laid away on the first day of the week. At the first fall meeting of the Ministerial Association it was reported that approximately half the pastors of the city have signed a "round robin" which seeks to make Sunday a day without funeral or burial services in the city.

Dr. Louis Bickford, 42 years of age, recently discharged as assistant physician at the Northern Hospital for the Insane at Winnebago, Wis., was found dead in his cell at the jail at Oshkosh yesterday morning from poisoning. He was arested yesterday and was being held for questioning. After his discharge from the hospital staff he came to Oshkosh, where he is aleged to have written threatening letters to Dr. Adin Sherman, superintendent of the hospital, and to a young Oshkosh woman.

MINNEAPOLIS

MINEAPOLIS, Sept. 19.—The State Bank of Walters, a town southwest of Albert Lea, in Faribault county, closed its doors Wednesday. It was capitalized at $10,000 and had deposits of $150,000. G. F. Meyer is president and N. D. Michael is cashier.

L. A. Marvin, deputy St. Louis County Auditor for the last thirty years, is dead at Duluth. Death was due to bronchial pneumonia. Mr. Marvin has been ill for seven days.

Many wheat yields above any average of recent years are reported in Olmsted county. P. C. L. Riegel of Hadley Valley, north of Rochester, reports that Walter Lambrecht threshed forty-two bushels to the acre and E. J. Mahon fifty bushels to the acre. Herman Radke got sixty bushels and W. Ruts 141½ bushels from three bushels sown, which was imported from Russia.

KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 19.—It was love at first sight in the case of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Richardson, two of the oldest honeymooners in Kansas. Mr. Richardson is 75 years of age, and Mrs. Richardson, formerly Mrs. Hattie E. Riley, is 76. The romance which culminated in the marriage of the "drummer boy of Vicksburg," a resident of Florence, Kan., and Mrs. Riley, said to be the most beautiful "girl" in Eldorado, started at State and National conventions of the G.A.R. and the Women's Relief Corps.

One of the most destructive hailstorms ever experienced by Chase county, Kansas swept through the county from northwest to southeast last evening during a severe thunderstorm, doing thousands of dollars' damage to crops, fruit, and, in a number of instances, to buildings.

Destruction of bridges and pavements by heavy motor trucks operating out of Kansas City has caused Leavenworth authorities to take steps to limit the tonnage of trucks operating over the streets.

LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 19.—Frederick Stitzel, inventor of the railroad semaphore signal, died here yesterday at the age of 81 years. Stitzel retired as president of Stitzel Brothers' distillery twenty-nine years ago. His creative ability also found expression in a number of new appliances used in distilleries, the most important of which was the warehouse rack.

Bids are being taken for the construction of a new and modern packing plant for the L. P. Bornwasser Company, pork packers, street. The plant will cost approximately $200,000 and will adjoin the present property of the company.

The Board of Public Works yesterday closed negotiations for the purchase of property along the river front north of Shawnee Park, held by D. B. G. Rose, for approximately $50,000, to be turned over to the Board of Park Commissioners for park purposes. The strip runs from Thirty-eighth street to Boone Lane.

INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 19.—Warren T. McCray, ex-Governor of Indiana, who is serving a sentence at the Federal prison in Atlanta, Ga., is recovering from the effects of an attack of indigestion, according to A. V. Burch of Evansville, vice-chairman of the State Highway Commission, who was in Atlanta recently.

Henry C. Chessman, prominent in Indiana Masonry, died yesterday en route to Richmond from the Indiana Masonic home at Franklin on an interurban car at Dublin. Death was believed due to heart disease. Mr. Chessman was in charge of the Indiana publication of the Masonic order. He was a former Richmond resident.

OMAHA

OMAHA, Sept. 19.—Corn in Lindsay and vicinity was damaged about 50 per cent by a hailstorm which lasted half an hour. The storm took nearly the same course as the one in August last year, but was more severe.

Robert and Thomas Fluty of York harvested a small crop of Burley tobacco, a transplantation from the Kentucky tobacco fields. If the tobacco matures the men plan to plant a larger acreage next year.

Around Winnebago coyotes are more numerous and destructive this season than for many years. Farmers in the vicinity are obliged to shut their chickens up early in the evening in order to prevent wholesale destruction. There is talk of organizing a hunt to destroy the animals this fall.

The cool nights of the last week have caused the farmers in the vicinity of Winnebago great uneasiness. Many corn fields are green yet and will require ten days or two weeks of comparatively warm weather to mature. A killing frost now would entail many thousands of dollars' loss.

DES MOINES

DES MOINES, Sept. 19.—Daily newspaper publishers of Iowa, at a meeting here unanimously decided to continue their "Boost Iowa" campaign during the coming year at an outlay of $20,000. Robert O'Brien, of the Council Bluffs Nonpareil, will remain head of the committee in charge of the campaign.

Executors of the estate of the late John W. Stotts, Civil War veteran, who died at Shenandoah recently, found $7600 in currency, $400 in gold and $350 in government bonds hidden in tin cans at the Stotts home. He is said to have harbored a distrust for savings institutions.

A number of hungry wolves attacked a herd of sheep on the farm of William Hackett, located on Coon River north of Carroll, in broad daylight, killing five sheep before they could be driven away. H. C. Garnatz, another farmer of the same section also has lost several head. An organized effort is to be made to rid the county of the animals.

SPROULE TO VIEW ROUTE OF PIONEERS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Sept. 19.—William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific Railway system, is said to be about to make a personal inspection of the new route that is to be taken by his company's main line through Southern Arizona. He is to follow to the Gila River crossing, near Yuma, the old wagon road over which travel once entered the Golden State, a road that for years has been almost abandoned by automobile travel and is considered extremely difficult. The railroad surveyors are reported to have made permanent location of the line from the Arizona eastern terminus at Hassayampa, thirty-nine miles west of Phoenix, to within a few miles west of Agua Caliente, which is passed at a distance of about a mile. Thence the Gila is paralleled, on the north, for about seventy miles, to Dome, though there is intimation that a crossing near Norton may be considered.

Agua Caliente has hot springs that have been noted for their water's remedial value ever since the coming of the white man. They once were owned by the pioneer, King Woolsey, who continually was attacked by hostile Indians, and the place was one of the most important of the stations on the emigrant road. A few miles distant are the graves of the victims of the Oatman massacre. Most of the old stations are in ruins, but each has a history of romance.

CANADIANS URGE USE OF MOUNTIES AT LINE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Sept. 19. Merchants and manufacturers of Western Canada are endeavoring to have the Royal Canadian Police placed on customs guard along the border of Canada. Smuggling of millions of dollars worth of silks, automobiles parts tobacco, narcotics, jewelry and other goods bearing high duties has aroused the interests that are suffering most. Undermanned customs staffs cannot care for this duty on the border line. Some of the manufacturers are trying to get the government to enter into an agreement with the United States whereby mounted police officers will be stationed on the border and prevent smuggling goods into Canada and at the same time assist the United States by preventing liquor moving out of Canada. But they also want the United States to share the load by putting on man for man with Canada every man working for both countries.

SAFETY CHIEF TO RESIGN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—James N. McKelvey, Director of Public Safety, has announced he will resign his post within sixty days to go into the building business. McKelvey was defeated in the recent primary for the nomination of Sheriff by Anton Schuler, City Marshall. It is reported McKelvey desires to retire because of this defeat which so overwhelmingly crushed his political machine.

INDIAN SCHOOL GROWING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ST. JOHNS (Ariz.) Sept. 19.—The new Theodore Roosevelt Indian School at Fort Apache is growing and soon is to have its full enrollment of 450 pupils, mainly from the Navajo Tribe. Apaches are cared for in the near-by White River Agency School. The Fort Apache School occupies the barracks and other buildings of the old cavalry post. It is under the superintendency of Ralph Stanion.

NEBRASKA NOT LA FOLLETTE'S

Improved Crops and Prices Hurt Senator's Race

Klan and German Votes Fall Away from Radical

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OMAHA, Sept. 19.—Nebraska has been listed as one of the "La Follette" States, but La Follette is losing ground here every day. He is not as strong as he was three weeks ago. At least, that is what Republican "scouts" are reporting to headquarters.

La Follette was strongest in Nebraska the day he was nominated by a third party convention and his name certified to the Auditor of State to be placed on the Presidential ballot this fall. Since that day he has been losing strength.

"All the 'dissatisfied' were for La Follette at that time," the Republican scouts says that since then wheat and corn and live stock have advanced in price and a big corn crop has been made. Many who were among the dissatisfied a month ago are now looking on the bright side of the world."

LOSES GERMAN VOTE

For one thing, La Follette is fast losing the big "German vote" in Nebraska. Germans cast 40,000 of the 400,000 votes in this State. That is one-tenth the voting strength of the State. A month ago these fellows were all for La Follette. But La Follette's attack on the Constitution has brought about a change in their sentiment. Nebraska Germans saw the anti-foreign language law, which ruled German out of the schools, declared unconstitutional by the courts. They realize that, but for the Constitution, their language would be ruled even from their own schools in this State. They do not relish the attack which La Follette has made on the Constitution and his demand that the constitutionality of laws be settled in Congress instead of by the courts. For that reason the big German vote is turning away from La Follette and is going over to Coolidge.

The Ku Klux Klan is growing faster in Nebraska today than any secret society every has grown before. The Klan, so far as known, is not officially taking sides in the campaign. But individual members are for Coolidge—not that Coolidge has done anything for them, but that he has not done as much against them as have Davis and La Follette. Republican scouts declare the Klan leaders will support Coolidge openly before the end of the campaign.

NORRIS NO FACTOR

The attitude of United States Senator Norris has been something of a thorn in the side of Nebraska Republicans, but that situation is taking care of itself. A month ago Republicans were saying if Norris would make one speech for Coolidge it would settle the question in Nebraska and would land this State in the Republican colum without a question. But they were awfully afraid Norris would come out for La Follette instead of for Coolidge.

At present these same Republicans are almost daring Noris to come out for La Follette. Nebraska Republicans have gotten tired of Noris and they are turning against him by thousands. They say if Norris will just make a speech in favor of La Follette it will not only complete La Follette's ruin in Nebraska, but will defeat Norris himself.

HUSBAND IN CUSTODY MEETS WIFE'S HEARSE

MAN CHARGED WITH LEAVING FAMILY SEES CORTEGE FROM POLICE CAR

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Sept. 19. A funeral cortege rolled slowly away from a Mishawaka home. A police patrol stopped in respect. In the hearse was the body of Mrs. Frances Fifer, 32 years of age. In the patrol was her husband, was Fred E. Fifer, 35, charged with wife and child desertion.

In Mishawaka City Court Fifer wept when he learned of his wife's death. Her parents ordered that he could not view the body nor could he see the 21-day-old babe, born since his disappearance. His only other living child, Katherine, 4, is with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Zehner, at Albany, Ind., who are pressing the prosecution.

A year ago the Fifer home at Mishawaka burned while Mrs. Fifer was away, and the charred bodies of two of their children were found. Shortly after this Fifer fled home.

HE'LL FIGHT FOR WHISTLING

Senator Ashurst Sets Out to Have Order Applying to Capital Buildings Revoked as Autocratic

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Senator Ashurst of Arizona set out today to have the antiwhistling order revoked in the Senate Office Building. He likes to whistle when he feels happy, and resents interruptions by Capitol police who try to enforce the rule.

He was feeling especially jubilant yesterday about something—just what has not been divulged—although it probably was not the political situation—he is a Democrat—and was sauntering through the Senate Office Building merrily whistling a roundelay. He was stopped by a policeman and informed of the new order.

HE DIDN'T STOP

At first, overcome with surprise, Senator Ashurst next became angry. He paid his respects to "such an asinine order" and went on down the corridor whistling more loudly than ever.

Senator Ashurst is noted in Washington and elsewhere for his whistling. He is an expert. His whistling is loud and clear, and although he is perfectly able to whistle a tune, he frequently inclines more to repeat over and over again a noisesome strain of an impromptu nature.

But nobody has ever thought of interrupting the joyous notes of the stalwart and impressive Senator from Arizona.

He is conceded to be the champion whistler of the Senate and that body seems to glory in the fact.

WHO DID IT?

Senator Ashurst said today that he was going to find out who is responsible for a rule against innocent whistling in the United States Capitol or the corridors of the Senate and House Office Building. He intimated that in his opinion such a rule was undemocratic, even un-American. He was inclined to vent some of his anger on Patrolman Hardesty, who he thought should have had more tact than to stop a Senator from whistling, despite the rule.

He agreed that it might be a good thing to prevent wholesale whistling by outsiders which might interrupt the weighty cogitation of Senators, but contended a Capitol cop should exercise some discretion.

MRS. LOEB TO VISIT SON

Mother Will See Dapper Boy Slayer as Convict in Prison Garb and With Head Shorn

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Richard Loeb's next visitor at the Joliet prison will be his mother, who has seen him only once since he was arrested for the kidnaping and murder of Robert Franks.

She will be allowed to see him for thirty minutes in the reception room of the prison, but no exception to the usual rules will be made in her behalf. She will sit at one end of a long table. At the other and will sit her convict son, his shapeless gray suit and his shorn head contrasting oddly with the memory of the dapper "Dickie" of campus days.

Between them will be stationed a guard, rifle in hand. His duty will be to see that the wife of the millionaire vice-president of Sears Roebuck & Co. does no more than speak to the lad who is known to the prison authorities only as 9306. She can not embrace him; she is not permitted even to touch his hand.

The date of the visit has not been definitely set, but under the rules it can not be earlier than the 30th inst. Allan Loeb, a brother of Richard, visited him Tuesday, but Mrs. Loeb at that time was too ill to accompany him. She is suffering a nervous breakdown at the Loeb summer home at Charlevoix, Mich.

According to Attorney Clarence Darrow, who is a guest there, she hopes to be strong enough for the trip by the next visiting day.

Mrs. Loeb's last sight of her son was in the County Jail not long after he and Nathan Leopold, Jr., confessed to the killing of the Franks boy.

Albert H. Loeb, the father, is seriously ill of heart disease and it is not expected he will be able soon to visit the penitentiary.

So far Leopold, Jr., has had no visitors and no arrangements for them have been made.

Mrs. Ingram Presents a Daughter to Her Second Husband

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Gloria Caruso, daughter of the late Enrico Caruso, has a half-sister, Jacqueline Dorothy Ingram.

Jacqueline was born to Mrs. Dorothy Caruso Ingram at a private hospital in Madison avenue late last night.

An hour later, a son was born to Mrs. Ingram's cousin, Mrs. Henry Rogers Benjamin, who will be an heir to his great grandfather, the late Henry H. Rogers, one of the founders of the Standard Oil Company. His grandmother, Mrs. William Evarts Benjamin, died two weeks ago, leaving a $30,000,000 estate.

Mrs. Ingram, widow of the famous tenor, became the bride of Capt. Ernest Ingram of London a year ago. Last April she confirmed reports that she and the captain had separated, but added that she would bring neither divorce nor separation suit against him. Capt. Ingram is believed to be in England.

TEXAS TAKES LEAD IN STATE-OWNED PARKS

FORTY-TWO ARE DONATED AND TWELVE OTHERS WILL BE GIVEN SOON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Sept. 19. Texas with forty-two State-owned parks leads all others of the Union in breathing spaces for its people. Every park has been the gift of individuals or communities or both. These parks have been donated to the State "now and forever," since January 1, this year, with some twelve others under contemplation to be donated on acceptance by the State Parks Board. These parks have cost the people of Texas but $1500—traveling expense for the five members of the board, who draw no salaries or remuneration of any nature.

When the board was created last May, the $1500 was appropriated for expenses, the finances of the State now being sufficient for an appropriation for the purchase of a single park site at that time.

Members of the board are: D. E. Colp, San Antonio, chairman; Hobart Key of Marshall, and Mmes. James Welder of Victoria, Phoebe K. Warner of Claude, and W. C. Martin of Dallas. Gov. Neff has made two trips with board and expects to go with them into East and North Texas on the fourth and last of the more extended trips which is to start from San Antonio about October 10 next.

SILENCE IS MAINTAINED BY WILBUR

Secretary Goes Directly to Home on Arrival to Wait Talk to Coolidge

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur arrived in Washington shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon and went at once to his home. Until he has conferred with President Coolidge on the naval budget and other matters which occasioned his recall here from California, no statement will be made at the White House. Efforts of the Democrats and unfriendly newspapers to make the recall of Secretary Wilbur appear as an important move in the political campaign have failed to stand up, and the distorted comment about some of his speeches have fallen flat in Washington and New York, as well as other eastern centers, it is asserted in political circles here.

Cutter Speeds to Ship in Peril on Arctic Coast

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE, Sept. 19.—The motor freighter Chiopeck III was in distress with her master drowned and her crew and two passengers in peril twelve miles north of Cape Spencer, Alaska, at the entrance of Cross Sound, said a dispatch received here today.

The message was received by the United States Coast Guard here from Lieutenant-Commander John Bodecker, commander of the Coast guard cutter Unalga, which was speeding to the assistance of the Chiopeck.

The Chiopeck III is a fishing vessel operating out of Juneau. She was built here.

ARIZONA'S RESERVE OFFICERS ORGANIZE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Sept. 19.—Organization has been made in this city of the Arizona Department, Reserve officers' Association of the United States, with an initial membership of 113. Its first president is Maj. C. H. Rutherford of Jerome, judge advocate general's department, with Maj E. C. Dietrich of Tucson, Capt. R. A. Alexander of Safford, and Capt. Harry Wheeler of Douglas, as vice-presidents, Second Lieut. C. V. Muehlberg of Phoenix as secretary and First Lieut. R. A. Campbell of Miami treasurer. Lieut. Col. C. M. McKean of Warren was chosen as representative of the national convention of the association, which will meet in Columbus, Ohio, October 23. An Arizona State Convention will be conducted in Phoenix in October of November. It is stated that only Nevada and Utah now are without State organizations of the association.

MEETING ON STREET NAMES

Plans for a mass meeting of residents in West Hollywood are being made by the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce to start a campaign for changing several street names in that district. People living on Orange avenue, Orange Grove avenue and Orange Drive will be asked to attend, these streets having been confused numerous times with Orange street in Los Angeles. An effort will be made to obtain opinions from residents before the mass meeting is called.

SEE KENTUCKY AS G.O.P. STATE

Senator Ernst Predicts an Upset for Stanley

Coolidge Popularity Spells Woe for Opponents

Davis Loses Ground by Lack of Clear-Cut Issues

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Senator Richard P. Ernst of Kentucky, who called on President Coolidge today, expressed confidence that the Republican party would carry the Blue Grass State by a comfortable majority. The Kentucky Senator asserted that the Senatorial race in his State has reached the stage where he is willing to predict that the Republican candidate will be victorious.

"The Republican Senatorial candidate, Fred M. Sackett of Louisville, has an excellent chance of defeating Senator A. O. Stanley," Senator Ernst declared.

"The popularity of the President is aiding the Republicans in the State fight. The large independent vote will support the Coolidge-Dawes ticket and Mr. Sackett as well.

"The failure of Davis to make any clear-cut issue of his own on which to appeal to the people, together with the unpopularity of his running-mate, Charles W. Bryan, has caused a very visible demoralization in the Democratic camp. Nothing is more patent that his failure to make headway.

"As regards La Follette and the Socialist third party there is no possibility of that element making any headway in Kentucky or any other border State, so far as I can find. In the present temper of the American people I have no fears that an appeal based largely on destroying the Constitution and the overthrow of the nation's economic fabric can get very far."

Commenting on the fact that Davis is following the leadership of President Coolidge, the Kentucky Senator said:

"Davis has finally indorsed President Coolidge's policies as follows:

"Approved the President's Baltimore speech on the Constitution.

"Approved the Defense Day exercises after they were concluded.

"Indorsed reduction in taxes and economies in government as recommended by the President.

Driver of Death Truck Is Given Term in Prison

John T. Perea, 30 years of age, a truck driver, yesterday was sentenced to serve from one to ten years in San Quentin penitentiary for manslaughter.

Perea originally was charged with second-degree murder in connection with the death of Anna Louise Sallard, 8 years of age, who was beheaded June 22 last, when an automobile driven by Perea crashed into a car in which the girl was riding.

The accused man, however, was allowed to plead guilty to manslaughter, and file application for probation. According to the probation officer's report, which recommended that probation be denied, Perea was seen to throw an empty bottle from his car shortly after the crash. The accident happened at Thirty-seventh street and Santa Fe avenue.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hill was in charge of the case for the State, and opposed probation for Perea. Judge Avery granted a ten-day stay of execution at the request of Perea's attorney.

GRIFFITH FILM GETS BY BRITISH CENSORS

CHANGES IN RECHRISTENED "AMERICA," MOSTLY IN SUBTITLES

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Rechristened "Love and Sacrifice," D. W. Griffith's Revolutionary War picture "America," finally passed the London board of censorship this afternoon. Banned twice in the last six weeks, the film finally succeeded in getting by with a greater part of the spectacles showing America's early struggle for independence intact.

Changes required by the British censor chiefly were in titles and subtitles. All titles considered extravagant in sentiment were eliminated, declares Mr. Griffith's agents here, though the revised edition was not seen by any one except the censor board.

"Love and Sacrifice" will be shown for the first time on Thursday night, the 25th inst., at the Scala Theater. English school children will be allowed to see the film since it has been granted a universal certificate. The picture was refused admittance to London after it had been stopped abruptly by the Plymouth police.

FLEE POVERTY IN GERMANY

Brothers Come Here to Start Work, Declaring Own Country Unable to Provide Positions

An opportunity to make a living no longer exists in Germany, according to Oskar von Stetten and his brother Berthold, of Augsburg, who have come to America to see what they can find to do.

Oskar, who has had considerable experience in banking and other mercantile pursuits, expects to embark in the exporting and importing business on the Pacific Coast, while his brother, who is an agricultural expert, having majored in that subject at one of the leading German universities, will go in for farming.

"DRAINED OF GOLD"

"Conditions in our country do not show many signs of improving," said Oskar Von Stetten. "The Dawes plan, which provides for certain definite reparations payments, ought to have been adopted two years ago. By this time Germany has been drained of all its gold and all its tangible assets are mortgaged.

"The situation of the laboring population is especially difficult. Industry is shattered and laborers are glad to work forty-eight hours for a wage of $4 in your money. At that, there are many who can find no work at all."

REVOLT EXPECTED

The brothers stated that the national wealth of Germany, which was estimated at 42,000,000,000 marks before the war, has been completely wiped out in the payment of expenses incident to the war and after, which payments they said had aggregated more than 56,000,000,000 marks.

They expressed the opinion that much of what money remained after the war has been pocketed by grafting politicians, and said it was probable that an uprising, led by Bolshevists, would take place when the common people can no longer bear their burdens.

German Nationalists End Innocence Clamor; Bow to Premier MacDonald

BY GEORGE SELDES

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1924, by the Chicago Tribune]

BERLIN, Sept. 19. — The German Nationalist party capitulated today. After months of loud protestations that Germany must send an innocence note immediately, the party decided to accept Prime Minister MacDonald's idea that history in half a century will decide Germany's war guilt.

Furthermore, the party is willing to let Herr Marx and Herr Stresemann remain the heads of the government, should they enter the Cabinet.

Lord Parmoor sent a letter to Germany tonight, saying he regrets disagreeable incidents making mountains out of mole hills through "discussion of unimportant details."

"I hope the personal friendship of German statesmen will not be darkened or harmed," Lord Parmoor writes.

New York Plans to Cancel Many Motor Licenses

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ALBANY, Sept. 19.—Licenses to drive and car registrations of 25,000 careless, reckless, drunken and criminal drivers in New York State will be suspended or revoked during the next year, Max Graves, State Tax Commissioner, predicted in an address here.

He said that drastic inforcement of the State's new Motor Vehicle law would take these drivers off the highways, basing his prediction on the results obtained under the Massachusetts law.

The Commissioner said that if New York State had begun in 1919, as Massachusetts did, and had done as effective work regarding motor vehicle licensing and regulation, 1470 persons in New York State who were killed between 1919 and the end of 1923 would now be living.

COLORADO RIVER RISE PREDICTED IN PHOENIX

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Sept. 19.—The Weather Bureau predicts a rise tomorrow to about 6000 second feet in the Colorado River at Yuma. The local office expresses belief that the run-off will be short, as the water appears to have come from canyons on the north side of the Grand Canyon. No rain is reported anywhere in Arizona.

COUNT HUNTED AS BOOTLEGGER

Dry Agents Unearth Still in Nobleman's Apartment

Twenty-Five-Gallon Plant is Running Full Blast

Filipino and French Woman Are Taken in Raid

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Following a raid on an apartment in the building at 408 Manhattan avenue, in which a twenty-five-gallon still was discovered, prohibition enforcement agents obtained from United States Commissioner Boyle a warrant for the arrest of Count Henri de Talmont, on a charge of manufacturing and possessing liquor.

Application for the warrant was made by Agent William J. McKay, who said that he discovered the still in apartment 71 on the seventh floor of the Manhattan-avenue address, which is an eight-story elevator building, occupied by well-to-do tenants. The still, he said, was in operation at the time, and he declared that if it had exploded it would have destroyed th beuilding with possible loss of life.

The raid resulted in the arrest of Julian H. Benedict, a Filipino, and Marie Gulian, French woman, who were in the apartment at the time the agents raided it. They were arraigned before Commissioner Boyle and held in $500 bail each for a hearing on a charge of manufacturing and possessing liquor. According to the dry agent, the apartment is rented by Count De Talmont, and was occupied by him. The Count, they say, is a French nobleman of the Bourbon family, aud is widely known both here and in Paris. Information of the existence of the still was transmitted to the Federal authorities by Frederick Pollaro, who refused to give his address. He told the dry agents that his wife had deserted him and that he had traced her to the Manhattan-avenue address. He informed the authorities in order to revenge himself on the Count.

More than Expected

An American, newly arrived, went into a London teashop, took his seat and waited. Presently a bright eyed waitress approached him and asked:

"Can I take your order?"

"Yes. Two boiled eggs and a kind word."

The waitress brought the eggs and was moving on when the American said. "Say, what about the kind word?"

The waitress leaned over and whispered:

Wife Files Suit Against Husband of Forty Years

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Forty years of married life, then the divorce court. Albert E. Hewitt, wealthy lumberman, was made the defendant in a bill for separate maintenance filed by Mrs. Jennie Hewitt. She says in the declaration that he has been attentive to a Mrs. Della Blakeny-Bennett and given her (his wife) only a very meager income. Mrs. Hewitt says she is partly dependent on her children, and asks that her husband share his $20,000 yearly income with her. Hewitt, who has nine children, is president of the lumber company bearing his name.

Poison for Cotton Boll Weevil

With the aid of electricity cheaper methods have been devised for making a poison deadly to the boll weevil. Heretofore, because of the expense of production, an adequate supply of insecticide was not available, for it is estimated that 700,000,000 pounds are needed annually to fight the pest. Its ravages in the southern cotton fields amount to about $400,000,000 annually, but it is anticipated that a large supply of the deadly poison at comparatively low cost will be a means of reducing the damage.—[Exchange.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

ARE PHYSICIANS A SICKLY LOT?

In a certain pseudo-scientific magazine there was an article recently which asserted that psysicians are a sickly lot. It gave the impression that if physicians do not know how to keep themselves well, how can they be expected to keep others well and to cure them?

My first impression on reading that was that it might be possible because the average physicians' life in his performance of his duty is enough to put him under par. He is often overworked, half the time doesn't get enough sleep, has irregular times for eating and has little time for systematic exercise and recreation.

However, we have some data now to show that this idea that the physicians are a sickly lot is wrong. In Kings County Medical Society, Brooklyn, ninety-one of the members received a personal health examination, as part of the county educational program, and comparisons with other series of examinations by the United States Public Health Service, and by insurance companies, indicate that these physicians, at least, rate better in health than other corresponding age groups. So that statement the magazine made "that physicians are a sickly lot" will have to be challenged. We do practice what we preach.

MANY MISERIES

Mrs. S.: You are fifty pounds overweight; your fingers crack under the nails, and they are painful; you lose control of your middle finger when you write; and your neck is an awful size.

Reduce! That is the answer to most of your troubles. Send for our instructions on reducing. Don't forget to enclose a large-sized, stamped, self-addressed envelope, and 10 cents in stamps with your request.

While you are waiting for this, go to the bookstore or the library and get a book on reducing. I cannot tell you the name of the best one because of my shrinking modesty. If you cannot go to the bookstore or the library immediately, begin to increase your exercises gradually and go on a liquid or semiliquid diet for three days. Have four or five glasses of buttermilk or skim milk plus eight or twelve dates during the day. Divide this amount into as many meals as you like. This will amount to from 520 to 700 C. If you don't like milk or buttermilk, take four or five small glasses of orange juice or other fruit juices, instead. You will lose from five to ten pounds, and that will give you what we call a glorious start.

Keep your nails well manicured to keep them free from hangnails. Push back the cuticle at the roots every day. Wear rubber gloves if you have to have your hands in the water much. Wrap them at night in some healing ointment like boracic acid or zinc ointment. Writer's cramp I'll take up some other time. REDUCE!

CALLOUS FEET

S. H.: The callousness on the balls of the feet are due to the falling on the anterior arch. You say you wear arch supports, proper shoes and do the exercises I have advised. Still they are painful! Hard luck, isn't it?

Ah! I can see you are about fifteen pounds overweight. Well, there's one thing more you can do. You can reduce the excess and perhaps that will help. And you must remember that it takes a long time for the exercises to strengthen the muscles materially.

After the callouses are soaked and pared, strap them with adhesive; that will give some relief. The corn remedy can be used also. Here it is:

Salicylic acid, 1 dram (about a level teaspoonful)

Flexible collodium, 1 ounce.

Ten grains cannabias indica may be added to relieve pain.

Soak the feet before applying and then apply the solution night and morning for three to six days; then soak in hot water softened with soda, a teaspoonful to the quart, and the corn can usually be gently pulled off.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

The reason a safe-deposit box hasn't been rented by every woman who has a home to preside over is due to the fact that they labor under the illusion that they are prohibitive in price, in the first place, and require a lot of red tape to secure. Both reasons are wrong. Do you know that for as small a sum as a penny a day these boxes may be rented, and that it is ever so easy to make arrangements for their rental? The silver you use only on state occasions and worry over being stolen should be kept in your bank. The jewelry which must be hidden and fretted over—that should be guarded by the Bank of Italy. Then valuable insurance papers, securities and bonds which couldn't be replaced if lost should be guarded in the same way. This is a gentle reminder of what the Bank of Italy's safety-deposit vaults are installed for—your convenience and safety. Don't you think it would be wise to follow the suggestion?

Chopped Olives and Eggs: Cut bread one-quarter-inch thick and toast lightly on both sides. Spread sparingly with butter. Mix eggs with milk. Melt butter in hot frying pan, add onion and simmer for a few minutes. Pour in egg mixture and cook slowly until eggs begin to thicken. Stir in olives and continue stirring until the mixture is creamy and very hot. Spread between two slices of toast and serve at once. Garnish with parsley or watercress.

You may watch the diet of those little men and women intrusted to your care; look to the proteins and calories, all of which is very important, but, if you do not see that they are drinking enough of the right kind of water, your other efforts will be of small avail. You see, Arrowhead Mountain Springs Water does many things beside quench the thirst in a most satisfactory manner. It keeps the system clean by carrying off germs and impurities which cause sickness. None of us drink enough water, though the families who do use Arrowhead will tell you that they notice the amount drunk daily increases each month, which certainly proves something, don't you think? Just think how trivial is the cost—50 cents for a demijohn of five gallons with a cooler and stand free. If you will but phone HUmbolt 0300 your order will be taken care of at once!

Mint cocktail: Two level tablespoonfuls chopped mint leaves, tablespoonful orange juice, one-half cupful carbonated water, one-half cupful ginger ale. Dissolve the sugar, and allow the mint leaves to stand in the sweetened water for about a half-hour. Add fruit juices, Ginger Ale, and coloring to make a delicate green. Dilute with water and serve over crushed ice.

Well within the memory of most of us—are those days when one used one kind of soap for colored clothes; another kind for the white things and a third for woolens. Awful nuisance, wasn't it? Is it any wonder here in California, we are absolutely boastful about White King washing machine soap in granules—White King isn't limited in its use to the washing of clothes—but for all kinds of cleaning you will find it ever so satisfactory. Light woodwork cleaned with White King actually cannot be improved upon.

Moving days are in order—but much as we dread the idea it can be made much easier by not having the bother of preparing meals during that time. "How—do you ask? Why, by taking advantage of the services Travaglini's Roma Rotisserie, 1801 W. 7th Street (corner Burlington) offer. The tenderest meats—juicy and delicious in flavor; piping hot, may be bought there at a moment's notice. Chickens roasted to a turn are one of their famous specialties, while salads and all sorts of other utterly delicious home-cooked viands make Travaglini's Roma Rotisserie the Mecca of Los Angeles' discerning women.

Bake chicken pie in a deep dish, covering it with a crust, and serve with apple jelly.

The genuine Cavendish English crumpets, such as are served to the Prince of Wales in England, are sold only at Cavendish's Crumpet House, 2002 Wilshire Blvd. DRexel 7757. Then afternoon tea served also, with crumpets, may be secured there.

You have never bought better ham than Young's Best. Every ham that bears Young's name comes from Chicago—because the world's finest hams are cured and packed there. And Young's Best Hams are exactly that, the finest from the choicest porkers of the world's famous corn belt. The prices this week are particularly attractive, too.

Sections of orange and canned pineapple are a delicious combination in a fruit jelly.

The combinations of flavors which have been chosen for the L. A. Lily Brand Sunday's Special Brick will certainly be popular—that is a foregone conclusion. Could anything be more attractive than Nesselrode Pudding, Honey Fruit and Malted Milk and Grapenuts? Makes your mouth water to even hear about it, so it's easy to foresee the bargain-day rush for the dealers which sell this particular brand of ice cream—which will be made. Ice cream has so much food value that mothers of families all realize now that by selecting so easy a dessert they please their dear ones and benefit them as well. Let me urge you to order early.

Muffins or squares of cornbread are delicious when split open, toasted and buttered.

You all will be delighted to know that "Frozen Steam" is selling at the same price as the so-called "certified ice." Wonderful bit of news, that—for this refrigerant, which may only be purchased of the Merchants' Ice & Cold Storage Co., is made from pure Artesian Well Water. By an extremely costly process it is turned first of all into steam, to remove any impurities, then frozen 20 degrees below freezing. The advantage of this is slower meltage—and a pure product which may be used for chilling with no fear of germs. Why not make up your mind now to actually raise the standard of your home by giving an order for "Frozen Steam" today? TRinity 1351 is the telephone number.

A model house was what they called, it and never did a domicile or casa deserve the compliment more. Strange to say, the furniture didn't consist of priceless mahogany or massive walnut pieces, but of the most alluring painted sets, which just "belong" in California and make a fitting background for Maxfield skies and tropical beauty. The startling news given me when extravagantly admiring the attractiveness of each room was this: "Water-Spar," the waterproof varnish, which has been given us now in eighteen glorious colors—had been used to paint each set. You can do your old furniture over with Water-Spar—the Paint and Varnish Division of the Pittsburg Plate Glass Co. sells it. 928 So. Main is their address. TRinity 6969 the phone number. Do see them about this remarkable varnish soon.

If you really want to save money—are truly in earnest about economizing — make your own clothes as well as those of the children. Don't say you cannot afford a machine after you hear the news just sent in by the White Sewing Machine Co., 917 S. Broadway. "A few bargains in used machines," is the good report, so make haste to take advantage of the fact.

Two coats for the little folk from one army blanket is the way I have found to help out the budget and get good, warm coats for the children.

Maybe you are still numbered among that coterie of women who change from one kind of bread to another—never satisfied—always seeking a bread which remains uniform and satisfying to the taste. But when "Honey Bread" has, by a piece of good fortune, been brought to their attention the dissatisfaction ceases. Not for nothing has it earned the reputation of being "the bread that made mother stop baking." A beautiful loaf to look upon; golden brown in color, uniform in size, positively fragrant with the good things which go into making it delicious, such as real honey, finest flour, real milk instead of water, and the best shortening—is it any wonder those who eat it always want more? The best of grocers will be glad to supply you daily, you know. Just make sure to say Honey Bread, that is the magical pass word which will obtain the royal loaf.

If you wish to bake new potatoes, pierce them first with a fork so the moisture has a chance to escape.

Read the fashion notes of any magazine and you will find that the Chinese influence prevails. Yokes of Mandarin coats are absolutely smart on tailored frocks. Everything pertaining to dress and home calls for oriental decorations, which you should buy in all their perfection at Fong Yun Co., 807 W. 7th.

Scarves rolled on a short stick will look much nicer when put on the bureau than if they are folded several times after laundering.

"Good furniture, yes, but how shabby"—hasn't that thought passed through your mind when reviewing the furnishings of another home? Turn the spotlight on your own possessions and see if you haven't some overstuffed pieces which need covering. You know, Simank Brothers, 725-27 W. 9th St. reupholster any kind of furniture extremely well. What is more, they are reasonable in their charges, which is good news, indeed. Why not secure an estimate anyway—Simank Bros. are modern in their ideas and are always found obliging.

Many wives who enjoy sewing have tried to make their husband's shirts but have been dissatisfied with the results, due to the pattern not fitting perfectly. Try this: Select a worn shirt, correct size, and rip it apart. Use this as your pattern and it is bound to be right. A neckband of the correct size may be brought for 5 or 10 cents and will complete a first-class shirt.

Mora's Grill is tucked away in the quaintest part of old Los Angeles—which makes it all the more interesting to people who desire atmosphere as well as delicious food. You really must tiffin or dine there soon. 107 W. Market street, is the address—just a half-square south of the postoffice.

STOVE AID TO BLISS

Woman Cooked 67,000 Meals on Same Wood and Coal Burner

Mrs. Herbert Sheets of Quinton, N. J., who, with her husband, recently celebrated the sixty-first anniversary of their marriage, still cooks the family meal on the same wood and coal stove with which they started housekeeping.

At the rate of three meals a day, it is estimated that Mrs. Sheets has cooked 67,000 meals, not to mention the cookies and pies that have come from the oven. Six stalwart sons and daughters, all still living, testifying to the "good eats" that have been prepared in that little old stove.

There are eighty grandchildren and great-grandchildren who are also well acquainted with the quality of the good things that have come from granny's famous oven.

Mrs. Sheets says she would not part with the stove. She and her husband lived for years in towns where gas or electricity was not available, but she "managed to get along." And now it has become a sort of family heirloom, retained for sentimental as well as practical reasons.

One of her "boys" says that after she has cooked her last meal on it, he is going to have it carefully packed and take it home with him, and bring it out upon important family occasions to show to that growing line of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

"I have always liked to cook," said Mrs. Sheets, whose back is bent from so much stooping, to stir a pot or to see how bread or pies were browning in the oven.

"I get a little spent and tired sometimes," she continued, and then explained, half-apologetically, that she now buys her bread, and sometimes cakes, from the village baker. Until recently she did all her own baking, canning and preserving, in addition to preparing the regular three meals a day.

"Just plain, ordinary cooking is what I do," answered the smiling little woman when asked what she likes to cook most. "I have never bothered much with fancy dishes," she went on, "and I have liked to cook the substantial things for my husband and our boys and girls.

"No, I never counted up how many meals I've cooked on this stove. It's the only stove we've ever had and I don't have to tell you that it is a good one when I say that we've used it every day since we were married. It has a good oven. Once, some years ago, we had a new top put on the stove. That's about the only thing that has ever needed fixing since we got it."—[Philadelphia Ledger.

WHEN THE CLOCK STRUCK

Mr. and Mrs. Green had just had another of their frequent quarrels and in these wordy contests, somehow or other, it always seemed to be Mrs. Green who came out on top. If she did happen to get beaten she had her revenge later on, when she did her very worst in the cooking line and upset Mr. Green's delicate stomach for a fortnight.

"You remind me of an angel."

She was mollified at once by this flattering comparison.

"Do I, really?" she said.

"Yes—because you are always harping, never have any clothes to put on, and are always up in the air!"

Bang! (That is the noise made by the clock striking—against Mr. Green's head.) — [Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

It was announced that Marshall H. Saville, of the Museum of the American Indian, will go to Europe to investigate a "fourth Mayan codex," which, it is claimed, was discovered in a heap of unsorted documents in a Vienna museum. Only three other written Mayan reports have been found and they are hieroglyphs and picture writings.—[Exchange.

CHEESE CAKE

R. V. M., Los Angeles, requests recipes for cheese cake, lady fingers, and chop suey made with chicken.

For the cheese cake dissolve one cake of yeast in half a cupful of lukewarm milk and pour into a bowl; mix this with one cupful of sifted flour sifted with one teaspoonful of sugar and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt; place in warm place and let rise for two hours.

When the mixture is well risen beat to a cream three-quarters of a cupful of butter and one cupful of sugar; beat in three well-beaten eggs and mix to smooth dough with five cupfuls of sifted flour sifted with one teaspoonful of salt; add one cupful of milk and the yeast mixture. Work well with a spoon for ten minutes and let rise until light, about four hours.

Rub one and a half cupfuls of dry cottage cheese through a sieve and mix smooth with four tablespoonfuls of creamed butter; beat into these slowly half a cupful of sugar, the well-beaten yolks of three eggs, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of grated lemon rind, and two-thirds of a cupful of seedless raisins.

Butter a deep baking dish heavily, roll out the dough in a thin sheet and line the baking dish with it; let rise fifteen minutes. Add the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs to the cheese mixture, pour into the dough-lined pan and bake until firm in the center.

LADY FINGERS

Beat the yolks of three eggs until light and creamy, beat into them two-thirds of a cupful of sifted confectioners XXXX sugar and beat smooth with one teaspoonful of grated lemon or orange rind. Beat the whites of three eggs until stiff with half a teaspoonful of salt and fold into them one-half a cupful of flour that has been sifted three times; fold into these the yolk mixture. Cover a baking sheet with white paper and press the mixture from a pastry bag with round tube onto it in portions half an inch wide and four inches long, or drop into lady finger molds. Dust the top of each cake with powdered sugar and bake fifteen minutes in a moderate oven. Do not brown. Remove from the oven, wet the paper, lift off the fingers, brush the flat sides with egg white and press two flat sides together.

CHOP SUEY

Cut the breast of a one and a half pound chicken in small pieces. Soak half a cupful of Chinese dried mushrooms in one and a half cupful of warm water until soft and then cut in small pieces. Have ready four cupfuls of peeled and diced celery, one dozen peeled and chopped water chestnuts, two peeled and chopped onions, half a can of bamboo shoots, and two pounds of bean sprouts. Place in a deep pan one tablespoonful of chicken fat, heat very hot, add the chicken and stir and fry until brown, do not burn. Add the mushrooms, celery, water chestnuts, onions, and bamboo shoots and cook ten minutes; add the bean sprouts, two tablespoonfuls of syou, and a dash of cayenne pepper and simmer ten minutes. Serve in a border of dry cooked rice.

The mushrooms, bean sprouts, syou, water chestnuts, and bamboo shoots can be bought from any Chinese grocery store.

WAFFLES

T. E. L., Los Angeles, has been married a short time and is having trouble in making waffles. She sends a stamped envelope and asks that we mail her a recipe.

We do not mail recipes, all requests are answered in these columns in the order that they are received.

For the waffles sift two cupfuls of sifted flour with one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and two teaspoonfuls of sugar; add to these the well-beaten yolks of three eggs mixed with one and one-quarter cupfuls of milk; add one tablespoonful of melted butter and beat smooth. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Place a tablespoon of the batter in each section of a hot waffle iron and bake until crisp and they will leave the iron clean. Never wash the waffle iron, brush it clean with a stiff brush if any of the batter sticks in it.

ORANGE ROLLS

J. M. B., Morris, Minn., asks for a recipe for yeast raised orange rolls.

Scald two cupfuls of milk, add to it three tablespoonfuls of butter, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, and one teaspoonful of salt; stir until lukewarm, add one cake of yeast dissolved in one-quarter of a cupful of lukewarm water and three cupfuls of sifted flour; beat five minutes and set in a warm place to rise until light. Cut down and work in two and one-half cupfuls of flour, knead well and let rise until light. Place on a floured board, roll out to one-third of an inch in thickness, cut with a biscuit cutter, lay a section of orange in the center, fold over and press the edges together. Place on a buttered baking pan and bake until half done, not brown; remove from the oven, open each roll and insert some sauce made by beating to a cream one and one-half tablespoonfuls of butter, three tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, one and one-half tablespoonfuls of orange juice, and tne grated rind of half an orange. Place the rolls back in the pan, spread the tops with the sauce, return to the oven and bake five minutes. Do not let the sauce burn.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

O. J. W., Los Angeles, is going East soon and would like to take with her a book of daily menu suggestions.

We have never published a book of our recipes of the daily menu suggestions as we have never had enough requests for them.

FIG CONSERVE

J. H. B., Los Angeles, wants us to give the recipe for fig conserve that we gave a year ago.

Peel and cut in quarters six pounds of firm ripe figs, place in a bowl and cover with three pounds of sugar; let stand over night. In the morning place in preserving kettle, add one-half pound of seedless raisins, the grated rind and juice of two oranges, the grated rind and juice of three lemons, and one-half cupful of preserved ginger chopped in small pieces; bring to a boil and simmer for twenty-five minutes or until the figs are clear. Add one pound of walnut meats broken in small pieces, pour into hot jars, cool and seal.

BAKED CRAB MEAT

C. O. A., Pasadena, asks for our recipe for baked crab meat.

Mix two cupfuls of flaked cooked crab meat with four tablespoonfuls of fine bread or cracker crumbs, the chopped yolks of four hard-boiled eggs, the strained juice of two lemons, one teaspoonful of mustard, a seasoning of salt and paprika, and one and one-half cupfuls of drawn butter. Fill scallops shells with the mixture, sprinkle with bread crumbs, dot with bits of butter and bake to a nice brown in a hot oven.

CRUMB GRIDDLE CAKES

Cover one cupful of bread with two cupfuls of milk and let stand ten minutes. Beat well the yolks of two eggs and beat into them half of the milk mixture and one cupful of sifted flour sifted with two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, half a teaspoonful of salt and one tablespoonful of butter; beat well, beat in the balance of the milk mixture, one tablespoonful of melted butter and the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Bake on a hot griddle.

CANTALOUPE COCKTAIL

Fill cocktail glasses two-thirds full with balls cut from a firm ripe cantaloupe with a vegetable cutter, fill the glass with equal parts of peeled and diced peaches, diced pineapple and peeled and seeded grapes. Pour over all chilled orange juice, chill thoroughly and garnish with a cherry.

BREAST OF VEAL

Have the butcher make a pocket in a breast of veal and fill with two cupfuls of bread crumbs mixed with four tablespoonfuls of melted butter, half a cupful of finely chopped cooked bacon, one teaspoonful of finely chopped parsley, half a teaspoonful of salt, a quarter of a teaspoonful of paprika and one tablespoonful of chopped capers. Cover the bottom of a baking pan with one sliced onion, one sliced carrot, two chopped stalks of celery, half a bay leaf and two branches of parsley. Lay in the prepared veal, season with salt and pepper, dot with two tablespoonfuls of butter broken in small bits and bake in a moderate oven one hour, basting often. Lift out the veal to a hot platter; add to the pan one cupful of soup stock, boil five minutes and strain over the meat.

APPLE WASHINGTON PIE

Beat the yolks of two eggs until light and creamy and beat into them two tablespoonfuls of milk; when well mixed beat in slowly, beating constantly, one cupful of sugar and beat smooth. Add one teaspoonful of lemon extract and beat in one and a half cupfuls of sifted flour sifted with one level teaspoonful of baking powder and a few grains of salt. Pour into two buttered and floured layer cake tins and bake in a moderate oven. Turn out on a wire rack, cool and spread between the layers a mixture made by grating two large peeled apples and beating until thick with two egg whites, the strained juice of half a lemon and one cupful of sugar. To serve cut in wedge-shaped pieces and place on top a serving of vanilla ice cream.

GINGERBREAD

Cream one cupful of butter with one cupful of sugar and one cupful of molasses, add one cupful of boiling water and stir until cold. Add to these two well-beaten eggs and beat in four and a half cupfuls of sifted flour sifted with one teaspoonful of baking soda, one teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of ground ginger, two tablespoonfuls of ground cinnamon and half a tablespoonful of ground cloves. Bake in a shallow buttered pan or muffin tins.

COULDN'T BLAME HIM FOR ELEPHANT'S COLOR

Old circus men are fond of relating how the white elephant of the Barnum & Bailey greatest was brought into the country. The coming of the sacred elephant had been heralded for days. Finally the ship was sighted and the press department took a bunch of newspaper writers down the bay to meet the great card of next season's show. P. T. Barnum himself was in the party. All hands were taken aboard and then down into the dim light of the hold to look at the pure white specimen from India. Then a dinner followed at which the grape was a feature. Then another look at the elephant to see if he was still white. While this was going on a doubting newspaper man remarked to Mr. Barnum that he did not think the elephant was so darned white.

"Well," replied the circus man, "I'll tell you. This reminds me of the times up Bridgeport way when I was sparking. I noticed at a surprise party one night a very pretty girl who had remarkable color in her cheeks, and I said to my boy friend: 'I wonder if that peach bloom is real.'

"To my dismay, the girl heard the remark and, turning to me, she said with a snap, 'Phineas Barnum, God made that color in my cheeks.'"

Continuing, Mr. Barnus said: "Boys, God made this white elephant. I assure you had he been made by Mr. Bailey and myself he would be as white as the driven snow."—[Wells Hawks in Collier's.

AMERICANS QUIT BAKU OIL FIELDS

Impossible for Barnsdall to Operate Under Soviet; Drillers on Way Here

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 19.—The International Barnsdall Corporation of America, which was given the oil concessions near Baku by the soviets a year ago, has surrendered definitely the concession and is withdrawing from Russia because it is impossible to work in Russia under the soviet regime.

Most of the twenty expert American oil drillers who were taken to Baku by the Barnsdall company, passed through Constantinople en route to their homes in California.

They report that the soviets are bringing in many new wells, but the Baku refineries are in poor condition and there is a great shortage of tank cars.

All are skeptical of the soviets' statement that production in the Baku region reached 50 per cent of the 1913 total, believing that it was nearer 25 per cent. The Americans were the only foreigners working oil wells in the Baku region during the entire year. The Baku-Batum kerosene pipe line is now working at 50 per cent capacity.

THE KITCHEN MARATHON

Put a pedometer on the housewife. An Iowa woman tried it. The pedometer told her things. The kitchen marathon, according to the truth-telling device, averaged more than five miles a day. This long-distance hiking on domestic errands was a revelation to all concerned. Best of all, it taught the woman a lesson. She began to use her "noodle" to better advantage. She reasoned that, like the red ant, on the hot rock, she was skiting hither and thither a good part of the time on bootless trips and needless or repetitive quests. Studying her kitchen equipment, the processes and methods long employed, the woman with the pedometer set about the business of rearranging and rerouting her outfit and her activities. Having revamped her household economy, the wise woman put on the pedometer and it informed her that she had cut her daily marathon in half, and she was doing the same work while hiking only two miles and a half. Once more the low rocker holds out its arms to mother and a lot of time cannily saved from the "rush" is employed in reading, writing and the comparative serenities of sewing, patching and darning. And, at that, it is probable that two miles and a half a day supplies sufficient exercise.—[Lafayette Courier and Journal.

OPEN PLAY FOR MARSTON'S CUP

National Golf Championship Starts Today

First 18 Holes of Qualifying Round Scheduled

Willie Hunter Considered a Strong Contender

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ARDMORE (Pa.) Sept. 19.—A week's international battle for the United States amateur golf championship begins tomorrow, at the Merion Cricket Club with 166 entrants of proved ability to compete.

Having just been defeated in polo and team golf, Great Britain will make its last effort of the year in this tournament for sporting honors in competition with the United States and the threat of the title going across the water for the first time since Harold H. Hilton won it in 1911 is by no means slight.

BRITISH ENTRANTS

Seventeen British subjects, including ten members of the Walker Cup team, are entered. Among them stand out the mighty hitting Cyril J. H. Tolley, open champion of France and conqueror of the American amateur champion, Maxwell R. Marston, in the recent Walker Cup tournament; Eustace F. Storey, Cambridge University captain, and the Hon. Michael Scott, who has held various Australian titles and defeated the New York star, Jess Sweetser, in the Walker Cup series.

There are four Canadian competitors, including the Dominion's champion, Frank Thompson, of Toronto. William I. Hunter, former British amateur champion who in recent years has lived in Los Angeles, is among the other dangers to home-bred amateurs. The champion of Panama, Edmund L. Koperski, also is entered.

At his home club, which now numbers among its members both the women's and the men's amateur champions, Max Marston will defend the title he won at Flossmoor last year with sensational triumps over Bobby Jones, Francis Ouimet, and Jess Sweetser. Marston's game this season has been worthy of a champion, but few titleholders have been able to repeat, especially in successive seasons.

LARGE FIELD

The field, the largest ever entered, is so extensive that there will be two days of play in the qualifying round. Everybody will do 18 holes tomorrow, rest or practice Sunday, and play 18 more Monday. The thirty-two returning the lowest medal scores will remain in the tournament.

If conditions are good an entrant must break eighty twice in order to be certain of qualifying.

IN MEMORIAM NOT TO START IN RACE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CINCINNATI (O.) Sept. 19.—In Memoriam, conqueror of Zev, and My Own at Latonia last year, will not go east to engage in the second international at Aqueduct. The rangy son of McGee came out of his race last week slightly lame, Trainer Bob Gilmore announced today. As the result, it is not likely In Memoriam will be a starter in the third international at Latonia October 11, when Epinard comes west to race over the mile and a quarter route against a field of America's best distance horses.

SAN DIEGO GRIDDER HAS SKULL FRACTURED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 19.—Millard Grossman, 17, quarterback of the Sweetwater Union High School, suffered the first serious accident of the local football season yesterday when his skull was fractured during a practice game between the students and the Marine Corps eleven. Grossman, tackled hard while carrying the ball, struck heavily on his head. He was taken to a hospital where it was said today his condition was slightly improved.

SHELBURNE POLOISTS EASILY TAKE MATCH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WESTBURY (N. Y.) Sept. 19.—The Shelburne polo quartet overwhelmingly defeated Middle Neck Farm, 12 goals to 2 today, in the opening contest of the tournament for the open championship of America. J. W. Webb and F. H. Prince, Jr., each scored four goals.

ENNANT RACE MAY DEFER OPENING OF WORLD SERIES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 19.—The closeness of the major-league [illegible] may necessitate a delay in the arrangements for the opening of the world series, Judge K. M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, said here today.

"Because of the tightness of the league pennant races it may be necessary to wait until the very last day of the season before the teams who are to compete in the world's championship series are known," the commissioner said.

"It is planned to start the series on October 2 or 3, but if we must wait until the last day of the season, there is a question whether all plans for the world series can be made in one day, Sunday, so that the series can start Thursday, October 3."

CHANGE IN GRID RULE ANNOUNCED

February Revision Brings Up Unusual Situation and Results in Shift

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—A change in the football rules for 1924, which permits the receiving eleven to be behind a line ten yards in front of the point from which the kickoff is made, no matter what yard line is chosen by the kicking team, was announced today by Chairman E. K. Hall of the American intercollegiate football rules committee.

The following clause is added to Section III, Rule 8, and is effective immediately: "In case the kickoff is made from a point behind the middle of the field the opponents shall be behind a line ten yards in front of the spot from which the kick is made."

In 1923 and for several years previous, the rules provide that a team should kick off from its own forty-yard line at a point equidistant from the sidelines. At the meeting of the rules committee last February the kicking point was placed at midfield, artificial tees were abolished and the opposing eleven was restrained on its own forty-yard line.

It was then suggested that on a muddy field it might be difficult to get a good kick without the use of an artificial tee and accordingly the rule was changed to provide that the kickoff might be made from the middle of the field or "any point directly back of it," thus making it possible to go back such distance as might be necessary to get a firm spot for the kick.

Immediately coaches and officials foresaw a result that might cause some serious gridiron situations this fall. The rules were studied closely and it was learned that while the opposing team was restrained on its forty-yard line the kicking eleven might retreat to any part of its territory, directly behind the center of the midfield line, make a short kick and recover the the ball itself at midfield, the kicking team being permitted to recover after the ball has traveled ten yards.

A telegraphic poll of the rules committee members was taken and the situation was relieved legally by lifting the forty-yard restriction on the receiving eleven. The receivers may now range ten yards from the points of kickoff at all times.

This and many other phrases of the new rules will be considered by the eastern football officials in their annual interpretation meeting here tomorrow night.

STRUB WILL LEAD SEALS IN PERSON

Wednesday he sat on the players' bench — the club won — and now Strub, who, like all baseball men is a bit superstitious, doesn't think it will do any harm to continue viewing his performers from the dugout.

NATIONALISTA TROUNCED

Teddy Silva Decisively Mauls Filipino in Feature Event at Holly Stadium; Carter Wins

Teddy Silva gave Young Nationalista a thorough licking in the main event at the Hollywood Stadium last night before a packed house. In the clash there was no doubt about Teddy's supremacy. His victory was tarnished somewhat by rough tactics in the third round when it looked as if he threw the Filipino to the floor. To many at the ringside, however, it looked like an accident.

Nationalista started in the first round with his usual wild stampede and windmill swinging and had a slight edge in the aggressive line. He still looked good in the second, when he caught Teddy with a right cartwheel that placed the local lad on his back.

UP LIKE FLASH

Teddy was up like a rubber ball and soaked his man with a hard left to the jaw. In the third session, Silva went after the foreigner for fair. He made the islander appear as if he weren't in the same class. He floored Nationalista twice —one of the knock downs was apparently a push—the last time toppling him over with a right, flush to the chin. In the final session he had Nationalista groggy and all in and won by a big margin.

At the end of the fourth bout, the crowd stood with bared heads while a bugler blew taps in memorium to Frank Chance and Jimmy Murphy.

TOMMY WINS

In the semi-wind-up, Tommy Carter removed the gilt from Johnny Reisler's ginger cake. In the first round Johnny tied Tommy up in the clinches and almost sent him home C.O.D. In the second, however, Carter let loose some fisticuffs and began frescoing Johnny's mush with lefts. He socked Reisler hard with a left to the jaw and made him wince. He then followed it up with a beaut of a right to the chin. In the third session Carter continued to hold his advantage—in fact, he led almost the entire journey and earned an easy decision.

RIGHT TO POINT

Nate Schlott knocked out Bud Forrester in the second round with a terrific right hook on the point. Bud was down once in the second before the final blow was delivered, but jumped right up. Nate then sailed in fast with a volley of straight lefts and timing things nicely, shot over the squeegee. A chill December wind set in just as Forrester sought surcease of care on the ruthless floor.

Red Williams was awarded a verdict over Jack Lee, who substituted for Joe Martinez. Lee is a rough customer as a rule, but that toughness, which holds sway in Portland, loses its potency when shipped far over the mountains to Los Angeles. The argument was a mauling match most of the journey with a little mayhem thrown in at times to make the mixture good and thick. Lee looked good in the first canto, but after that Red began to pump 'em hard into the stomach and scored enough points to get the decision.

Joe Pimenthal, substituting for Billy Hart, gave Young Danny an awful thumping. In the first round, Danny held a petting party with the canvas twice. Joe, perplexed in the extreme that his famous right had been untrue to him, let it go a notch farther in

MECHANICS WIN FROM INGLEWOOD

Poly Gridders Capture Grid Scrap 14-0; Jack Murphy Breaks Arm

Evading the curious and any would-be onlookers by the simple ruse of allowing his second team to play the game scheduled with Roosevelt at Poly High, Coach Voyle Brennan packed his first string men into machines and hauled them out to Inglewood, where they smashed through the latter's eleven for a 14-to-0 win in the first practice game of the season.

The victory was costly for the Blue and Gold eleven, for Jack Murphy, star 175-pound halfback, who was rated as one of the Mechanics' best bets this fall, broke his arm and will be out for the rest of the season. Murphy was going like a whirlwind when the accident occurred.

Inglewood started the fireworks kicking off to Poly who ran the ball back to the 40-yard line. After a couple line smashes the Mechanics lost the ball on a fumble. Inglewood now took the pigskin and by a series of line bucks and end runs made first down twice. Inglewood fumbled and the Mechanics, who were on the ball all the time, promptly recovered. Poly punted out of danger, and Inglewood's safety man, who received the boot, dropped it. The Blue and Gold recovered. The first quarter ended nothing all.

In the second quarter the Mechanics, by a series of off-tackle bucks and short end runs, smashed their way through their lighter opponents for a touchdown and then converted. The battle for the rest of the quarter was about even, and the half ended with Poly on the long end of a 7-to-0 score.

Polytechnic's second touchdown came in the last quarter when they again went ploughing down the field, crashing off eight and ten yards at a time on bucks and short end runs. The Mechanics converted which made the score 14 to 0 in their favor.

Firpo Denies Everything on Witness Stand

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—For three hours today Luis Angel Firpo, the Argentine boxer, explained on the witness stand at Ellis Island his defense against the charges of bringing a woman into this country last year and of lying about it when he returned this year. After him, his interpreter, Juan Homes, was quizzed for half an hour.

Upon leaving Firpo appeared in much better spirits than when he arrived, and his attorney, Hyman Bushell, praised the manner in which W. W. Brown, chief of the station's legal division, had handled the hearing.

He said that Firpo "denied everything."

BEALS BECKER GOES TO SEATTLE INDIANS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE, Sept. 19. — Beals Becker, an outfielder of the Sacramento baseball club of the Pacific Coast League, and a former National League and American Association player, has been obtained by Seattle, Charley Lockard, president of the Indians, announced today.

WASHINGTON GAINS A FULL GAME ON YANKS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—By hitting six Brown pitchers freely and taking advantage of four lucky breaks, the Washington team took today's game here, 15 to 9, and thus regained the undisputed lead of the American League, due to the Yankees' defeat by Detroit.

The Senators started the game in hard-hitting fashion, batting Dixie Davis and Van Gilder from the box before the side was retired in the opening inning. Fourteen men of the visiting team faced the three Browns' pitchers of this inning, in which the Senators scored nine runs. Two singles by McNeely, one each by Goslin, Rice, Harris and Judge, a double by Peckinpaugh, two passes, a hit batsman and McManus's bad throw to the plate gave the Senators a commanding lead of nine runs in the opening frame

Three more runs were added in the fifth on four successive singles by McNeely, Rice, Harris and Goslin, a walk and a hit batsman. One more score in the seventh on a pass, a double and a sacrifice, and two more in the eighth on two singles and a double ended the visitors' scoring.

The Browns counted four of their runs in the fourth inning when Mogridge was driven from the box and relieved by Marberry. Four straight singles by Robertson, Sisler, Williams and McManus, and Gerber's double produced the four runs. One each in the fifth and eighth and three in the seventh finished the Browns, run of scoring.

In all, the visiting team collected eighteen hits off the six Brown pitchers. It was the first time of the season Recruit Lasley was called on by Manager Sisler in order to help stop the enemy's onslaught of base hits after Davis, Van Gilder, Lyons, Kelp and Grant had failed to hold the Senators. TRIM YANKS

DETROIT (Mich.) Sept. 19.—A smashing finish that drove Sam Jones from the box in the eighth and brought the winning run home in the ninth on a single off Hoyt resulted in the defeat of the New York Yankees, 6 to 5, today by Detroit. The defeat dropped New York into second place.

With the score tied Cobb started the winning rally in the last of the ninth, grounding to Dugan. The Tiger manager went all the way to third when Dugan overthrew first base. Heilmann and Rigney were purposely passed and then Haney, who entered the game in the eighth to run for Pratt, singled Cobb home with the deciding counter.

VENICE TO SWIM FOR COAST CUP

Swimmers Enter Period of Intensive Training for Brookside Event

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VENICE, Sept. 19.—With an eye on the Pacific Coast indoor swimming championships which will be contested in the Brookside Park pool of Pasadena on Wednesday evening, October 1, members of the Venice Plunge Swimming Association, winners of the Coast outdoor title, staged recently at San Diego, have entered a period of intensive training.

Coach Elmer Orr is confident that his entrants will give the remainder of the field a close run for initial honors. The most dreaded rivals will come from San Francisco, the home of the Olympic Club, and the stamping grounds for such noted exponents of the splash as Jack Robertson, Lester Smith, George Schroth and others.

The Venice club is not without its Olympic champions and near champions. Wallace O'Connor, recent winner of the Coast 220-yard swim, was rated second best man on Uncle Sam's 800-meter relay team which set up a new record for the distance in competition at Les Tournelles. O'Connor will swim the 500-yard race for Coach Orr, and will be one of the main cogs in the relay machine.

Reginald Harrison, Coast fifty and 100-yard dash swimmer, and Philip Daubenspeck, the only merman in the Southland to score a triumph over the visiting contingent of Hawaiians, will comprise the Venetian sprinting strength. The last two named contenders usually finish with less than a foot between their respective placings.

The backstroke will find Venice without an entry. The breaststroke gives Venice the opportunity of displaying the prowess of the Coast 220-yard titleholder, William Fair. Fenton Hamilton and Norton Thornton will crowd their teammate for prizes in the sailor style paddling.

George Wolf for the 500-yard event, and Hal Phillips, who took first place in the Coast fifty-yard free style for juniors, completes the entry list in the men's swimming. Harold Bandy will participate in the men's ten-foot springboard diving. Bandy took a first place in the Coast dives.

For mermaid representation, the seaside city enters Thelma Finn, who not only boasts a recent victory in the Coast fifty-yard trial, but who can also lay claim to being one of the veterans of the Southland's aquatic colony. Thelma has been a swimmer of first rank since prep days.

Coach Frank Rivas's Olympic crew is rated to bother the fleet team from Venice. Tom Blake, Jerry Witt, Paul Drummond, Thomas Nelson, Lee Jarvis, Fletcher, and possible unknown quantities from various corners of the State will do much to lessen the chances of the Canal City for repetition in Coast triumphs. Swim club mentors, however, may be depended upon to quiver a bit when the announcer introduces contenders from the city of "water Paddocks."

DYAS TO HANDLE GRID DUCATS FOR COLLEGES

Through the courtesy of the B. H. Dyas Company, local universities and the conference colleges will have tickets to football games on sale at the Log Cabin bureau.

The institutions to have tickets at the Dyas Bureau are: California Institute of Technology, U.S.C., California University, southern branch, Pomona, Whittier, Occidental, Redlands University and Christian College.

M'GRAW WILL BE ALLOWED TO FIGHT IN LAMBS' CLUB AGAIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Acting on a petition of 300 members, the Lambs' Club board of governors today, on the third anniversary of the expulsion from the organization of John J. McGraw, reinstated the Giants' manager to membership. McGraw some months ago made written application for reinstatement.

McGraw was ousted following a brawl in the club in which, it is alleged, Billy Boyd, an actor member, licked the baseball man. Afterward, McGraw, still full of battle and other things, knocked down John A. Slavin, who had escorted him home, and Slavin, in falling, sustained a fractured skull and came near dying.

Subsequently Wilton Lackaye, the actor, went to the McGraw home to offer condolences and emerged with a fractured ankle. Lackaye has been a strong objector to McGraw's reinstatement, and recently announced he would get out of the organization if McGraw was permitted to return.

Jimmy Christian Blanks San Francisco With Five Hits; Vernon Wins by 2 to

Pete Schneider Hits Homer in Opening Frame

Wildness Responsible for Other Vernon Run

Williams Hurls Good Ball for Loop Leaders

BY ROBERT E. RAY

Jimmy Christian, who hails from the wilds of Oklahoma, where Indians and oil wells both flourish, hooked up with Lefty Williams, who also hails from Oklahoma, in a nifty pitching duel yesterday, and Jimmy came out on top by turning in a 2-to-0 win over the Seals for Bill Essick's crew. Christian's ability to hold the Seals scoreless, while his mates were chalking up two tallies evened up the series at two-all.

The Seals outhit the Bengals, 5 to 4, but one of the Vernon wallops, a home run over the fence by Pete Schneider in the first inning, was worth more than all the San Francisco bingles. Schneider's circuit clout, which cleared the fence on the centerfield side of the scoreboard, spoiled Williams's chance for victory, but Lefty didn't know and kept on pitching good ball, except for a brief spell in the second when he grew wild.

Bert Ellison, who pilots the Seals and leads the league in hitting, was the only visitor to consistently solve Christian's offerings. Ellison drove out a double and two singles in four attempts, but Bert's playmates couldn't hit behind him. At that, Ellison was the only Seal to get to third base.

SCHNEIDER STARS

For the Bengals Schneider did most of the hitting, poking out a single aside from his rome run. Gordon Slade, who played short in place of Warner yesterday, and Charley Deal were the only other Tigers to get hits. Slade got his off Williams, while Deal's came off Crockett, who hurled the eighth for the Seals after Yelle had batted for Williams.

In only two innings did the Seals have chances to score off Christian, and on both occasions Jimmy settled down and pitched air-tight ball. Ellison started the second by slamming a double against the leftfield fence. Waner flied to Oliver, and then Schorr grounded to Griffin, Ellison taking third. That left it up to Kilduff, but Pete was tossed out by Slade to end the inning. Then in the eighth Kilduff led off with a two-base knock, but perished on the sacks when Christian fanned Ritchie and retired Yelle, batting for Williams, and Kelly.

Vernon scored its first run in the opening frame when Schneider sailed the ball out of the park for a round-trip ticket with no stopover privileges.

WILLIAMS WILD

Williams's wildness accounted for the second Tiger run, which was scored in the second inning without the aid of a hit. After Mulligan had tossed out Deal, Lefty walked McDowell, Chadbourne and Griffin, pitching but one strike to the three men. Christian hit an easy roller to Williams and the stage was set for a double killing, but the ball skidded off Lefty's glove and Williams had to be satisfied with getting Christian at first, McDowell scoring.

Mulligan's error put two Tigers on base in the fifth, but there were two out at the time and McDowell spoiled the chance to score by popping to Rhyne. Slade started the seventh with a hit to center, but expired on first while Schneider, Oliver and Hannah flied out. Deal opened the eighth by swatting a double off Crocker, but McDowell flied to Waner and Chadbourne lined to Mulligan, who tagged Deal for a double play to end that chance.

Either Ed Bryan or A. Rankin Johnson will hurl for Essick today, while Shea or Griffin will probably chuck for the Seals. Score:

BERLENBACH STOPS REDDICK IN EIGHTH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Paul Berlenbach, New York light heavyweigh, knocked out Jack Reddick of Toronto, Can., in the eighth round of a twelve-round match at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The end came after one minute and twenty-four seconds of fighting in the concluding round when one of Berlenbach's heavy rights landed solidly to Reddick's body and the Canadian boy crumpled in a battered heap in his corner.

Reddick had Berlenbach almost out in the sixth round with a series of right-hand punches. But Berlenbach gamely rallied, came back strong in the seventh round and started his drive that eventually brought about the finishing blow. Berlenbach weighed 169½ and Reddick 168½.

In a ten-round seminal Billy Britton of Columbus, Kan., was given a judges' decision over Charlie Nashert of Jersey City.

WILD RIDE CAUSES JOCKEY MUCH GRIEF

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Lester Fator, the jockey who was fined $50 today for driving his automobile while intoxicated, and who had his driver's license revoked, was served last night with summons in two $10,000 damage actions which are consequences of the traffic accident which caused his arrest.

P. E. BALL NINE TO START PLAY AGAIN

After a two-weeks' vacation, the Pacific Electric baseball team resumes play Sunday afternoon, when Manager Charlie Hill leads his club against the fast Pasadena Paint nine at Brookside Park, Pasadena.

The railroaders have been traveling at a fast gait in recent games and although they lost their star battery, Jensen and Allec, who have left to attend Georgetown University, Washington, D.C., their absence will not hurt the club's strength, as Pitcher Joe Clink and Catcher Don Houston, its new battery, rank with the best of semi-pro batteries in Southern California.

A WISE YOUTH

An Indiana mother was trying to put her young son to bed recently and the little fellow was in very festive humor outwitting his mother in every maneuver to induce him to lie down quietly. Visioning the future of the lad who already displayed such unusual finesse, the mother folded her hands, dropped her head and closed her eyes in a moment of silent prayer.

To her surprise the little fellow had in the meantime cuddled down among the covers and as she reached to give him the good-night kiss there was a tear in his eye as he clasped his arms around her neck and said: "That's the time Jesus put one over on me, wasn't it mother?"—[Indianapolis News.

Late Rallies Give Mormons Double-Header

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SALT LAKE, Sept. 19.—Making two sensational finishes, Salt Lake today won a double-header from Portland, 12 to 11 and 8 to 7. In the ninth inning of the first game, John Peters, Salt Lake catcher, knocked the ball out of the lot for a homer, thus winning for his team, and in the second contest, Perry, a recruit pitcher, hit a single which scored the winning run in the last frame.

In the first contest the Bees overcame a ten-run lead. Scores:

NIPS ROMANCES

Wyandotte Marriage License Clerk Has a "Black List"

Suspended romances of youth appear on a sheet of paper that hangs constantly on a wall next to the desk of Bernadotte Anderson, marriage license clerk of Wyandotte County. On the sheet are typewritten at present thirty-two names, each with an address and an age. There is not another word on the page. No explanation.

The names on the paper are those of youths in the early "teens," who have been beckoned by the irresistible call of love. Their parents or guardians have forbidden their marriage and fear that they will seek to wed has prompted the parents to warn the clerk not to issue the licenses.

The list is larger now than it has been at any time during the last year, according to Mr. Anderson. Summertime, with its glorious nights, its freedom of school cares, is responsible for the large number of names, says the marriage license clerk.

"The list is not in vain," Mr. Anderson said. "It often prevents an unwise marriage.

"Parents usually know what is best for their son or daughter. The passing of a few months ordinarily wipes out the cruel thoughts of the disappointed lovers and they thank their parents and me for having intervened."—[Kansas City Star.

Small Coin Scarce in Manchuria

In some parts of Manchuria, where copper coins are scarce, matches and postage stamps are used as currency in making small purchases. The value of the copper coins is about 160 to the American dollar and small shops in one of the cities are granted loans of several hundred dollars' worth of these coppers by the local banks.

INJURIES HIT TROJANS

LeFevbre and Cook Hurt in Practice; Varsity to Take Frosh in Scrimmage Today

BY BRAVEN DYER

The first U.S.C. casualty was reported last night when Henry LeFebvre, stocky and hard-hitting halfback, received a broken finger while catching punts. As a result of the busted digit "Hank" may have to sit on the bench when the Trojans meet California Tech at the Coliseum a week from today.

Le Febvre was at one end of field catching the punts of Otto Anderson. He had his hands extended as all good receivers do, but in some manner the little finger on his left hand stuck itself too far out and the ball did the rest. He'll have to carry the finger in splints for some time, which isn't calculated to help a halfback pack a ball around in the best approved methods.

TOUGH BREAK

Later in practice, Bill Cook, who has been showing all kinds of promise at full, skidded on the green grass and fractured his shoulder. That's a worse break than LeFevbre's injury, as the shoulder may continue to bother Cook even after he is well enough to return to actual play. Shoulders have a bad habit of getting hurt and staying that way. Cook is the former Stanford star and it is hoped that he will be back in the game soon minus none of his effectiveness.

Coach Elmer Henderson will put his athletes through a stiff afternoon of scrimmage today, starting about 4 o'clock. Just at present he is working Capt. Hawkins at quarter, Newman and LeFebvre as halfbacks and Johnny Riddle at full. LeFebvre's injury will probably result in Manuel Laranetta getting into the game today to start with, while Bert Heiser, another of last year's frosh stars, is sure to be seen at full. Bob Lee and Otto Anderson will see action also.

Leo Calland and A. J. Sterzenegger are putting the linemen through their paces nightly. Norman Anderson and Fay Thomas already look like fixtures at the tackle berths. Ted Gorrell and Al Behrendt seem to have the edge on the other guard candidates at this time and both will probably start in tonight's scrimmage against the frosh. Jeff Cravath has been doing center duty in the absence of Holly Adams, while Hayden Phythian and Gene Dorsey look mighty good at the wing positions. Dorsey's kicking makes him a valuable man to have on the squad.

SWEET OUTFIT

Chet Dolley, frosh mentor, has a sweet outfit to throw against the varsity. In the backfield Dolley will introduce Morley Drury, former Long Beach star. Drury has been chanting signals along with Vic Orsatti, the ex-Manual Arts whirlwind. One of the two and perhaps both will be seen in action.

Golindo, the great ball-packing ace from San Diego, will hold down full for the peag greens, with Howard Elliott, who did most of Glendale's offensive work last year, and O'Malley, late of Venice, on either side of him. The line will be big, but will probably lack experience.

PLATINUM IN SOUTH AFRICA

In the Transvaal platinum has been discovered in quantities thought to be large enough to create a substantial reduction in the price of this precious metal. The discovery was made by a prospector on a farm which had formerly yielded gold and tin. This is the first time the metal has been found in Africa in commercial quantities. The lodes are known to extend for a distance of ten to fifteen miles, with many surface outcrops. The ore averages about nine troy ounces to the short ton, although some samples have yielded as high as 137 ounces.

Economically the discovery is of great importance. Although almost indispensable in many chemical operations, and especially desired for further research in the fixation of atmospheric nitrogen, the cost of platinum is very high. More than half the total product is now used in jewelry since platinum rings and settings have become popular, and the demand from jewelers fixes the price, which has risen to about $100 an ounce or about five times that of gold.

BUD TAYLOR IN DEBUT

Indiana Sensation to Meet Georgie Rivers at Vernon Tuesday Night

When the gong rings for the main event at Vernon next Tuesday night, Los Angeles boxing fans will get a peek at the boy who is touted by eastern and middle western boxing critics as the most dangerous contender to the bantamweight crown now worn by Pancho Villa. Bud Taylor, the Terre Haute (Ind.) sensation, will make his first Coast appearance and the fans are all hopped up over the prospect of watching him in action.

Matchmaker Hayden Wadhams has selected Georgie Rivers, local banty, as Bud's first opponent, and the hard-punching little Los Angeles boy is determined to stop Taylor's march toward the top of the bantamweight heap. Taylor, in thirty starts in the last two years, has dropped but two decisions, one to Eddie O'Dowd of Cleveland and the other to the champion. In two other no-decision starts against Villa, however, Bud won the favor of newspaper critics.

Young Datto, Filipino lightweight star, will go into the semi-wind-up with Walter Rooney and supporters of these boys are anticipating a lot of action before the four rounds are over. Datto is a big favorite with Vernon fans and Rooney carries a big following as the result of recent battles among Coast lightweights.

Danny Martin, northern bantamweight, will tangle with Young Farrell in the special event. Farrell is the kind of battler Vernon patrons have always liked and will be a slight favorite over Martin for no other reason.

Fred Winsor will start his heavyweight, Tony Fuente, against Harry Lee, a beach life guard, in the fourth spot in a trial that is expected to show whether the Mexican is all that Winsor has claimed for him. They will scale at about 175 pounds. The balance of the card is:

Paul Hardy vs. Sammy Lee, 122.
Eddie Crozier vs. Kid Milo, 135
Jimmy Roberts vs. Johnny LaRose, 118.

REDLANDS PREPS IN GRIDIRON COMPETITION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

REDLANDS, Sept. 19.—Coach Malcolm Smith of Redlands High School has over sixty football candidates on the field. Coach Bill Yount, in charge of the lightweights, has about forty aspirants. Redlands was runner-up for the football championship last year but Smith lost at least half of his first-string men.

Claude Falkiner, the English professional billiardist, who is making a tour of Australia, played sensationally recently to win from Walter Lindrum, Australian champion, by 16,000 points to 15,574, in Sydney.

Acorns Bunch Safeties and Upset Angels

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

OAKLAND, Sept. 19.—Oakland made it three out of four when they defeated Los Angeles here today, 6 to 3. The game was a seesaw affair with Los Angeles taking the lead in the sixth inning on Durst's homer, Spencer's double and Krug's single. Four runs were scored by the Oaks in their half of the sixth, a freak play occurring when Bratcher was hit in the back by Whaley's throw from right field to third. Bratcher scored on the play when the ball rolled into the dugout and Arlett took third. A double, a single, an error by Krug and a sacrifice fly accounted for three more runs. The score:

HOUDINI

Artist Gets Some Thrills While Sketching Magic Man

I am about to enter the house of Houdini, writes Gonzales, the artist, in the Brooklyn Eagle. One door opens, but still I can't get in. A door closes behind me; another silently opens before me, and I fined myself going up a dark stairway. I stumble. Everything is mystic. Shadows, quiet, intrigue.

Gosh! Hope I can come alive out of this macigian's house.

Houdini is the guy who can get loose from chains and padlocks. He can be nailed in a coffin, refuse to get buried and set himself free.

Small blue eyes, curly hair and with a thin mouth that is all upper lip; the lower doesn't show.

I am drawing him. He slices my pencil in two with a folded greenback.

The chair on which I sit crumbles under me and I fall flat on the floor. A bunch of handkerchiefs tie themselves into knots when Houdini waves a hand. Houdini takes a penknife and slices his thumb off and not a drop of blood is seen. A trick light flashes in my eyes and I don't know what is happening.

An unseen hand must hit me on the head with a blackjack before I lose my sense of exaggeration.

Houdini takes a couple of eggs out of my chest I didn't know had been there before and makes my ears shed silver dollars.

I have done my sketch and hand it over to Houdini for his signature. He signs. With a snap of the finger he makes my pencil disappear into his own pocket. Pretty easy for some guys.

"It's all a trick. Everything is a trick. I am not supernatural. There is no bunk in my tricks. They are simply good tricks," says Houdini, as I stumbled out of his magic house.

An Emphatic Denial

We want to deny emphatically that story about how we stood up the other afternoon when the Nighthawks swung into "It Ain't a-Goin' to Hain no More."

We are willing to admit that we have to stop and think a moment before we can tell the difference between "America" and "The Star-Spangled Banner," and we get more or less confused over some of the other patriotic airs, but we claim to know this weather prediction song when we hear it.

The man who did stand up on that occasion claims he got a cramp in his leg just at that time and had to stand up to get straightened out again.—[Nate Reece in Pratt (Mo.) Tribune.

JOE RUNS OUT

Joe Mandot was given a demerit for laughing out loud in the beginning of the fourth round. For three rounds he had milled against Champ Monroe, substituting for Sid Boniface. To the surprise of every one present he walked out on the gang at the beginning of the fourth round, accentuating his amble by groaning that the referee had overlooked four fouls delivered by Champ—fouls against which Joe's tender body reneged. The most astounded persons present were Mandot's rubber and wisdom thrower. The decision then went to Monroe.

CAMP PERRY (O.) Sept. 19.—The Wimbledon small bore match held today was won by Virgil Richara, civilian, of Pittsburg, Pa., with a possible score of 100, having 14 V's in the inner circle of the bull's eye.

The United States Navy team won the enlisted men's team match with a score of 560 out of a possible 600.

The Reserve Officers' Training Corps team match opened today with ten teams entered, and will be finished tomorrow. At the close of the first two stages the Third Corps area of Baltimore was leading.

In the civilian military training camp team match, the Eighth Corps area, Omaha, Neb., is holding first place. This match will be finished tomorrow over the 1000-yard range.

Lieut. R. B. Vermette, United States Infantry, Fort Williams, Portland, Me., won first place in the 25-yard time fire re-entry pistol match with a score of 492 out of a possible 500.

Lieut. Sydney Hands, United States Infantry, won first place in the 50-yard free pistol re-entry match, scoring 98 out of a possible 100, which score, it is said, has never been equalled in the United States.

TULARE YOUNGSTERS TAKE TO GRIDIRON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TULARE, Sept. 19.—A new record was set for local gridiron squads when fifty-six football candidates registered with Coach Arthur Fagin at the high school. On two previous occasions the registration has run above the forty mark, but more than unusual enthusiasm has been shown with the shattered record.

Of this number thirty-one were in Class C, the remaining twenty-five being in Classes A or B. Practice will begin at once, but will be fairly light during the first ten days, gradually becoming heavier as condition of the candidates improves and the weather turns cooler.

WHY WE SHIVER

Shivering is an automatic reaction to chill on the part of the bodily machine of man or animal. It is an emergency measure for keeping warm. We feel cold, we shiver and shudder violently, this violent motion exercises our muscles, stimulates blood circulation and that raises the bodily temperature, and we feel warmer.

This fact was stressed by Dr. W. B. Cannon and Dr. A. Querido of Harvard, who discussed the means at the disposal of animals for keeping their bodies always at an even, uniform temperature. The learned doctors showed that the secretion of the adrenal glands, which are small bodies situated near the kidneys, is increased whenever there is liability of lowered temperature through loss of heat from the body.

When animals, deprived of the use of adrenal glands, are threatened with chilling they shiver, whereas normal animals exposed to the same temperatures do not. Therefore, it is concluded that the former "feel the cold" more than the latter. If adrenalin extract is injected into the blood stream it speeds up the body and makes the subject feel warmer.—[Kansas City Star.

Czar Worthy Paces Fastest Mile Ever Made in Race; Murphy is Pilot

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TOLEDO (O.) Sept. 19.—When Tommy Murphy drove Czar Worthy around Fort Miami track in 2:01 1-4 here today another world's record was smashed, for this was the fastest time ever traveled by a gelding in a race. This record mile was trotted in the second heat of the Stedman Trot, purse $5000, feature event of the closing Grand Circuit card. Murphy won the event easily with Czar Worthy, winning the first heat in 2:03 1-4 and the third in 2:03. These three heats were the fastest three heats ever traveled by a gelding in a race.

The 2:18 trot went to Jeritza, Ackerman up, and the 2:10 pace was taken by Dickerman, Erskin in the sulky, in straight beats.

TRICK CHAIR MADE USE OF AS A FEAR TEST

The collapse of a faulty chair in which he was seated during a class period at the University of Chicago and his consequent tumble to the floor has been turned to good account by Dr. W. E. Blatz of the psychology department. Remembering his own sensations as he clutched at his desk for support, Dr. Blatz devised a scheme for arousing the emotion of fear and controlling it for experimental purposes.

The scheme takes the form of a specially constructed chair which will collapse and let the occupant drop suddenly when an electric switch is turned.

Unaware of what is about to take place, the subject acts as he would naturally if the drop were not prearranged. His heart beats faster, breathing becomes more rapid and he grasps for support. Electrodes, fastened to the subject's arm, are conected with an electrocardiograph in another room, which records in detail the effect on his heart beats and the change of his electrical state. An electrical pneumograph records the effect on his respiration.

The same experiment is tried several times. Knowledge of what is to happen results in the subject making no effort to save himself, and he may think he no longer has any fear during the test, but the recording instruments prove that the heart still beats faster and the breathing is more rapid.

Dr. Blatz believes that the experiment may develop a method of studying, diagnosing and treating emotional abnormalities which are conducive to certain forms of insanity. Twenty-five students underwent the test.—[Kansas City Star.

"DE DUCKS GOT IT ALL"

Senator Heflin of Alabama, speaking in the Senate, told an amusing ancedote which fits the case of most of us. He said he was reminded of a story which illustrates the result to the masses of the taxes imposed. A northern man went down to Mississippi and bought a farm. He went over to talk to a negro who lived on a part of the plantation about the soil and its productivity. He said: "Uncle, I understand you make fine crops here."

The negro said: "Yes, sir; I do, but de ducks get it."

The northern man said: "The what?"

"Why," the northern man said, "the gentleman from whom I bought this land never told me anything about any ducks eating up the crop." But the negro repeated: "De ducks get it."

The northern man said: "I will go back to see the man of whom I purchased the farm." He went back, and he asked: "What about that place you sold me? The negro says that the ducks eat the crops."

"Why," the man said: "I never heard of any ducks being there. I will go with yoo over and see about it." The former owner of the place asked the negro: "What about the ducks eating the crop? I never saw a duck here."

"The negro said: 'Well, yes, sah: you know when I go up there to settle my accounts you say: 'The cotton has come to so much, but you bought $125 worth of sugar,' and you say: 'I de duck that;' you say: 'You bought $500 worth of meat and I de duck that'; you bought coffee; you bought flour; you bought clothes, shoes, hats, and all,' and each time you says: 'I de duck that.' So when we get through with it it just about evens up, and I just tell them 'de ducks' got it."—[Exchange.

More Than One Road

Theodore Jelenk, the wealthy realtor, said in a success talk in Brooklyn:

"It's a fallacy to say the road to success is long and arduous; it is usually short and easy. A man in a club nodded toward a stalwart, broad-shouldered man and said:

" 'He began as an office boy, I suppose, and worked his way up, step by step, to his present position of vast influence and power.'

" 'No,' was the reply, 'not at all. He began as a star Yale halfback and married his boss's daughter.' "

First to Get Away

The employer had been hearing many unfavorable reports about one of his clerks, and so one morning he called him into his private office in order to find out the true state of affairs.

"I hear you are a clock-watcher," he said, sternly, but got no reply from the young man who stood before him.

"Is it true that when the clock strikes 5 you put down your pen and go home, even if you are in the middle of a word?"

"Certainly not, sir," replied the clerk indignantly, "certainly not. If it gets so near 5 as that I never begin another word at all."

MONDT STUDIES MAT GAME

"Toots" Mondt, the Colorado grappler, is one of the most persistent students in the wrestling game today. He meets "Strangler" Lewis at the Philharmnoic Auditorium next Thursday night and intends to demonstrate for the benefit of all that his hours of study have done him a lot of good.

When "Toots" decided a few years ago that he wanted to be champion of the world he went to his friend, the president of the Kirksville College of Osteopathy in Kirksville, Mo., and spent several weeks there dissecting animals and humans. This was for the purpose of studying the exact location of the nerves and their centers. After accomplishing his mission Mondt went back to Colorado and perfected the jack-knife scissors.

It is put on a man's arm when that member is almost doubled up and results in the circulation above the elbow being entirely shut off. Near the wrist Mondt takes hold of the skin and pulls the main nerve over the big bone in the arm. He then proceeds to rub the nerve back and forth. The pain is terrific, as the antics of his rivals indicate.

Mondt is sure he will beat Lewis with the hold when they meet again. The last time Lewis squirmed off the mat after bearing the pain of the grip for about five minutes. There will be ropes around the ring Thursday night and Mondt says that's enough for him to take the crown off the champion's shapely dome.

DURAY SEEKS SPEED CROWN

Piqued over the loss of the Italian Colony Victory Crown, now held by Cliff Bergere, "Houdini of the Speedways," Leon Duray, who captured and held the coveted head-piece by defeating Ralph De Palma at Ascot, gave notice to all concerned last night that he has ordered a new set of cylinder blocks for his oversized Miller, which when installed will bring the piston displacement of his speed chariot down to 183 cubic inches. Duray was ousted from competition for the crown when the Italian Colony protested allowing a motor of greater size than 183 inches to race for the trophy. A red-hot battle between Eddie Meyer, Frank Lockhart and Cliff Bergere was staged last Saturday night in the dash, the latter emerging victor.

Although Harry Miller will make every effort to finish the new cylinder block for Duray it is not certain that the work will be completed in time for Duray to fit the car with the smaller cylinders in time for the races next Saturday night. In that event the big Frenchman will use his big motor in the fifteen-lap free-for-all and permit the others to fight out the crown argument between themselves.

President Bentel announced last night that six telegrams were received by him yesterday from manufacturers desiring full details of changes in conditions of the Thanksgiving Day Ascot Gold Cup road race.

KENTUCKIAN WILLS BULK OF HALF-MILLION ESTATE TO NEGROES

Because his negro servants had remained in his home and cared faithfully for him many years, the late John T. Hughes, 83 years of age, one of the wealthiest farmers in Central Kentucky, has left three servitors the bulk of his $500,000 estate. He made a few other bequests, but cut some close relatives out of his will.

The property includes about 1000 acres of land in the bluegrass country, and a brick house. It fronts the Lexington-Paris road, and is a show place. This goes to Ellen Wilson, negress, 60 years of age, together with 273 1-2 acres of the land. She is also given the contents of the house, which include antique and modern furnishings. The farming utensils, wagons, work stock and a black saddle mare, Red Belle H., are also given the negress. Her part is valued at at least $200,000.

Her son, Robert Henry Hughes, is bequeathed the Dudley farm on another pike, including 160 acres, worth at least $300 an acre. To Alex Rankin, Hughes's personal attendant, is given property worth at least $50,000.

Hughes for years was little more than a recluse. He was not the "neighborly" man most Southerners are. He was busy always adding to his fortune. He knew comparatively few persons, although practically everybody knew the aged man who frequently drove through the city's streets in an open runabout, driving a handsome horse.

Whether he ever had a sweetheart is not known—he never married. He was a member of a pioneer family, and some of the bluest blood of the South coursed in his veins. In appearance he was a typical "Kentucky colonel."

Ellen Davis will have some wealthy neighbors. Within a five-mile radius are the greatest thoroughbred horse-breeding farms in the country, including the home of Man O' War, John E. Madden's Hamburg Place, August Belmont's nursery stud, Phil Chinn's Himyer stud, Walter Jefford's farms and other places.—[From a Lexington (Ky.) dispatch to New York World.

SCIENTIFIC "DIVINING ROD"

For centuries "magicians" have claimed to be able to detect the presence of gold, silver and other valuable metals underground, sometimes by merely holding an ordinary twig, called a "divining rod," over the supposed deposit. The device seldom worked. But now the old-time wizards must give way to expert radio engineers. According to Sherwin F. Kelly of the University of Toronto they have already developed radio devices which will infallibly tell whether or not metal is underground at any given spot.

It will not be long, therefore, before every valuable mine in the earth will yield the secret of its presence, even though not a single shovelful of dirt or rock is dug or tested. If a person owns a plot of land he will be able to find out in a jiffy whether he also owns a valuable fortune making copper or silver mine.—[Kansas City Star.

MAGISTRATE LENIENT

Court Official Served as Complainant and Judge of Taxi Driver

The other day a citizen got into a taxicab marked "lowest rate," and asked to be taken from One Hundred Twenty-fifth street to an address on West One Hundred and Fifty-third street.

The driver started off in the right direction, but made several circles and when he stopped the meter showed $4. The fare tendered $1.20, that being the legal rate for the distance traveled.

"If you don't come across with $2.80 more I'll take you up before Freddie House," declared the driver, indignantly.

"You know Magistrate House of the Traffic Court, well, then?" asked the fare mildly.

"I do," said the taxi driver, "and he'll fix you."

The fare motioned to a policeman.

"What can I do for you, Judge House?" asked the officer.

That's about all there is to it, except that the driver changed from a bandit to a supplicant and late that night a woman and three children appeared at the judge's home to thank him for "not taking daddy's license away."—[New York Letter to Detroit News.

HONEY BALL MELONS

The people of London have been captured by storm by Tex Austin's rodeo in the stadium at Wembley.

One of the things the Englishmen like is the way these iron men from Texas, thrown by wild horses or rolled on by wild steers, stagger up for more. You can't keep a good man down.

During the last ten years the boll weevil threw Tarrant county—of which Ft. Worth is the capital—and threw it hard. Some years there has been hardly enough cotton left to pay for picking it.

A Texas tenant farmer named Parker picked himself up and invented the honey ball melon, a combination of the honeydew melon and the Texas cannon bull cantaloupe. It took Parker seven years to nurse it along before it was put on the market.

Last year about seventy acres of honey ball melons were planted. The growers received a return of from $200 to $640 an acre for these melons. They saved enough seeds so as to plant 2200 acres this year; next year it will be 10,000 acres.

The characteristic of the honey ball melon is that, while inside it is soft and luscious, it has a shell so hard that a man can stand on one without cracking it. So it is highly transportable.

The Farmers' Co-operative Association, which is marketing the honeyballs, is making a whole group of Texas farmers rich and is adding another delicious luxury to the American table.—[Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

OREGON TEAMS WORK HARD

University and Aggies Both Down to Serious Labor for Football Season; Maddock Pessimistic

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 18.—Even larger squads than usual have been turning out at the University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural College since the opening of the football season, the 15th inst. With new coaches at both schools and many veterans gone, there is a feeling that the coaches should have the advantage of all the material available and every student who ever wore a football rig is out for the early practice.

Paul Schissler, the new Aggie coach, has been on the ground for some time and has been laying the foundation for this season's work. Although he is a Nebraska product, Schissler uses Knute Rockne's style of play and it will mean a complete revision of the system that was followed by Coach Rutherford, who left the Aggies at the close of last season. Schissler in particular will pay attention to building up a strong aerial game at Corvallis. This is a branch of the sport at which the Aggies have been weak. Although they have had some individual star passers, their team record over a series of years shows very little yardage gained by the aerial route.

OWN STYLE

Schissler is going to build up his own style from now on and for that purpose has secured as two assistant coaches, Howard H. Turner, who was an assistant to Schissler at Lombard College last year, and C. W. King, captain of the Lombard team two years ago and who played professional football last year. Turner and King are thoroughly versed in football as Schissler teaches it. They will be used chiefly as freshmen coaches so that the football material that becomes available from the freshman class next season may fit smoothly into its place with the varsity. Ralph Coleman and Bog Hager, who assisted at O. A. C. last year, will also help with the freshmen. Speck Keene and Cack Hubbard have been retained as assistant coaches and will be an aid to Schissler in sizing up his material. All of the coaching staff was on the campus more than a week before regular practice began and had a thorough course of instruction under Schissler.

Short but intensive practice will be the rule at Corvallis. The squad will work out for two hours daily at present but later in the season only an hour a day will be spent on the field. An innovation will be that the team will vary its playing colors, according to the color of the suits worn by its opponents. Orange sweaters will be worn when the opposing line-up is dark-clad, but when the opponents wear bright hues the Aggies will appear in black.

This calls to mind the fact that Stanford will discard its traditional cardinal when it meets Idaho in Portland on October 25. Bob Mathews, Idaho coach, and Paul Davis, Stanford graduate manager, met in Portland recently and arranged details for the games. It was found that both teams wear red jerseys of almost the same hue. Idaho is the home team in this game, so will be entitled to its regular color, so Stanford will don white. Davis said that when Stanford plays Southern California at Stanford later in the season, it will be Stanford that wears the red, while the Trojans will wear white.

MINUS SAWDUST

It is also likely that the Idaho-Stanford game will be played on Moultnomah Field, minus the sawdust coating that has been found objectionable by many visiting teams. Neither Idaho nor Stanford wants the sawdust, so it will be scraped off unless the field is badly rain-soaked.

There is so much rain in Portland in the football season that the usual custom is to put several inches of sawdust on Multnomah Field where all contests are held. Outside teams, particularly those used to the dry California fields, complain that the sawdust slows them down. Southern California will get its introduction to a sawdust-covered gridiron when it plays the Oregon Aggies here October 18, unless these teams make the same stipulation that Idaho and Stanford have. The Aggies are used to the sawdust and probably would prefer to have the field covered.

At the University of Oregon Coach Maddock has urged the public not to expect too much from his eleven this year. Not only will the coaching system be new, but his team will be comparatively green. Chapman, Sax, Von Der Ahe, Campbell and Latham, who have borne the football burden at Oregon the past two seasons are all gone. Their positions will be filled mainly by players from last year's freshman team. It is not a promising outlook. The best that can be said is that it will give Maddock a chance to develop his teams for future seasons from players who are still in the formitive stage and who will readily assimilate his system.

"There are a lot of promising fellows who will be on the squad who have never worn a varsity emblem," said Maddock. "These fellows have much to learn before our first big conference game with Stanford at Palo Alto."

Miss Mary K. Browne, who qualified for the finals in national tennis and golf tourneys, stated that the strain of championship golf is incomparably greater than the strain of tennis and that one round of championship golf takes as much out of a player as ten hard sets of tennis.

LOCAL LAUGHS

Each week The Times produces a film entitled "Local Laughs," consisting of the fifteen best jokes submitted by local people. Weekly prizes are paid of $5, $3, $2, and twelve of $1 each. A list of theaters showing the film, together with rules for submitting jokes are given daily in a coupon in The Times. Prize-winning jokes, and names and addresses of winners, appear only on the screen. Jokes receiving honorable mention will be given a place of honor on The Times' comic page each week-day, and each of these contributors will receive a souvenir of acknowledgement.

JORDAN HELD TO ANSWER

Asserted Master Bigamist Loses Fight After One of Shortest Hearings in Court Annals

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Sept. 19.—After one of the shortest preliminary hearings in the history of the local courts, John Jordan, asserted master bigamist, who is accused of having six wives, was held to answer on a charge of bigamy before Justice W. S. Brayton here this morning. Bail was set at $10,000 cash, or $20,000 property bonds at the conclusion of the hearing, which lasted only thirty minutes.

Jordan revealed himself in a new role, that of inquisitor, when he cross-examined Mrs. Grace W. Clarke Jordan, wife No. 5, during the progress of the hearing. While he was able to throw some doubt on portions of her testimony, Jordan failed to win his battle against the woman, who came all the way from Toronto, Ont., to appear against him.

Mrs. Jordan testified that she and Jordan were married on July 11, 1917, in Denver, Colo., and that a year later he left her, presumably to join the Army. She contends that she has never divorced him or served him with papers in any annulment or divorce proceedings.

Jordan, in cross-examination, was able to prove that on one occasion Mrs. Jordan left him, taking all her belongings with her, and that later her attorney called on him with the news that Mrs. Jordan was through with him for all time.

Other witnesses were Rev. W. C. Loomis, who married Jordan to Sadie Kessler Jordan, his last wife, who lost her life on July 25, while they were on their honeymoon in Ranier National Park when she fell from the Van Trump Trail to a rocky ledge sixty feet below; Mrs. Jennie Loomis, a witness of the ceremony, and Mrs. Catherine Kinnison of 1038 Gladys avenue, a sister of Mrs. Jordan.

First intimation of Jordan's activities as an asserted bigamist came after a thorough investigation of his marital affairs by local police at the request of Rainier Park authorities, who were not satisfied with his story of how his last wife lost her life.

Subsequently, while a prisoner in the City Jail here, Jordan wrote an eighty-page story which purported to be a history of his life from the time of his first marriage in 1898 until his marriage to Miss Kessler in this city. In this, he admitted six marriages.

PETITIONS ILLEGAL

City Attorney's Ruling Delays Annexation Plans

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 19.—City Attorney Coffin refused to approve the present form of petition being circulated for the annexation of this city to Los Angeles, stating that the circulators had neglected to swear their names to the affidavits of circulations. The report was read before the daily session of the City Council, with more than thirty annexationists present to hear the report.

The City Attorney explained that the error had come to his attention just before the Council session and that he did not wish to be arbitrary in the matter.

C. L. Whitehead, representing the annexationists, stated he considered the attorney's report just and that he would lend every assistance to render the petitions legal as soon as possible.

SHIPMENT INDICATES GOOD COTTON CROP

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Sept. 19.—The first shipment of cotton from 9000 acres in the southern portion of Kings county was made yesterday. Forty-two bales of the finest quality cotton went by motor truck to Goodyear, Los Angeles county. The first ginned was that from the Boswell ranch, near Corcoran, where fifty-one bales was harvested from 100 acres, being more than half a bale an acre, for the first picking. Subsequent pickings will bring the output to one bale per acre, which is double the average production in the Southern States. Corcoran, center of the cotton-growing industry, is planning to hold a big cotton festival a week from tomorrow.

BIGGEST LETTUCE CROP

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Sept. 19. — The valley water department has before it a problem that is causing much trouble. Some time ago an allotment was made from the limited aqueduct supply for 600 acres of lettuce, the estimated planting.

A survey made since this allotment shows that a total of 1200 acres is already being planted, or will be, which is double the amount for which water has been allotted. Thus far water has been given to all applicants, and an effort will be made to continue it, if possible, to mature the entire 1200-acre crop, the largest in the history of the valley.

SHIP POMEGRANATES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 19.—The first pomegranates of the season to leave Porterville were shipped this morning by Linden & Sartou, under the Blue Goose brand. The fruit was consigned to Philadelphia.

Another car is expected to be sent out by the Stewart Fruit Company tonight. A second carload of mixed fruits, including pomegranates, quinces and velvet cling peaches, left the Tule River Citrus Association house at Success yesterday.

SERIES OF WRECKS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Sept. 19.—The record for wrecked automobiles was badly shattered here this morning when in a distance of 300 yards on South Sherman Way five cars each lost a rear wheel.

This section of the street is exceptionally smooth, and with the heavy travel is well surfaced with oil from passing cars. With a rain-like fog the surface was so wet that as the cars came toward town they skidded to the curbs, smashing a wheel on each, but doing no further damage to cars or occupants.

Court Rules Against Kern County Teacher

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 19.—U. L. Barnes's appeal to the Superior Court for reinstatement as a school teacher in the Maricopa High School district has been denied by Judge Erwin W. Owen. He has announced through his attorney that he will carry his appeal to the Appellate Court of the State.

Barnes framed his complaint against Frank Wells, C. B. Warner and R. J. Patterson, trustees of the Maricopa High School district. In his complaint he asked for an order countermanding his dismissal by the school board on the ground that he had taught school for more than two consecutive years, and was therefore entitled to a permanent certificate as a teacher. He asked for a court order commanding his reinstatement with the school district. This order was denied by Judge Owen.

REDLANDS LAWYER DIES

Prominent Attorney Passes Away After Long Illness

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

REDLANDS, Sept. 19.—Judge C. E. Hardy, for twenty-six years a resident of Redlands, practicing law here all that time, died at his home, 611 West Fern avenue today. He had been in ill health for some weeks so that his death was not unexpected.

Judge Chapman was 73 years of age and was born in Maine. When a young man he went to Ann Arbor, Mich., and entered the law school there. He graduated and took up the practice of law in Fergus Falls, Minn., and was soon made judge of the Probate Court.

After being in Fergus Falls for about fifteen years his health failed and he came to California on a visit. He came back in 1898, bringing his family, his wife and two children. Mrs. Chapman died several years ago and about six months ago he was again married.

He leaves a widow and two children, Dr. John Chapman of Pasadena and Mrs. Clarence W. Hardy of this city. Death was due to heart trouble which resulted from an acute attack of indigestion, which he suffered some months ago.

UNQUENCHED THIRSTS

Porterville Citizens Deprived of Desired Stimulants

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 19. — A number of Porterville's prominent business men have a feeling of uneasiness today as a result of arrest here yesterday afternoon of George E. Fridley, from San Francisco, alleged bootlegger, and confiscation of 121 quarts of highly bonded liquor and a list of persons to whom deliveries were to have been made. Fridley was arrested by Chief of Police A. W. Reynolds as he entered a local garage. He pleaded guilty to possession before City Police Judge Crutts and was fined $300, which he paid this morning and departed for the north. This is the biggest local haul of bonded liquor in some months. Officers state that investigation of the list of customers is now being made, hinting that names of well-known citizens appear thereon.

BUSINESS MAN IN CRITICAL CONDITION

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

REDLANDS, Sept. 19.—W. L. Thornquest, well-known business man, bank director, Chamber of Commerce director, City Trustee and exalted ruler of the Redlands lodge of Elks, is in the Redlands Hospital, where he was operated on today for appendicitis. It was a sudden attack, although Mr. Thornquest has been subject to them for some time.

He had planned to go to Catalina to attend the State convention of the Elks when he was suddenly taken ill. It was decided to operate at once and he was taken to the hospital. His condition is as satisfactory as could be expected.

Mr. Thornquest is one of the most popular of the young business men of the city.

SUFFERS SERIOUS INJURY

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Sept. 19.—Elton White, 6 years of age, of 642 Cedar avenue, is at Seaside Hospital suffering from a fractured skull and possible internal injuries, sustained when the tricycle he was riding was struck by an automobile driven by Jeff Morris, 813 Orange avenue. The accident occurred at Sixth street and Pacific avenue when the lad suddenly started across the street directly in the path of the oncoming machine.

CLUB AIDS "Y" FUND

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, Sept. 19. — The Glendale Optimist Club, the youngest service organization in the city, was the first to subscribe $1000 for a room in the proposed Y.M.C.A. building that is to be erected following the successful termination of the present drive for $275,000.

The action, as taken at Friday's meeting following the presentation of the proposal by Dr. R. C. Logan, chairman of the club's big brother committee.

Visitors Flock to Meetings in Santa Barbara

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 19.—Preparations are being made by local hotels and halls to receive 3000 delegates to the Southern California Methodist conference, which opens here September 27, and every effort is being made by church leaders to arrange for adequate housing facilities for the rush of visitors.

In addition to the Methodist conference here next week the State Federation will hold its twenty-fifth annual convention in Santa Barbara, and will draw 500 more visitors from all parts of the State. The annual gathering of the Western Gas Association, in which six States and Hawaii were represented, closed yesterday with the largest attendance in its record of thirty-five conventions.

CLIMATE ,THAT'S ALL

California Sets New Record for Other States

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

STRATHMORE, Sept. 19.—Loyal Californians who love to boast of its world-famed sunshine and other glories have another typical story of California to add to their repertoire in the experience of a baby chick, that first saw light of day on the George G. Cole ranch in Strathmore.

Returning from a vacation in the mountains, the Coles investigated conditions of the ranch. Mrs. Cole found two hens hovering hopefully over a handful of eggs while one setter warmed a lone egg.

Dethroning the would-be mother, Mrs. Cole absent-mindedly started for the house with the one egg in her hand. She left it on the refrigerator, intending to throw it away later. Next morning the forgotten egg was called to mind by a "Peep, Peep," coming from the rear of the house in the vicinity of the ice box. When Mrs. Cole went to investigate, a fluffy yellow chick was just breaking out of the shell upon the refrigerator.

TEST VALIDITY OF CITY'S ORDINANCE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VISALIA, Sept. 19.—Test of Visalia's new city ordinance making it a misdemeanor to register under a false name at a hotel or rooming-house is expected to be made today. This anticipated tryout of validity of the new ruling will be result of pleas of not guilty made before Police Judge J. S. Clack by R. R. Sweeney, proprietor of a Pixley pool and billiard parlor, and Mary Baker, waitress in that city, who were arrested by local officers as they came out of a rooming-house.

Officers say the couple had registered as Mr. and Mrs. George Sampson. Sweeney is 31 years of age and Miss Baker gave her age as 18. This is the first arrest under this ordinance.

MILL WORKER KILLED

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 19.—An inquest was held at the Cate mortuary this afternoon over the body of Claude Chester Snead, who died at a Los Angeles hospital yesterday afternoon following injuries sustained in an accident in a planing mill here. The young man was about 30 years of age, and lived with his parents at 615 Diamond street. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

START POLICE HUNT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 19.—A police search was instigated today for Jacob G. Riffel, 59 years of age, who resides at 295 West Walnut. Riffel has been missing from his home since Wednesday night, his wife asserts, and fears were expressed that he might have wandered into the hills. A check was made with forest service officials, and it was learned the man had not been conscripted to fight fire. He is said to be in poor health.

FIGHTS FOR LIBERTY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ONTARIO, Sept. 19.—Habeas corpus proceedings of John E. Huling of Los Angeles, convicted last March of obtaining $30,000 under false pretenses in asserted thefts from the city of Ontario, have been continued. He is at liberty on bail pending a hearing before Judge William H. Ellis of Riverside. It will be a month or more before the judge is able to hear the case.

In the petition for a writ of habeas corpus it is alleged that Huling was illegally convicted and was committed to the County Jail without proper technicalities. The granting of the writ would nullify Huling's conviction and free him of all charges brought against him.

Huling was an accomplice of Fred S. Alford, former City Manager of Ontario, who is now serving a sentence of eight years at San Quentin for embezzlement of city funds.

Shortly after his conviction Huling appealed to the District Court of Appeal. A writ of probable cause was issued which permitted him to be held to the County Jail until a decision on the appeal should be announced. Judge Benjamin F. Warmer of Ontario granted Huling temporary liberty until the hearing on the writ.

PAY LAST TRIBUTE

Former Newspaper Man is Buried at Long Beach

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Sept. 19.—With former associates acting as pall bearers, Gene Morgan, 26 years of age, widely known newsboy organizer of this city, was carried to his last resting place at Angeles Abbey, today.

Morgan, who was drowned when his speedboat Miss De Luxe was caught in the breakers near the harbor entrance on the 7th inst., was one of the best-known men in local newspaper distributing circles and for many years acted as agent for a Los Angeles paper here.

His body came ashore Monday after newsboys who formerly worked for him had kept a constant vigil along the entire water front.

Dr. George P. Taubman, pastor of the First Christian Church, who officiated at the services at the Holton & Son chapel said: "Life is not counted in years. It is what a man has done in those years that counts."

POINTS TO DANGERS OF RADICAL DOCTRINE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, Sept. 19.—The baneful effect of radical propaganda, being spread through so many channels in this country today, and its evil influences on the rising generation were pointed out by Dr. George Rice of the Better America Federation at the weekly luncheon of the Glendale Kiwanis Club, Friday. The speaker traced the growth and spread of Bolshevism for over a century and showed two cartoons one of them a caricature of Jesus Christ published in radical sheets in this country.

NEW USE FOR DEADLY GILA

The "Heloderma" or "Gila monster" of Arizona is one of the only two poisonous lizards known to man. Until recently the best thing to be done with this deadly and uncouth inhabitant of Arizona's blazing wastes seemed to be to destroy it as soon as possible, yet now the advance of science has invested the monster with a sudden value.

It has been found that the poison of the Gila monster is a useful remedy for that terrible form of paralysis known as motor ataxia, a disease which prevents the proper use of the limbs, and was formerly thought incurable.

The poison is of such amazing strength that it has to be diluted down to the one-hundredth-thousandth part or one drop of the poison to a gallon of alcohol.—[Exchange.

Pasadena Man Is Victim of Auto Bandits

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 19. — Springing from behind pillars on the Colorado-street bridge, three heavily armed bandits held up and robbed H. L. Morris, 478 Ellis street, of his purse containing $121 in cash at an early hour this morning. After searching the victim and his car the trio escaped in another machine concealed some distance away.

According to Morris's story told to the police, he was on his way home from Los Angeles when he was accosted by the bandits. He had just entered the west end of the long bridge when the bandits jumped out, leveling their revolvers at him. He was commanded to hand over his valuables and make no outcry, Morris told Pasadena officers. During the search the bandits found Morris's gold watch, but this they returned when they found his monogram engraved on the back.

Soon after the report of the hold-up was made, Officers Coleman, Collins, Davis, German and Clendenen were sent out to hunt for the highwaymen, but the search was fruitless. All the men were over the age of 30 years, Morris told the police.

SCHOOL MEN RETIRE

Pomona College Elects New Trustees

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

CLAREMONT, Sept. 19.—Two members of the board of trustees of Pomona College have been made honorary trustees of the school. Dr. Charles B. Sumner, founder of the college and a member of the board from the beginning has surrendered the active cares of the office, but retains the position of secretary of the board. Another member who has retired from active service is Charles E. Harwood of Upland, who has completed twenty-five years as a member of the board.

Mr. Harwood is succeeded in the office of active trustee by his son, E. C. Harwood, a prominent rancher and business man of Upland. Rev. Luther B. Freeman, D.D., pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational Church of Pomona, was also elected a member of the board.

Dr. Freeman before coming to Pomona was the pastor of several large Methodist churches and also formerly president of Morningside College, Sioux City, Iowa. J. H. Andrews of La Jolla was elected by the board of trustees to the new position of director of resources.

VENTURA JUDGE JAILS SPEEDER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OXNARD, Sept. 19.—Following the example of Judge Cox of Santa Ana, Judge Conrad of Camarillo, is jailing motorists who violate vehicle laws John Scholle, son of a wealthy Ventura county family, was sentenced to spend five days in the County Jail and to pay a fine of $100. This is the most severe penalty any speeder has received in this county.

Scholle was arrested by Motorcycle Officer Bernard Isenze while driving at a fast rate of speed. Isenze followed him for several miles and said he was driving his own machine more than sixty-five miles an hour in order to catch the offender. The young man was charged with reckless driving as well as speeding.

ENTERTAIN GOVERNOR

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VISALIA, Sept. 19.—Harry S. Mason, district governor of Rotary International, will pay an official visit to the Visalia Rotary Club on Wednesday, the 24th inst., according to announcement made to the local organization. The district governor will address the Dinuba Rotarians at a special night meeting on the evening of the 23rd inst.

GIVE CREDIT TO THE SUN

Kern County Boosters Say Old Sol Brings Prosperity

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 19. "The sun does it."

That is a slogan suggested to the Kern County Chamber of Commerce to broadcast over the United States. It has not been adopted as the official county slogan, because, Secretary Leigh H. Irvine announced, the Chamber of Commerce wants to give everyone in the county a chance to offer suggestions for a better one.

"Two hundred and thirty-seven days of sunshine kills the disease germs and minimizes sickness," said Irvine.

RANCH HAND IS VICTIM OF FOUL PLAY

Officers Seek Motive for Supposed Murder of Man Near Ontario

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ONTARIO, Sept. 19.—The body of K. W. Park, a Korean, who was employed on the Stuart citrus ranch, was found late this afternoon under a lemon tree on the ranch of N. G. Pehl, Fourteenth and San Antonio streets. The man was evidently a victim of foul play. He had been shot through the head and his throat bore the marks of choking.

Police are endeavoring to discover if the dead man had any enemies or if any other motives for murder existed. They have been unable to find the weapon with which the shot was fired or the bicycle Park rode when he went to the ranch Wednesday, the last day he was seen.

He worked alone that day and no one saw him leave the grove there nor knows how he came to be under the tree where he was found, some eleven blocks away. Park had been in Ontario about fifteen years. He leaves a Mexican wife and six children. He was 41 years of age. An inquest will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Upland.

TOWN BOOSTER IS CONTEST WINNER

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, Sept. 19.—Peter Hanson, president of the Glendale Realty Board, won first place in the elimination trial for candidates to represent Glendale in the home-town contest at the annual convention of the California Real Estate Association at Pasadena in October with Gould H. Warren taking second place by a narrow margin.

Mr. Hanson ran second in last year's contest at Sacramento, being defeated by Fred Swink of Pasadena. In the event of his winning first place at the Pasadena convention, Mr. Hanson will represent California in next year's national competition at Detroit.

REPUBLICANS TO ORGANIZE

Kern County Party Men Meet Tuesday Afternoon

Fill Vacancies on Central Committee

Make Plans for Aggressive Campaign

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 19.—The Republican County Central Committee is scheduled to meet at the Supervisors' chambers at the courthouse next Tuesday afternoon, upon call by Dr. Fred J. Crease to complete plans for the Coolidge-Dawes campaign in Kern county. The meeting will be opened at 2 o'clock.

Vacancies on the central committee are to be filled, and plans will be made for a series of meetings throughout the county to be addressed by prominent Republican speakers in the interests of President Coolidge's re-election.

George Bush, manager of the Coolidge and Dawes Club in Los Angeles, has invited local Republicans, in a message to Dr. Crease, to attend an organization meeting in Los Angeles Saturday night. Dr. Crease is president of the Coolidge and Dawes Club in Kern county and chairman of the holdover Republican Central Committee elected at the August primary election.

Other members of the committee, which is to be augmented, are Charles K. Badger, secretary; District No. 1, Maurice D. Bowhay, C. W. Cline and J. M. Haberfelde; District No. 2, B. E. Crease, J. D. Moore and Ferd Snyder; District No. 3, Charles K Badger, Arthur H. Curran, D. E Kuehn, Mary E. Abbott, A. W. Kincaide and F. D. Sollenberger; District No. 4, P. L. Patterson, A. F. Fleming, M. A. Sisley and H. H. Bell; District No. 5, H. J. Brandt, Fred J. Crease, Arthur S. Crites, Elmer Martin and Melville G. Brittan.

HANFORD IS END OF LONG JOURNEY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Sept. 19.—Sam Nitzberg and Max Dubrowsky of New York have arrived here after a walk of approximately 4000 miles. They were three and a half months en route by way of Chicago, Milwaukee and Yellowstone Park. Their only baggage was a pair of blankets each and they slept outdoors, subsisting principally on fruits and nuts. After becoming accustomed to walking the pedestrians made twenty-five to thirty miles a day. They are visiting a cousin of Mr. Nitzberg, who is in business here.

WELCOME FOR QUINN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 19.—Employers are to be appealed to by the American Legion, Frank S. Reynolds Post, No. 26, of Bakersfield, to permit Legion members working for them, wherever possible, to have Friday afternoon, September 26, off duty to attend the big reception to John R. Quinn at Delano.

This affair will be held in conjunction with the dedication of the new building of Merle Reed Post in that city.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

En obsequio a nuestros numerosos amigos de habla española, y para beneficio de los lectores americanos de "The Times" que estudien esa lengua, publicamos diariamente esta columna en castellano, con un extracto de las más importantes noticias de última hora.

Buena parte del futuro progreso de Los Angeles, que es la metrópoli de los Estados Unidos que más cercana se halla a territorio latino-americano, habrá de depender de las relaciones que logremos establecer con nuestras hermanas, las repúblicas del sur. Para que lleguen a ser enteramente cordiales, no hay nada tan importante como que nuestros ciudadanos se familiaricen con la lengua castellana. Tan se dan cuenta de este hecho nuestros habitantes, que hay al presente más de 25.000 personas que estudian español en Los Angeles. A ellas les conviene leer todos los días esta columna, en la que encontrarán español correcto y enteramente moderno.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

WASHINGTON, Septiembre 19. Desde hace más de veinte años no se había hecho una campaña presidencial tan poco costosa como la presente, y la razón principal es que han faltado los donativos. A ninguno de los dieciocho candidatos que se disputan la presidencia le han abierto el bolsillo sus comitentes. Otra buena razón es que la dirección del partido republicano, que antes ocupaba el primer lugar en punto de crecidos desembolsos, ha adoptado ahora un estricto y definido programa de economía.

Ni el comité nacional republicano, ni el demócrata, se quejan en público de escasez de fondos, pero lo cierto es que ambos anhelan estar más ricos de lo que están, para emprender trabajos de propaganda que hoy les están vedados por falta de fondos.

El que sí se queja abiertamente de la pobreza es el comité de La Follette y Wheeler, y hasta ha recurrido al expediente de cobrarles la entrada a los que desean oír los discursos de La Follette y de Wheeler, llenando de ese modo las exhaustas cajas del tesoro de campaña. Parece paradógico, pero es un hecho que, a pesar de que el comité de campaña, que actúa bajo el nombre de "La Conferencia en pro de la Acción Política Progresiva", está en la miseria, gasta más dinero para promover la candidatura de la fórmula La Follette-Wheeler, que el comité republicano o el demócrata.

La razón de lo anterior es que los sindicatos obreros se rehusan a contribuir en numerario para el comité de campaña; pero, en cambio, insisten en llevar ellos mismos adelante su campaña en favor de La Follette, en la forma que ellos estiman mejor, e invirtiendo su dinero en la empresa.

Entre estas uniones obreras figura la Asociación Internacional de Maquinistas, uno de los sindicatos de trabajadores más ricos del mundo, si no es que el más rico. Es su presidente W. W. Johnson, presidente asimismo de la Conferencia en pro de la Acción Política Progresiva y del comité de campaña La Follette-Wheeler. De fuentes que están en contacto con el grupo de La Follette se sabe que el señor Johnson no puede sacarle a la tesorería de su sindicato dinero en efectivo para la de su comité. Tanto su unión, como las demás uniones, apoyan a La Follette, y al igual de la Federación Americana del Trabajo, están consagrando grandes sumas a la campaña para elegir la planilla La Follette-Wheeler, así como Senadores y Diputados que simpaticen con el trabajo organizado; pero creen que pueden gastar el dinero más eficazmente de lo que lo gastaría el comité La Follette-Wheeler.

Resultado de todo ello es que se sienta la presión de la inopia en el cuartel general del citado comité, instalado en el Edificio de Maquinistas de esta ciudad. Carece de dinero para pagar ciertos trabajos de campaña que tiene emprendidos. También se ha dejado sentir la escasez económica en el domicilio político del partido en Chicago.

Los Españoles Han Iniciado su Ofensiva

PARIS, Septiembre 19. — Las fuerzas españolas iniciaron ayer una nueva ofensiva en Tetuán, que lleva por fin defender a su capital en Marruecos. Tales son las noticias llegadas hoy aquí. El objetivo español era la posición de Gorguez, que no está sino a unos seis kilómetros al sudeste de Tetuán.

Ayer fue casi completa la victoria de los moros, pues las fuerzas españolas fueron rechazadas casi hasta Tetuán. El boletín del gobierno español publicado hoy en Madrid declara que hoy está comenzando de nuevo la ofensiva, y hay grandes esperanzas de éxito.

Con todo, el boletín revela el hecho importante de que la situación española es más peligrosa de lo que dejaban ver las noticias de estos últimos tres días, pues Gorguez, que está inmediato a Tetuán, se halla en poder de los moros. Primo de Rivera, dictador de España, todavía sigue dirigiendo las operaciones desde Tetuán, en tanto que el señor Echevarrieta, amigo íntimo del Rey Alfonso, está celebrando entrevistas en el Este de Marruecos con los moros, con el fin de concertar la paz.

Se Ha Podido Dominar el Incendio de los Bosques

Hoy ha podido al fin dominarse el gigantesco incendio que hizo presa en los montes de la región de San Gabriel. Esta es la noticia comunicada anoche por el Coronel W. B. Greeley, jefe del Servicio Forestal de los Estados Unidos, quien regresó al cuartel general de Monrovia, después de haber recorrido a pie y a caballo los distintos frentes donde se combate a las llamas en la montañas. Cuando ya parecía que los mil extenuados luchadores habían agotado todos sus esfuerzos sin poder contener el incendio, la madre naturaleza tomó cartas en el asunto.

Trajo una densa niebla del océano, la empujó por sobre los cerros y la depositó en los cañones y puertos, donde comenzó desde la madrugada de ayer a ahogar los rescoldos.

Los que dirigían los trabajos de extinción no tardaron en aprovecharse de la ayuda que se les brindaba. Como a las 3:30 a.m. fueron despachados centenares de hombres a la línea de fuego para ponerle al incendio lo que llaman un "cold trail". Aplican este nombre los guardabosques a la operación de cavar justamente en la orilla del fuego, levantando las brasas ardientes y arrojándolas sobre la superficie ya quemada. De esa manera detienen las llamas en los lugares donde están ardiendo, y ponen toda la línea a salvo de inflamación repentina.

DEPORTES

Baseball

Jimmy Christian, que viene de los desiertos de Oklahoma, donde florecen los indios y los pozos petroleros, se enzarzó ayer con Williams el Zurdo, oriundo igualmente de Oklahoma, en un lucido duelo de lanzadores, y Jimmy salió vencedor, dándole la victoria al equipo de Bill Essick sobre el de las Focas. Christian tuvo la habilidad de no dejar que las Focas se marcaran un solo tanto, al paso que les proporcionaba dos a sus compañeros de equipo.

Boxeo

NUEVA YORK, Septiembre 19. Tres horas seguidas estuvo hoy el boxeador argentino, Luis Angel Firpo en la barra de los testigos, en Ellis Island, defendiéndose de los cargos de haber introducido el año pasado a una mujer a este país, y de haber mentido a ese respecto cuando regresó el año actual. Después de Firpo fue interrogado durante media hora su intérprete, Juan Homes. Al salir, Firpo parecía mucho más animado que cuando llegó, y su abogado Hyman Bushell, aplaudió la manera de haber dirigido la audiencia, el señor W. W. Brown, jefe del departamento legal de la estación de inmigración.

HE GOT THE PAPER

Black Eye, However, Steep Price for One He Couldn't Read

Solomon Katz, dealer in cloaks and suits, of 35 West Thirty-third street, carried on his business handicapped by a black eye one day last week, as a result of an altercation which grew out of a humorous incident, according to his stenographer.

Two seats away from him in the "L" train that morning, an Irishman was lounging, looking about him for a newspaper to while away the idle moments of transportation. The eyes of Solomon himself were roving about, searching for one. However, the empty seats seemed to be quite devoid of one. Fortune, nevertheless, seemed to be favoring him that morning. Directly across the aisle was a passenger who had been reading a newspaper quite thoroughly, and who was now preparing to leave at the next station.

He threw his paper behind him and walked off, to the secret delight of Mr. Katz, who had been watching for just that action. But he was not alone in his ambition, however. His Irish seatmate also had noticed the abandonment of the periodical.

Both made simultaneous leaps, but, much to the discomfiture of the dealer in cloaks and suits, the Irishman's head bumped him in the right eye, bruising him sufficiently to darken Mr. Katz's features. And both grabbed the paper as one, although Solomon, with a deft twist of his wrist, swept it beyond the reach of his rival's hands.

The Irishman was apparently about to make Solomon's black eye twins, but checked his movements. He looked at the paper, and then surveyed Solomon with a sardonic air. Complacently he settled back in his seat. Solomon, for all of him, could have the paper, for it was printed in Italian.—[New York World.

REASSURED

News had reached the village of Forksville that a motor-bus plying between the two neighboring towns of Bumpton and Gush Hollow had gone over the side of a cliff with all on board. It was also known in Forksville that the wife of the much henpecked Bud Blodgett was en route to Gush Hollow via the bus line. An interested villager immediately called on Bud.

"Ain't ye worried 'bout yer wife, Bud?" he asked.

"Well," replied Bud, "I was fer a while; but her cousin in Bumpton jest called up an' said she saw Sal git on the bus with her own eyes.'—[American Legion Weekly.

GUESS WHERE

At the head of a long line of would-be passengers and he approached the ticket window and and inquired, "What is the rate per mile in this State?"

In polite tones the ticket clerk explained.

'Can I purchase a ticket good for any day?"

This question was also answered, and then—"How many trains have you leaving daily?"

Another answer was given.

"Can I wait until this evening to buy my ticket?"

Answer given in one syllable.

"Where can I go for $12.75."

TURNIPS TRIP BOSSIES' BOSS

Too Much Vegetables Given Cows Draws Fine for Tainted Milk Sale

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—The State Department of Agriculture, through its Bureau of Dairy Control, reported today that a dairyman at Loleta recently was arrested and fined $300 on a charge of selling tainted dairy products. He ran afoul of the law as the result of feeding his cows too many turnips.

This was the first prosecution of its kind in California, but probably will not be the last, because officials of the dairy bureau announced today the inauguration of a vigorouos campaign against all violators of the State dairy laws.

DAY OF MISHAPS AT PORT

Five Persons Are Severely Injured in Separate Accidents; Record Run Saves Woman

One man fell down a ship's hold and broke his back; another fell into a huge tank of boiling water; a woman took poison when she thought she was taking medicine, and a boy and an aged man were injured by autos, all in separate mishaps at Wilmington yesterday.

Anton Amyrio, 34 years of age, missed his footing and plunged thirty feet down the hold of the steamer Wapama at McCormick's lumber dock at 2 p.m. Dr. H. R. Shrodes reported the man's back broken. He still is conscious, however, and may live. He was taken to the Marine Hospital, Los Angeles.

LABORER SCALDED

Santiago Montinez, laborer, 23, slipped on the edge of a big tank of the American Magnesite Company and suffered first and second degree burns all over his head and body in the boiling water. He was treated by Dr. Guy Shirey and taken to Seaside Hospital, Long Beach, where his recovery is reported doubtful.

Mrs. R. A. Cooper, a recent bride of 949 Lakne street, Wilmington, was saved by a record run by the police ambulance from her house to Dr. Shirey's office, where a stomach pump checked the deadly effects of a drug, she was reported to have taken by mistake.

CARS HURT TWO

Leo McCoy, Jr., 2, suffered a broken left leg and severe lacerations, when his father's car was backed out of the family garage at 557 West L street. He will live.

Thomas Creedon, 60, was struck at Watson Station by a car driven by R. L. McCart of Compton, according to the latter's report to the police. The man suffered a fractured leg and lacerations about the head. His condition was reported critical by Dr. Shirey, who ordered the patient taken to the General Hospital.

DREAM CAME TRUE

Winner of Liverpool Cathedral Competition Was Draughtsman

A young man of 21 wes the designer, and the same young man at 44 is the builder of Liverpool's new cathedral, which was dedicated in its half-finished state by King George and Queen Mary last month.

Years ago King Edward laid the corner-stone. The new cathedral, when completed, will be inferior in size to only two cathedrals in Europe; St. Peter's in Rome and the Cathedral of Seville.

In 1901, when the competition for designs was opened, Giles Gilbert Scott was a youthful draftsman working in the office of an architectural firm in London. All the famous architects of Great Britain entered the competition. Even the firm by which the future winner was employed decided to enter designs, but young Scott, confiding in no one, worked out his own plans in spare time, which he made for himself by rising early in the morning.

He won the competition—the comments of his employers when they found their draftsman had beaten them are not recorded—and now, as an architect with an established reputation, though still young, twenty-three years after he first resolved to compete, he has the satisfaction of seeing his dream beginning to rise in solid stone.

The choir, the transepts, the chapter house, choir, aisles, vestries, and lady chapel are wholly finished as well as part of the great central space above which the tower is to be erected. Mr. Scott's cathedral is original where originality might well have been thought to be exhausted. It is Gothic but it copies no special national style. It is an original adaptation of the pure Gothic to the special needs and spirit of our century.

When finished, it will accommodate a congregation of 8000 upon ceremonial occasions. The choir and the transepts, which now stand ready for worshippers, will seat 1200 and the lady chapel, the first portion of the building erected, has been in regular use for worship for some time.

"Liverpool Cathedral," says the architect, "is an endeavor to produce an effect that will inspire, and the architecture is subsidiary to this purpose, though the ideal aimed at, like all ideals, is elusive. I hope Liverpool will be more than a denominational cathedral, and will make an appeal even to those professing allegiance to no orthodox church, but who, nevertheless, feel that there is a Great Mystery behind Creation, of which they are vaguely conscious, but of which they can form no adequate conception."—[Living Age.

Movies in Germany

Motion pictures in Germany are enjoying runs of many weeks and the larger ones are being run through successive months, according to a report to the Department of Commerce from Consul Rudolf E. Schoenfeld, Berlin. Lack of good films and not their appeal to the fans is given as the reason for the long runs. Germany's production of films has been waning steadily since 1921. In 1922 the total output was 1,221,280 meters, or roundly 35 per cent of the 1921 production. In 1922 the production had dwindled to but 775,783 meters.

"Judge" Was Hard-Boiled

A hint of what may happen to women offenders who appear before women comes from New York City where Mrs. Marion Shaw, 24 years of age, and an actress, opened her vanity case to powder her nose before "Judge" Jean Norris. "You can't make a boudoir of this courtroom," reproved "Her Honor" and ordered the woman, charged with larceny, back to a cell.—[Capper's Weekly.

Rail-Laying Record

What is asserted to be the world's record for relaying rails was established by a crew of men on the Canadian Pacific Railway, New Brunswick district, recently. In two days the men tore up 29.7 miles of old eighty-five-pound rails and replaced them with new. There were 220 men in the gang. According to all available records, the former Canadian record was 11.7 miles, which exceeds that established in the United States—[Indianapolis News.

Helped by Thirty-day Fast

To free his body from poisons, Harry M. Manley, an attorney of Freeport, L. I., fasted for thirty days. He kept up his work and suffered no serious effects, but lost thirty-eight pounds in weight. The loss, he said, was just poisonous, fatty tissues. That ought to interest fat men everywhere.—[Capper's Weekly.

CAMERAMEN HAVE INNING WITH PRINCE

Wales Asks Funny Story So He Can Laugh; Turns Crank of Machine

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SYOSSET (L. I.) Sept. 19.—Press and film photographers met the Prince of Wales by appointment today. It was 12:35 when the royal heir, accompanied by Gen. Trotter, Capt. Lascelles, his secretary; Maj. Solbert, his American aide; Capt. F. C. Tottenham, naval attache at the British Embassy; W. A. Kenyon, of the United States Secret Service; Inspector Clarkson of Scotland Yard and an undersecretary, David Boyle, emerged from the Burden mansion.

The photographers, in a touring car, came slowly up the drive. Already the motion-picture men were turning their cranks. Capt. Lascelles made the cameramen promise the films would not be used in any serial.

"I say, one of you chaps tell me a funny story so I'll laugh," suddenly exclaimed the Prince.

One cameraman mumbled the opening paragraph of a joke about two salesmen and then lapsed into silence.

"I not only would like to, but I shall," quickly rejoined the Prince, and stepped forward. He turned the crank steadily, pointing the shutter this way and that, while the other photographers caught him in this pose.

Then H.R.H. posed in an automobile.

The Prince has tentatively promised to attend the dance of the Firemen's Fair in the firehouse on Brookville Road tomorrow night.

Ex-Dry Agent, Facing Prison, Drinks Poison

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Sept. 19.—C. A. McCarthy, former United States prohibition agent in Florida, who was arrested here last night by Federal authorities on his arrival aboard the steamship President Grant on advices from Florida officials, swallowed poison after packing his clothes aboard the vessel today and died a short time later.

RIVAL OF KLEIG LIGHT DOES NOT HURT EYES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—An invention which may usurp the place held in the motion-picture industry by the powerful Kleig lights has been perfected by Charles Hanson and George Reppert, assistants in the chemistry laboratory at the University of Chicago. The new light, which is five times brighter than any heretofore placed on the market, has the added virtue of not being harmful to the vision.

PORT NOTES

Twenty-two vessels are due today, closing the heaviest week in shipping this year at Los Angeles Harbor. Five of the vessels are passenger carriers, the Pacific Mail Liner Ecuador from the Atlantic with several score passengers, the Calawaii from Hawaii with 170, the British motorship Lochmonar from San Francisco, the Harvard from San Francisco and the Ruth Alexander from San Diego. The Mexican liner Bolivar also was due from Mexican west coast ports, but has been delayed by heavy shipments in the southern ports. Other arrivals will include three tankers, four lumber carriers and ten freighters.

Bookings ahead for the Red Star liner Belgenland, which will touch here on her cruise around the world, already have reached a point that insures the complete success of the trip, although the cruise does not start until December, according to local officials of the International Mercantile Marine Company, her operators. Five hundred persons who will pay more than $1,500,000 in fares are expected to make the trip on the largest liner yet assigned to girdle the globe. A number of her passengers are expected to come from Los Angeles and San Francisco, which she will touch before sailing across the Pacific to Hawaii, Japan, China and the Philippines, en route to Japan, the Straits Settlements, India, Ceylon, Egypt, Italy and the Riviera. The cruise will include ports in fourteen countries and will last 133 days. Further revelations of King Tutankhamen's tomb, expected this winter when Howard Carter resumes his excavating, are said to be adding interest in Mediterranean cruises.

Eagle Boat 12 returned from San Diego yesterday to take out forty-five naval reservists on the season's last cruise from here, starting the 22nd inst. She is commanded by Lieut. W. A. Brunnick. The vessel is the same one which was lost several days off the Mexican Coast two months ago, and on the cruise just completed, brought two sea elephants to San Diego, captured off Guadalupe Island. Motion pictures taken of the strange water herd and the captured pair and other scenes on the trip were exhibited at San Diego two nights ago and shortly will be shown at the reservists' armory at Los Angeles. Teddy, the ship's goat, was given to the destroyer base at San Diego because of consumptive tendencies. The cruise will start from here at 2 o'clock the afternoon of the 22nd inst., proceeding to the Isthmus, Catalina Island, whence they will sail on the 26th inst. for Santa Barbara, on the 28th for Santa Cruz Island, October 1 for Santa Barbara, October 3 for Santa Cruz, October 4 for Santa Barbara and return here October 6.

R. B. Brittan, assistant general passenger agent; R. B. Schuzien, district passenger agent, and William R. McStay, traveling passenger agent of the Admiral Line, left yesterday morning on the Pacific Steamship Company's liner Ruth Alexander for San Diego. They will return here tonight and accompany the San Francisco Elks' party to the Bay City on the returns of the "Bills" from the State convention at Catalina Island.

Another Santa Claus ship arrived yesterday, the German steamer Sachsen from Hamburg, with tons and tons of Christmas toys from huge make-believe elephants, which do many stunts, down to mechanical canaries that warble. The vessel also will discharge several hundred tons of general merchandise at the Los Angeles Steamship Company's docks.

The liner H. F. Alexander arrived from Seattle and San Francisco yesterday with 336 passengers aboard, again upsetting traditions of travel so late in the summer season. Thirty of the passengers took the Ruth Alexander on to San Diego.

NEW YORK CURB

Oils Decline

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Today's curb market was a two-sided affair, the oil issues losing ground in reflection of another series of gasoline and crude oil price cuts, while most of the industrials displayed moderate strength. With few exceptions, the net losses in the oil group were limited to fractions.

The public utilities group was active. American Gas and Electric, Commonwealth Power, American Light and Traction and United Light and Power scored gains of from 1 to 3 points. Hazeltine Corporation and Dubilier featured the radios.

MODERN FIRE FIGHTING

(This is the second of a series of articles on fire fighting by modern methods prepared by the engineering staff of the Committee on Fire Prevention and Engineering Standards of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, from data compiled in the course of its surveys of cities throughout the country. Much of the information was collected by C. A. Whitney.)

THE HAND PUMP

The hand-pump tank is found in only a few municipal departments, but wherever employed it is used to advantage. During the war it served effectively for internal protection of government buildings and was quite extensively employed by Federal fire companies. This appliance is made in both two and one-half and five-gallon sizes and is equipped with a hand-operated pump in one side of the tank, together with a short piece of one-quarter-inch hose fitted with a one-eighth-inch nozzle. One man can easily operate this device and throw an effective stream up to twenty-five feet. One municipal fire department has attached about twenty-five feet of hose to its extinguishers of this type and frequently uses the hand pump for fires in buildings of low value. For outbreaks in uncompleted construction work, where the water supply is limited, this department uses several such hand pumps, carried on a truck. These streams are easily directed at the seat of the fire and the little water available is conserved for emergencies, such as threatened communications. Municipal departments frequently refill the tanks at water taps or from buckets.

The foam type of extinguisher, a comparatively recent product, is now used by many fire departments. It is especially good for hazardous liquids and for oil fires, since it spreads a covering of thick foam over the fire, completely blanketing it and shutting off the supply of oxygen. This extinguisher is made in various sizes ranging in capacity from two and one-half gallons to the stationary type, which contains several thousand gallons. The latter is found mainly at tank farms and oil refineries.

Recently several cities have provided tanks containing 1400 gallons, mounted on an automobile, from which pumps operated by the engine can deliver foam solutions to fires of considerable size where oil is involved. In generaly appearance the smaller size is much like the soda-and-acid extinguisher; in fact, some makers employ the same copper cylinder. The extinguishing agent is sulphate of aluminum and bicarbonate of soda in two solutions, to one of which is added a foam-producing ingredient. The smaller sizes are placed in operation by inverting; the larger, by means of pumps; the chemical action resulting from the mixture of the two solutions producing cardonic-acid gas in minute bubbles, which exist for several hours as a dense foam, completely smothering the fire.

WATER CONSERVATION

In recent years some of the builders of fire apparatus have placed water tanks instead of chemical tanks on their pumping engines and use the tank as suction for the pump. A small line supplied in this way can be placed in operation as quickly as a chemical line, and it has the advantage of maintaining a uniform pressure. The supply is continued indefinitely by connecting the large hose to the suction of the pump.

In a few cities much use is made of one or two lines of three-quarter to one-and-one-half-inch hose, used as an extension to the usual two-and-one-half-inch line. These should be, as they usually are, connected to the shut-off nozzle of the large line, as this permits better control and allows the more powerful stream from the two-and-one-half-inch line to be put into service quickly if it becomes necessary. A small line less than fifty feet long is hardly practicable, since it does not leave sufficient room for easy movement. The use of the water line introduces an element of delay as compared to the used of the chemical lines, for it takes some time to connect and carry in the large hose; but the supply is uniform and at constant pressure and can be continued for an indefinite period.

A stream from a chemical tank offers a quick means of checking the spread of a fire, while the larger appliances are being made ready, and, as frequently happens, the chemicals may be augmented by connecting a large hose to the tank and using water through the chemical hose. The range of use of a chemical stream is limited to the length of the hose, that is, from 100 to 300 feet.

Heavy, dense smoke has always been a serious handicap to effective fire fighting; this is particularly true where the fire is in a basement or cellar or in some place where proper ventilation methods of the ladder men cannot remove the smoke. This smudge is not only objectionable as reducing visibility and as hindering the operations of the men by the discomfort produced, but there is a serious life hazard; the fumes contain carbon monoxide, which is a poisonous gas, and in many cases there are other noxious gases produced by the contents.

[The next article of this series will deal with smoke protection and the turret pipe.]

DAILY MARKET LETTER OF THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Actual trading reports by the association show a continuance of general demand for old-crop raisins. This in all probability will have its effect on the new prices which, it is expected, will be announced between next week and the first of the coming month. Independents are booking some new crop contracts and are doing some spot trading in the 1923 crop.

Prunes show no change in their position. California offerings of large and medium sizes in the 1924 crop are well taken, and buyers generally find the association is showing no signs of re-entering the market, and in all probability will not accept bids until the true position of the market is determined, through the jockeying of factors who will be active in the earlier trading. Apricots are very strong.

CANNED PRODUCTS

The situation in tomatoes appears to have changed very little. Actual sales of quantities of No. 2 at $1.05 are reported. Canners are said to have received offerings of $5 for No. 10s, and it may be possible but is doubtful that No. 3s are available at $1.45.

The possibility of some buyers switching to California offerings of southern packers' ideas is again discussed. California 2½s in puree are offered at $1.15 to $1.20 Coast, or $1.27½ to $1.32½ New York, while solid packs are listed at $1.50 to $1.55 Coast and $1.62½ to $1.67½ New York. The price of canners in the South on No. 3s is $1.45 plus freight, or $1.55 laid down in this market. The differential represents at present 22½ cents.

Corn is attracting considerable attention due to the fact that packers are not inclined to consider bids at this time, and are indicating no surety in the matter of making full deliveries.

Red Alaska salmon shows no great activity in the way of attracting buyers who have not yet made full placements to cover requirements. The market at the source is very firm. Pinks are unchanged. Maine sardines are moving out in a routine way.

Hawaiian pineapple is in stronger position and with the possibility of an increase in the counter demand, due to the narrow differential between it and peaches, many buyers are making placements that are somewhat heavier than those of other years.

California fruits are very firm with packers still holding out off the market and all indications pointing to short deliveries in some lines. Movement of early receipts here is steady.

SUGAR ACTIVE

The sugar market proved a surprise. The period of inaction was looked upon as a test of strength between Cuban interests and refiners. A sale of 50,000 bags of Cubas to a refiner at 4 cents cost and freight, before noon therefore caused the surprise, representing as it did a full 1-4 cent concession from the last previous price. This was soon followed by others. For the day between 150,000 and 175,000 tons for near-by delivery has been sold to refiners at the same price.

There was no change in the position of refined sugar today. Some resale sugar has come upon the market within the last few days and is now selling at from 7 to 7.05 cents.

Raw futures opened steady with May unchanged and other options 2 to 4 points higher. December closed at 2 points advance March unchanged and other options from 4 points up to 7 points down.

The speculative character of the Brazilian coffee market was disclosed today by the Santos cables which quoted futures at 1225 to 2275 reis decline. Rio was considerably more conservative at 100 to 150 reis lower. Local traders either had largely discounted the Brazilian news or disregarded it. The market opened quiet at 3 points advance for December and other options at only 5 to 11 points decline. The tendency was upward and the final prices showed a net gain of 2 to 8 points on sales of 30,000 bags. The closing was March, 15.65; May 15.27; July, 14.85; September, 16.88; October, 16.58; November, 16.37, and December, 16.15.

BEANS AND RICE

Consuming demand for rice in the local market is beginning to show some improvement as the season advances, but so far it has been disappointing. Reports from the south have been favorable. Rice is coming in more freely to the primary markets and the quality has been satisfactory. Prices are steady and unchanged.

A fair amount of new business was reported in standard varieties of beans. Holders of the finest grades of peas are unwilling to do much, if any, shading. Red kidneys are dull; also the white type. Limas are steadier.

The butter market is gradually regaining some of its recent losses, but not to the extent of causing any worry on the part of buyers requiring fresh receipts. Most of the September options have been filled.

It has been a runaway market in eggs this week so far as prices have been concerned. Shortage of new-laid quality, followed by good demand, simply placed the market in the hands of sellers having the quality

METAL MARKET

A deadlock exists in the copper market with producers holding for 13¼ cents and consumers unwilling to pay over 13 cents for electrolytic delivered. It is stated that all of the 13-cent copper has been cleaned up and it is doubtful if any copper can be obtained under 13¼ cents for any position. London cables prices firm and unchanged at £62 5s for standard spot, £63 5s for futures, £66 10s for electrolytic spot and £67 for futures.

Lead is still quotable at 8 cents New York and 7¾ cents a pound St. Louis. London spot advanced 5s to £533 2s 6d and futures 2s 6d to £32 10s.

STANDARD CUTS

The Standard of New York announced a new tank-wagon figure for gasoline of 17c throughout its distributing territory of New York State and New England. This means that consumers will now pay 20 cents at stations. Standard also reduced its price on varnish makers' and painters' naphtha to the same extent, bringing the former to 16 cents wholesale. The cut was met by Atlantic Refining Company. There were more crude-oil cuts also. The Ohio Oil Company reduced posted prices on Wyoming-Montana grades, while Midwest cut Salt Creek crude a like amount to 85 cents a barrel at the wells. In Texas the prices on Archer and Wichita-county crudes were cut 10 cents to $1.25 a barrel by Humble Oil.

Bonds continued to gain ground, but the advances were not large, due to the fact that trading was only moderate. Liberties and the gilt-edged securities were not so prominent in the rise. New issues go well and bankers and brokers find little difficulty in selling high-grade offerings. The speculative rails again furnished the most important upturns, with the I. and G. N. adjustment 6s running true to their record of touching a new high every day, rallied to 62. M. K. and T. adjustment 5s go ex-interest 2½ points on October 1, were in demand around 64 and a fraction. Missouri Pacific general 4s were firmer. The higher grade rails were also in demand, buying being much noted in such issues as New York Central 3½s, Lake Shore 3½s and Union Pacific prior lien 4s. Foreign obligations were quiet, with the French and Belgians making the best gain.

Fractional Rise Is Recorded in Grain Futures

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Trading in grains was largely of a local character, but sufficient buying of wheat by seaboard interests developed to more than absorb the hedging sales, and there was little real opposition to an advance. The finish was ⅛@⅜c higher. Corn, however, acted heavy and while rallying sharply from the inside figures, closed ⅛@⅜c lower. Oats were ⅛ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower and rye ⅝ cent higher.

Speculative interest in wheat has fallen off, and despite the bearish news, prices have held within a range of 3¼@3½c so far this week, with the market showing little indication of getting out of the rut. The pronounced strength in Winnipeg October which closed 2 cents higher had some effect on the local market, as threshing and the movement in the Canadian Northwest is delayed by heavy rains, and hedging pressure is not heavy. There were 2,129,000 bushels delivered at country elevators in the three provinces on Thursday, compared with 5,297,000 last year, with 948 cars loaded against 2429 cars in 1923.

Export demand was only fair, but small as was the total of 700,000 bushels, the removal of hedges was sufficient to offset the hedging pressure. September at one time was only 3¾ cents under December, against 6 cents under recently, and closed 4 cents under at 1.29⅜, while May was 1.39⅜@1.39⅝. Commission houses had numerous resting orders to sell December at 1.34. Crop reports from Argentina were more favorable, while the forecast was for unsettled weather in the United Kingdom, France and Belgium.

Corn fluctuated rapidly within a range of 1⅛@2c and closed at intermediate figures, with September at 1.16@1.15⅝, December at 1.08⅞@1.09 and May at 1.09⅝@1.09⅝. Commission houses were fair sellers, and at one time there was a sharp break, but the offerings were readily absorbed, and with wheat firm, there was little disposition to sell on the breaks. The local element went long on the minor upturns and short on the dips, and in evening-up helped along the erratic action.

Wet and cool weather prevailed over the corn belt and the forecast indicated temperature somewhat below normal for several days, although no frost was predicted. The basis on spot was slightly firmer.

The action of oats was largely a reflection of that in other grains. A decrease in the movement to terminals, with the spot basis ¼@½c better, as compared with December, gave the September a firmer tone than the deferred deliveries. Receipts, 187 cars.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE: A fair clearance was made late yesterday at the low point and today's moderate offerings were slow sellers at about steady prices. The better grades of cows and steers met most action. One load good 1360-pound northern steers topped at $8.60. Two loads medium 1037-pound northerns cashed for $7.50 with a small lot of 1107-pound kinds at $8. Common steers cleared largely from $5.25 to $6.50. Four loads northern cows and heifers averaging around 1000 pounds cashed for $5, while common kinds were fairly numerous downward to $3.50. Canners and cutters were scarce, mostly $2 to $3. Few bologna bulls sold around $3.75.

CALVES: Moderately active demand developed for calves and prices show an advance of 25 cents to 50 cents for the weke. Small lots good 170 to 185-pound Arizonas turned for $8, while load lots of medium to good 206 to 212-pound range calves sold from $6.50 to $6.90, with several small lots from $7.25 to $7.50. Less desirable kinds in a small way sold downward to $5.50.

HOGS: Narrow demand developed for butchers and salesmen had difficulty in finding an outlet for their offerings. Several loads light lights and mixed butchers sold from $11.10 to $11.25, however, good and choice butchers were held around $11.65, but had not sold at a late hour. Packing sows cleared largely from $8.50 to $9.

SHEEP: Nothing was offered in the ovine division and in the general opinion of the trade, all killing classes are quotably steady.

WOOL MARKET

[DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE]

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—The wool market has been quite active during the past week and prices continued to show an upward tendency. Fine wools in about all lines are in demand. The medium and lower grades are also showing improvement. Although the manufacturers continue to buy in fair amounts, trading for the past few days indicates that considerable speculation has been in progress.

Both the wool merchants and the manufacturers have been somewhat cautious of late due in part to the high range of prices prevailing here and abroad. The consensus of opinion has been that both Sydney and London, also the East India sales at Liverpool, would show a higher range of values. The better class of fleece wools has reached a slightly higher level in the past few days, Ohio Delaines having moved at 59 cents in the grease, which would be equivalent to about $1.44@$1.48 per pound clean, this market.

Choice fine staple wools have also advanced, sales having been consummated well up to $1.45 per pound clean. Pulled wools of the better class have moved at a higher figure than for some time past. Sales in this quality having been consummated in considerable volume well up to $1.45 per pound, and a sale of extra choice stock was made during the week at considerably above this figure.

Offers have been made freely through the week on the small amount of Austrian spot wools. South American stock has moved in considerable volume at firmer prices in about all lines. Carpet wool has advanced from ½ cent per pound in most of the lines available. Substitutes, such as Noils and wastes, have recorded new high points. In the goods market business is still slow in the worsted lines. Woolens are picking up slightly, lots that seem to be overpriced are not moving. These which are considered favorably quoted are showing a little better business.

FLEECE WOOLS

Fleece wools have been active at advancing prices. Ohio Delaines of choice stock sold at 59 cents in the grease, and about all houses specializing in this line are holding for 60 cents today. Some feel that these wools are worth even a higher figure, based on the foreign markets. About all lines of the better fleeces have moved up 1 cent per pound in the grease.

Staple wools have shown a fair volume of business through the week. Prices on the finer qualities have advanced several cents per pound, clean basis. Choice fine staple wools are considered worth $1.45, and it is doubtful if a large volume of this grade could be procured at that figure. A fair amount of Northern California wools changed hands on a basis of 53@54 cents per pound in the grease, landed Boston. Some of the houses specializing in the staple wools have reduced their stock considerably, going direct to the mills.

FOREIGN WOOLS

Early Australian reports indicate prices fully equal to Brisbane, which are about 10 per cent up, wools generally burry, good wools scarce. England and continent principal buyers. London: Merinos up 8 to 10 per cent; cross breds, 10 per cent; market very active. Liverpool: Prices up 15 per cent in choice lines; medium white Vicanere, fine superior Jorias, superior white Kandahar wools show most advance; Jorias nearly 20 per cent higher. Great Britain, France and Germany principal buyers. South America: All lines of both Montevideo and Buenos Aires wools have shown some activity. Montevideo fours are held at a higher figure by some houses. South Africa: Interest developing in Cape wools; actual sales negligible of late.

Higher Prices Realized

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: "The London sales and the auctions of Sydney, Australia, have justified the wool dealers' predictions of higher prices. London showed and advance of 10 to 15 per cent on all good wools over July, and Sydney was fully on a parity with Brisbane's sale of a fortnight ago. These strong openings have confirmed the feeling of strength in this market and prices are, if anything, a shade dearer for the week. Export demand continues, but sales have been for limited quantities."

The bulletin will publish the following quotations:

Factory in San Francisco (not incorporated) owned by one man, manufacturing the finest article of its kind, requires funds for the purpose of expansion and to meet rush of present business. No excessive overhead expenses and party investing will receive equivalent protection and profits on his money as owner himself.

Owner will sell outright as follows:

20% of the business $10,000

45% of the business $20,000

This is no fly-by-night proposition but is a business which is established and its products are already in the field where competition is practically eliminated. Owner will not deal with speculators and investors must be of good standing.

First Hand Information on Merced Development

Guests from Over State to be Royally Entertained

Initial Dividend Declared by Bank of America

A special train carrying representatives of Los Angeles investment houses interested in the financing of the irrigation and hydroelectric development of the Merced Irrigation District in the San Joaquin Valley left Los Angeles last night for Merced on a tour of inspection of the project. A similar contingent representing San Francisco investment firms will join the party at Merced.

The visitors are to be guests today and tomorrow of the city of Merced and the Merced Irrigation District, the second largest project of its kind in California. The object of the tour is to enable the visitors to study the district's agricultural possibilities under irrigation, and the hydroelectric resources incidental thereto.

The Los Angeles group consists of about 150 members including the executives of several of the important local houses. San Francisco will send about 100 men, and financial writers from both cities will also be included in the personnel of the excursion.

Co-operating with the city and district in the duties of host are various organizations, including the Merced Chamber of Commerce, the Merced branch of the Automobile Club, the Merced Rotary Club, the Merced Women's Club and Merced Booster Club.

The program includes an automobile tour of the Merced Irrigation District (and of the neighboring Turlock Irrigation District) an inspection of the famous Don Pedro Dam on the Tuolumne River, which is owned jointly by the Turlock and Modesto irrigation districts; and an inspection of the Exchequer Dam and power plant projects on the Merced River.

The engineers in charge of the irrigation and hydroelectric projects will pilot the visitors on the various tours, and the district has secured the assistance of various authorities on California irrigation economics, law and finance, who will address the visitors at a public meeting in the Merced High School auditorium.

The principal bond houses represented on the trip and their executives are: Banks, Huntley & Co., Thomas W. Banks and Earl W. Huntley, vice-presidents; Willis H. Durst, sales manager; Arthur L. Brewer, manager service department; M. H. Lewis & Co., M. H. Lewis, president; C. A. Sheedy, vice-president; W. R. MacCormack, sales manager; California Company, W. G. Kollock, president, Donald H. Armstrong, vice-president; A. E. Van Court, secretary-treasurer and sales manager; Carstens & Earles, Inc., Edward V. Carter, vice-president; Paul Grannis, sales manager; Drake, Riley & Thomas, James Sheldon Riley, vice-president; Robert Casamajor, manager Pasadena branch; Stevens, Page & Sterling, J. R. Page, partner, William Plunkett, Sales manager; Hunter, Dulin & Co., Garretson Dulin, vice-president; Richard Nevins, general sales manager.

INITIAL DIVIDEND

The first quarterly dividend, amounting to 1½ per cent, was declared yesterday by the directors of the Bank of America, according to an announcement made by President Orra E. Monnette. The bank was organized early in 1923, and has made rapid strides since that time, culminating in the recent merger with the Commercial National Bank by which both institutions are operated under the direction of a holding company, known as the America-Commercial Securities Corporation.

At the end of the first year of operations, on February 4, 1924, the Bank of America reported resources of $11,168,017.44, which compared to resources of $1,762,332.87 on the opening day.

Officers of the bank include Orra E. Monnette, president; J. L. Williams, vice-president; W. J. Braunschweiger, vice-president; Jay E. Randall, vice-president and trust officer; A. W. Frye, vice-president and cashier; Byron M. Pattison, vice-president; G. D. Robertson, vice-president, J. L. Van Norman, vice-president; and M. J. Monnette, vice-president. Charles C. Chapman is chairman of the board of directors.

BANK DIVIDENDS

The California Bank and the Merchants' National Bank have notified the Los Angeles Stock Exchange of the declaration of the regular quarterly dividends. Stockholders of the California Bank will receive a dividend of $3.50 payable October 1 to stock of record the 26th inst. The Merchants' National will pay $3.50 on October 1 to stock of record the 30th inst.

QUARTERLY PAYMENT

Directors of the Central Investment Corporation have declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the capital stock, payable October 1 to stock of record the 25th inst.

Assessment No. 9 of 2 cents per share has been levied on the stock of the Ben Hur Divide Mining Company. The assessment is delinquent October 13, and stock on which assessments are not paid will be sold at public auction on November 14. The directors will present to each stockholder paying assessments one-half share of new stock for each share on which payments are made

INCOME-TAX CLASS

Capt. John T. Riley, chief office deputy of the Internal Revenue Bureau, Los Angeles district, will instruct a class in Federal tax law to open under the auspices of the Accountants' Educational Institute, 630 Black Building, Fourth and Hill streets. Instruction will begin October 6.

The Prentice-Hall tax course and service will be used as the basis of instruction, and every phase of income-tax procedure covered during the ten weeks' session.

METAL MARKETS

Daily Review

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19.—Daily Metal Trade today says: "Plate mills at Pittsburg expand operations and enlarge shipments, thus reflecting improved conditions. Chicago pig-iron users bought earlier in the present quarter again are forced into the market to cover large needs, but buying at Pittsburg still is restricted. Coke production in Connellsville regions gains over 3000 tons and over 400 additional ovens are started. Copper at New York firmer at 13 to 13⅛ cents. Zinc lower at 6.17½ cents, and lead easier at 7.85 to 7.90 cents. St. Louis. Tin drops to 47 cents."

DAILY TRADE TALK

Week-end Review Shows Renewed Business Activity; Indications of Prosperity

BY CHAPIN HALL

There has been a further improvement in business conditions during the week, and the feeling of optimistic confidence which has been growing in manifestation for some time is more in evidence than ever. Cooler weather, opening of schools, end of the vacation season and a readjustment preliminary to pre-election and pre-holiday trade have all been effective. New financing is well received, buying has increased, and the reply of business leaders to the usual salutation is almost always couched in impressive assurance that "business is good and getting better." There have been no spectacular developments, but the steady moderate increase in activity backed by the spirit of confidence referred to forms a combination of actuality and psychology which tells its own story.

The Baley review "Pacific Business," epitomizes the situation in this way:

"Business is getting accustomed again to the play of politics and is beating it at its own game, that is, keeping busy with its own purposes and refusing to be sidetracked from its healthy activities.

"General bank clearings exceed 1923 by over $6,000,000,000.

AGRICULTURAL CONDITIONS

"Agricultural conditions have rapidly improved, grain prices being practically as strong as at the close of 1920. Regardless of the pessimists who discount this change for the better, it is certain that the whole country will profit by the returning balance in the farmers' economic position. Live-stock prices, too, are firmer.

"San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank loans to member banks continue to decrease, evidencing the remarkable ease in the money situation. This is also reflected in the decline in business failures which indicates strength of Pacific Slope business.

"The stock exchange barometer suggests active business for six months at least.

"The tending toward more moderate and stabilized cotton prices will benefit business at large, while the wool situation is now more encouraging.

"Lumber production evidences a steady and improved tone, offering real encouragement to the Northwest districts.

"The "old reliable" pig iron barometer turned upward for the first time in four months and rather followed than preceded better sentiment as regards fall business. Increased production, though modest, points to satisfactory business just as in the closing months of 1921.

"Commodity prices are taking a spurt, which encourages the business thought. These firm and steady prices should continue at least for the rest of the year.

"Boom times are not likely, but good times, with careful planning ahead, are in store for the country and the Pacific Slope this winter. Conservative governmental policies seem assured with the approach of the Presidential election and radicalism is being uncovered to the point that it cannot operate dangerously to the welfare of our country."

ANOTHER VIEWPOINT

James B. Clews in his review of the financial situation holds that the best support for the market at the present time is found in the general prosperity of the country. This is well illustrated by the figures compiled by the National Industrial Conference Board and based on a survey covering industries which employ about 700,000 persons. In these industries such reaction of wages as has occurred since the high war peak has been much less than the drop in prices, so that labor is today getting probably 27 per cent more purchasing power in return for its efforts than it had in July, 1914.

Other indications of prosperity are to be found in the improving condition of employment in textile and other industries, which are now enlarging their demand for labor, a situation which is equally characteristic of the steel industry.

Agriculturally, the past few weeks have been gratifying. The government's latest cotton report still holds close to the high figures that were put out some time ago. Wheat has maintained its price, and from those parts of the country that have realized on their crops, reports of genuine prosperity show that the outcome of the harvest period has been extremely satisfactory. This is also reflected in the large sales which mail-order houses and other distributers in the same class are making.

AGENCY REVIEWS

Agency reviews of local conditions at the week-end continue to be conservatively optimistic.

Bradstreet's says that we are on the upward grade with cautious buying and indications that holiday sales will be active in all lines, although possibly not up to last year's totals. Hardware supply houses report a substantial improvement in this month's business, tending to offset a 10 per cent decrease for the year.

Food supply houses continue to be optimistic and sales in the main satisfactory. Wholesale dry goods houses report that August sales have been less than a year ago, but that September sales are on almost the same level as 1923 with indications of much improvement.

Building has shown some increase over previous months, but no new records are expected to be made for the balance of the year. Furniture manufacturers and retailers report sales still lagging. The stock and bond market show improvement. Crops are good with markets somewhat irregular.

Dun's Review says that "business conditions look well to the majority of interests consulted, although, so far, no desire to buy other than carefully is apparent.

"Collections in most lines are quoted as fair, capable of improvement in some. Entire confidence is expressed as the season just starting, progresses, a decided improvement will develop, naturally, as building operations are increasing, crop prospects are favorable, a large number of fall and winter tourists are in sight, the railroads are reported to be spending more money than ever before in Southern California, bank clearings and postal receipts for the first seven months of 1924 present substantial advances over the same period in 1923."

CUSTOMER OWNERSHIP

John Moody, investment expert, in an interview yesterday, said that the tendency toward customer ownership, by bringing the public in as shareholders of the industries which supply them with the services of light, heat and power has stimulated a healthy popular interest in the causes behind the prosperity of the local public service company. Never before have the people demanded as much information about their local utilities as they do today. They are avidly curious about every angle of the business. They are tired to death of the rantings of catchpenny politicians.

The rise in gas company stocks since the first of the year, according to this authority, is only the beginning of a rapidly increasing public interest in this class of securities.

PLANT EXPANSION

About $600,000,000 was put into additional power houses and extensions by the electric light and power industry of the country during 1923, because of the increased demand, according to Investment News.

Included in the list are 116 plants, of which sixty-four are steam generating stations and fifty-two hydroelectric stations. These additions and extensions are more than three times as great as the increase in productive capacity in 1922 and nearly four times the 1,250,000 kilowatt capacity added in 1921.

A. B. A. CONVENTION

Betterment of various types of banking services to the public will be a main theme at the meetings of the divisions and sections of the American Bankers' Association to be held at the fiftieth annual convention of the organization in Chicago, the 29th inst to October 2.

BAD CHECKS

The attention of all business houses is called to the fact that merchants in Los Angeles have been defrauded during the last month of a sum in excess of $15,000, by a man using the name of Martin Lundahl, who has been issuing checks which are returned marked "not sufficient funds." On September 8 the so-called Martin Lundahl purchased two diamond rings from a local jeweler and gave a check for $110 drawn on the Seaboard National Bank of Los Angeles. This check was returned unhonored from the bank, and the jeweler was defrauded of $110.

Capt. J. A. Winn, Commanding the Forgery Detail of the Los Angeles Police Department, states that Martin Lundahl is the subject of a wide-spread search. He is described as a Swede, light blond type, pale blue or gray eyes, age approximately 60 and apparently five feet, ten inches in height. His weight is estimated at 150 pounds and when last seen he wore a dark suit of clothes. On one occasion he stated that he was employed in a cafeteria. If Martin Lundahl or any person resembling him in appearance presents a check, call the nearest police officer or notify the Forgery Detail at Central Police Station, MEtropolitan 6100.

Steel and Iron Conditions on Pacific Coast

BY DON PARTRIDGE

Associate Editor Iron Trade Review

In summing up the condition of the Coast iron and steel markets, Iron Trade review will say this week: "Business conditions as a whole have improved materially during the past month, and a more optimistic tone is noted in the market. The foundry outlook is more promising and the distributors of iron and steel products report the turnover so far this month better than in the corresponding period in August.

"Current buying of hoops and bands continues on a hand-to-mouth basis, but prices are firm at 2.60 cents base Pittsburg, on the heavier gauges, with as high as 3.25 being named on the smaller sizes.

"Demand for merchant bar has improved slightly, but tonnages being booked are still relatively small. San Francisco bar mill operators and distributors are again working in harmony, and the resale price on merchant material has been advanced to 2.85 cents ex-warehouse. Concrete bar business is holding up well, but tonnages placed this week involved small lots only. Pending business aggregates several thousand tons.

"Improvement is noted in the plate market as far as demand is concerned, but prices are still weak at 2.30 c.i.f. coast ports. Projects up for figures total close to 4000 tons, one pipe-line job calling for 1000 tons of plates. The Merced Irrigation District will open bids on the 22nd inst., for 60 and 95-inch pipe, incolving 150 tons.

"Structural shapes are fairly active for this time of year, and awards this week exceeded 2000 tons, exclusive of small jobs, of which 500 tons was secured by Llewellyn Iron Works for the Vernon exchange of the telephone company in Los Angeles. The Minneapolis Steel and Machinery Company was awarded 750 tons for the Albany bridge at Portland. Prices continue at around 2.35 c.i.f.

"Municipal demand for cast-iron pipe on the Coast is at present fairly active, and over 4000 tons are up for figures or pending. William H. Muller & Co., Inc., of California were low bidders on approximately 3000 tons for Long Beach. Some rather heavy tonnages are expected to be placed in the Seattle district shortly."

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Establishment of another new peak price in United States Oil at 36 1-4 was the chief development of interest yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Buying of the stock was steady during both sessions and there was little evidence on the part of holders to take profits.

A decline of 1 1-4 points was recorded in Julian Petroleum preferred at 17 1-2, a point below the opening price. The common lost 1-2 at a final price of 11 1-2. Standard Oil of California dropped 5-8 to 56 1-2 and Shell Union was steady at 16 1-4, Los Angeles Investment slid off 4 cents to 3.61. U. S. Royalties was traded in at 5 1-2 cents.

A gain of 3-8 of a point was registered in Los Angeles Gas 6s of 1942 at 100 3-8. Holly Sugar 7s of 1937 fell 1-2 to 96, and San Joaquin series "B" 6s of 1952 advanced 1-4 to 100.

COTTON MEN AWAIT GOVERNMENT REPORT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Spot cotton closed 40 points net higher to 22.90.

Cotton futures held to a steady tone in quiet trading today. Prices moved within a narrow range, the proximity of the government crop report to be released next Tuesday noon causing a check to business. Moderate early buying caused an advance of 20 to 30 points, but a slight reaction followed on scattered hedge selling and profit-taking. After noon the moderate advance was resumed but trading quieted down and in the last hour values slipped off somewhat. Final prices were 20 to 37 points higher.

TECHNICAL SITUATION IS STRONG

Stock Market Seems to Have Weathered Bearish Developments

A. A. Housman & Co.'s weekly review of the stock market says:

"The sold out technical position of the market has been the most powerful price-making factor this week. Such bearish developments as a general reduction in crude oil prices, a brokerage failure, more dividend passings and a slower improvement in the steel industry have attracted less speculative attention than the action of the directors of Crucible Steel in continuing the common dividend, the improvement in the tire industry and generally better trade news. Under the surface there is a much better feeling over the general political outlook. Commission houses are more inclined to advise buying stocks and there is an increase in public participation.

"Motor shares give promise of doing much better. They are stimulated by reports of small inventories, better regulated production, promise of a good fall selling campaign and the outlook for a good year in 1925.

"We understand there has been a good deal of accumulation by insiders in this group. The motors, it should be remembered, were not purchased in the summer bull movement to any great extent, and so are selling at somewhat lower levels than the general level of industrials.

"Tire and rubber stocks have acted better this week than any other group. In spite of extremely low selling prices for the product, earnings of such companies as Fisk, United States Rubber, Ajax, Goodrich and Goodyear for the current quarter promise to be larger than for any three months since the first quarter of 1923. Although we realize the weak position of this over-expanded industry, we feel that there are still trading profits in some of the stocks.

"The oil stocks are quite unruffled by the latest cut in crude prices and seem to be well bought by those people best in position to judge the real situation in the petroleum industry. For the immediate future, no stimulating developments are anticipated, but the long pull outlook for the oils seems to us to be attractive enough to warrant accumulation on a scale.

"Sugars, as a whole, are not doing quite as well, largely because of weakness in the refined markets, and the slight downward trend in futures, but Great Western Sugar is well bought in expectation that the western beet crop will be sold again at highly satisfactory profits. This company, it can be pointed out, is in a very strong treasury position. An extra dividend later in the year is a possibility.

"Regardless of how much better the market may look we think this is no time to buy stocks first and investigate afterward. The second stage of the bull market is likely to be much more selective than the first, and without doubt there are issues which are entirely unattractive."

MARKET REVIEW

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The bond market made the best showing of activity today. Other markets, both financial and commercial, repeated the more or less unconvincing movements of the last few days. Transactions in bonds, however, were the largest of any day since July, when the "midyear coupon money" was seeking reinvestment, and the trend of prices was upward. United States government bonds again moved fractionally upward, most of them coming within half a point of the year's high prices and some of them selling nearly a full 1 per cent above this month's lowest prices. This may be regarded as automatic response to the remarkable money situation; advancing bond prices in the last half of September are not a familiar spectacle.

Prices on the stock exchange moved in complete uncertainty. Even where changes of a point or more for the day occurred, they were as apt to be declines as advances; there was no definite trend to prices. No one had expected the stock market to make any response to Mr. La Follette's overnight deliverance, and none was made. In a different mood, speculative Wall street might have made capital of the third party leader's formal announcement that he expected to be chosen President. As it was, Wall street merely put the prediction down as another instance of this year's curious campaign psychology. The day's transactions on the stock exchange were the smallest since Tuesday, but not down to the recent low-water mark.

Another slow decline in exchange on Europe brought sterling nearly 4 cents under the month's best price with the franc also sharing in the moderate decline. There is still reason to believe that this downward tendency of rates results directly from our large export of produce, present and prospective. Bradstreet's report on the week's shipment of wheat and flour shows an increase of 2,000,000 bushels over the largest weekly outgo of this season; the 12,227,000 total exceeds this week in 1923 by 6,800,000. It has not been matched at this time of year since 1921, when the Chicago cash price of wheat fell from $1.80 per bushel in July to $1.00⅛ in November, and when Europe bought heavily in the fall.

On September 1, that year, wheat exports touched the highest recorded weekly figure of 15,285,000 bushels. This week is not far behind that record, and export of grain is usually largest in October and November. Bradstreet's returns include exports from Canada, a fact which does not make these comparisons any more unfavorable to the United States, since Canada has a much smaller crop on which to draw this season.

Market Discards Politics

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Stock market averages:

	20 Industrials.	20 Rails.
Friday (*)	102.41	90.22
Thursday	102.46	90.32
Week ago	100.88	89.76
High, 1924	104.13	93.15
Low, 1924	90.27	81.00

Total sales—772,800 shares.
*Ex-dividend $1.25.

Speculative interest in today's stock market centered in a limited number of specialties which were bid up briskly on reports of special developments. Bear traders, who endeavored to create a political scare simultaneously with the opening of the La Follette campaign in the East made little headway, the few recessions among standard industrials being limited to fractions.

An even score of stocks attained new peak prices for the year. These included such widely diversified issues as American Tobacco A and B, Worthington Pump, United Drug, Postum Cereal, Air Reduction, Maxwell B, G. R. Kinney, American Bank Note, American Radiator, Public Service of New Jersey and Western Pacific. In addition, Missouri Pacific preferred, Studebaker and American Express duplicated their previous top prices.

Trade news was mixed in character, the weekly mercantile reviews called attention to a perceptible broadening in demand in many quarters. This was offset, however, by further cuts in gasoline prices, omission of the preferred dividend on Jones Brothers Tea and failure of the directors of the Gulf, Mobile and Northern to put the preferred stock on a 6 per cent basis.

Pivotal industrials showed inconsequential changes. United States Steel common sold down to 107 3-4, but good buying support was provided and the stock rallied at 108⅛, where it was unchanged on the day.

Tobacco issues again appeared to be under accumulation, American Tobacco A and B rising 4 3-8 and 4 points, respectively. Schulte stores and Lorillard each closed at about a point higher. The Maxwell Motor issues responded to reports of increased sales, General Motors new stock, traded in for the first time, opened at 61 3-4, but eased a point in subsequent transactions.

Revival of speculative interest in the baking issues resulted in a jump of 7 points in General Baking. National Biscuit moved up more than 2 points to a new top at 70 1-4.

Strength of Kinney & Co. reflects earnings of $6.59 a share on the common in the first six months, which is believed to forecast an early resumption of dividends.

Rails held relatively steady with good buying noted in Canadian Pacific, International Railways of Central America preferred and some of the western carriers.

Call money ruled unchanged at 2 per cent. The demand for time money slackened but there was no change in rates. Commercial paper rates held steady with business quiet.

Foreign exchange rates continued reactionary with business dull. Demand sterling ruled about half a cent lower around $4.45 3-4, while French francs showed a loss of about 2 points around 5.30 cents.

PRODUCE MARKET IN SAN FRANCISCO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. — Trading in fruits and vegetables was rather dull today. Prices on raspberries and cantaloupes were slightly lower. A few boxes of Washington cranberries were selling at 6.75@7.00 per 30-pound boxes. Holdings of apples in local storages amounted to 1885 boxes.

Berries, per drawer: Strawberries, 70@85; fancy, 85@90; raspberries, 35@45; few higher; blackberries, 30@50; huckleberries 15@17 pound.

Cantaloupes: Crates, Turlock, standards, 1.00@2.75, pony, 75@1.00; flat, 75@1.00; rivers, 1.00@1.50 lug; Nevada standards, 1.50@1.75; flat, 75@1.00.

Kentucky Wonder and Blue Lake beans were weaker under fairly liberal receipts. As a result of lower quotations at shipping points, prices on sweet potatoes now range from 5¼@5½. The quality of green corn was generally unsatisfactory.

Tomatoes: Local, 75@1.10 large lug; fancy stones, 1.25@1.50.

Receipts: Flour, 4604 quarter sacks; wheat, 1619 centals; corn, none; potatoes, 487 sacks; onions, 800 sacks; hay, 22 tons; hides, 1080; lemons and oranges, none. Live stock, none. Barley, shipping, 2.75@2.85. Hay, unchanged.

Kopy Katz Fete Alma Whitaker on Eve of Trip

In truly barbaric splendor, the Kopy Katz, an organization of newspaper women, last evening entertained with a farewell party for Alma Whitaker at the home of Grace Frye on West Twenty-eighth street. The honor guest is to leave shortly for a trip through the East to be gone during the winter months.

In order to do honor to the event her sister Katz presented her with appropriate gifts. In a recent article in The Times, Alma Whitaker condemned the popular use of beads by women, stating that it was reverting to barbarism. Consequently, last evening in the midst of a barbaric ceremony, she was presented with string after string of wild and unique beads, until she was too weighted down to move.

Several newspaper men and women throughout this vicinity sent telegrams bearing startling and interesting wishes for a good trip. Among the women who attended last evening's event were representatives from every newspaper in the city and many magazines. The "nose for news" was parked outside the door and the affair was informal and hilarious.

Nineteen Held by Jurors for Federal Trial

The Federal grand jury yesterday returned nineteen indictments. Those indicted, with the charges, are as follows: altering and passing altered foreign security, Frederick C. R. Muir; Harrison Narcotic Act violation, Rex Ramsey, William H. Hale, Jose Garcia, Fred Brown, Joseph Marvin; Jones-Miller Act and Opium Act, Wong Wing Hui; entry without a passport, Filippe Giusti, Angelo Palmieri, Antonio di Sabato, Giuseppe Cambrianca, Giuseppe Caldelari, Batista Brighenti, Pietre Tegsi, Domenico di Renza and Angela Mocci; immigration law, Agostino Zelenzi and Guiseppe Morinoni.

All those named already have been arrested.

RESTORE CAR STOPS, MERCHANTS REQUEST

Merchants of Hollywood yesterday entered a complaint to the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce that eliminated stops on the Pacific Electric line has resulted in injury to their business. The merchants ask the chamber to aid in having the stops restored. An investigation revealed that 25 per cent of the eliminated car stops have been restored and all others will be restored November 1.

MAY ADD POSTOFFICE

Belief was expressed in Hollywood yesterday that another branch postoffice will be erected here, after the calling to Washington of Postal Inspector Hall of the Los Angeles main postoffice to confer with officials concerning another Hollywood branch. The movement started several weeks ago in Hollywood to obtain a part-pay station in the business district was stopped when Hall was called East.

The Wrath to Come

By E. Phillips Oppenheim

SYNOPSIS

Grant Slattery, wealthy American and secret service attache, while sojourning in Monte Carlo, meets his former fiance, Gertrude, as Princess Von Diss. Lord Yeovil, British Premier, with the assistance of Grant's strategy—succeeds in obtaining the International Congress to issue an invitation to the United States to join the world pact. They discover a German-Japanese plot led by Blunn, a German industrialist, and Itash, Japanese attache, to isolate the United States from the pact with a view to later annihilating it. Susan, Yeovil's daughter, proves of great assistance to Grant; displaying affection for him and no little jealousy of Gertrude, who despite her marriage to Von Diss, attempts to renew Grant's love. A French danseuse discarded by Itash reveals Japanese phases of the plot; Gertrude endeavoring to regain his affections reveals Blunn's aims to German domination. Grant sails for the United States to impress upon the United States the necessity of joining the pact. Gertrude stows away on the yacht; revealing further machinations of the plotters. Upon arrival in New York reporters engulf him; he disclaims the rumored stowaway; dilating upon the duty of the United States to enter the pact.

"I see," Havers murmured. "You probably have a little more information up your sleeve, Mr. Slattery."

"I have a few more things to say," Grant confessed. "But I think I've given you fellows something to be going on with. I noticed that one of our well-known politicians, in rather a flamboyant speech last night, declared that America has no enemies. It is a foolish statement to make. Those three black balls proved the contrary."

"America has done very well so far by keeping out of the Pact," Booker remarked.

"She occupies a mighty powerful position as a looker-on," Havers declared.

"All that belongs to the past," Grant explained earnestly. "America's policy in keeping out of all these compacts except the Limitation of Armaments may have been a sound one. Personally I am inclined to contest it. However, it is of the future we have to think. Times and conditions have changed. You must remember too that the constitution of the Pact is peculiar. Subscription to its principles and inclusion in its membership make war between any of the nations belonging impossible. On the other hand any member or members of the Pact may make war against any nation outside the Pact without breaking their covenant. In fact, it would be against its established principles for any nation belonging to the Pact to intervene."

"You're not seriously suggesting, Mr. Slattery," Booker inquired, after a brief silence, "that any nation or combination of nations would dream of attacking the United States?"

"I have not said so, but I see nothing absurd in the idea," Grant asured them. "We are a mighty country in wealth, man power and brains, but we have faithfully obeyed the statutes of the Limitation of Armaments and we are today no stronger than many a poorer country, either on land or on sea. A combination of any two powers you can name would have the advantage of us."

"It would take a great deal to start a war scare in this country," Havers remarked with a smile.

"There were a great many people who didn't believe war was possible in 1914," Grant pointed out. "It came, nevertheless. The trouble is that the United States of America are governed too much by men who have never left their own country. To them America is omnipotent. To us, who have traveled and seen other things, she is not."

"We've got something more than we expected from this visit," Jim Havers admitted frankly. "I won't promise you that my paper, for one, is going to record your views sympathetically, Mr. Slattery. But whether they put them up like a puppet horse, to knock them down again, or whether they espouse them for their own, there's going to be some big type used."

"I'm quite content," Grant replied. "I'm here to be laughed at, if you will. But I'm here to tell you what I believe to be the truth, and I'm going on to Washington with a few more little facts to lay before some friends of mine up there. I want to see America accept that invitation, naturally, cordially, and freely. Then I am going to throw my hat into the air. And I shall have cause to do it too."

"I'd like a few more of your reasons for adopting this attitude," Havers suggested.

"You won't have them today," Grant told them bluntly. "I have an appointment with an important person in the newspaper line later in the day, and I am going to Washington on Thursday. When I get back we'll see how things go. I have some more facts up my sleeve, but I've got to build up my case. Good morning, gentlemen. Take another cigar, won't you, Mr. Havers? Glad to see any of you when I get back from Washington."

They filed out with a handshake and a word of thanks. Miss Phoebe Smiles lingered behind. She waited until the door was closed. She was very neatly and smartly dressed. She had an appealing air and an exceedingly engaging smile. She smiled now at Grant.

"Mr. Slattery," she begged, "you might tell me the truth about that romantic stowaway."

"My dear young lady," he replied, "I have already told you, you and the others, that the story was a fabrication."

"That's all very well for the others," she pleaded, "you see they are good chaps and sportsmen and they could not press the point, with a lady in it. But the story's bound to come out, Mr. Slattery, and I should know just how to handle it. You were once engaged to marry the Princess von Diss, weren't you?"

"Yes, and she jilted me," Grant acknowledged. "What is the object of reminding me of that little episode, Miss Smiles?"

"Now you're angry," she cried regretfully. "I'm so sorry. Only, you see, Mr. Slattery, journalism is so much more difficult for a woman than a man and it would be such a wonderful thing for me if you felt inclined to tell the truth about that stowaway."

He opened the door.

"Miss Smiles," he said, "I can only add this to what I have already told your fellow-visitors—she took milk three times a day and scraps when she could get them. But here is your scoop as you insist upon it. She had green eyes, green passionate eyes, and her name was not Lizzie at all, it was Henrietta. Come back when the others come, won't you, Miss Smiles."

The young lady smiled and pouted a little.

"You look so nice and yet you're so hard," she complained, lingering on the threshold.

"You are mistaken. I am really very susceptible," Grant assured her. "That is why I am going to lock my door as soon as you are out of sight."

She heard the key turn in the lock as she made her way toward the passage from which the lift descended. Whilst she waited she looked at herself in the glass and gave a little sigh. She was not used to rebuffs.

"It must be this hat," she decided, giving it a little push on one side. "I was never sure about it. Down, please."

Chapter II

Grant, a little later in the morning, presented himself at the office of the newspaper in New York which was generally considered to be the most influential and weighty in the metropolis. Its correspondents were to be found in every capital of the world. One of the editors was received weekly at the White House. It stood for what was sane and beneficent in American legislation and the cause which it espoused was seldom known to languish. The editor, Daniel Stoneham, was an old friend of Grant's, and on sending up his card he was shown at once into his presence. The two men shook hands warmly.

"Good man, Grant!" Stoneham exclaimed. "Glad to see you back again. One hears of you hobnobbing with kings and prime ministers and the great people of the earth. Quite time you showed a little interest in your own country."

"Well, I'm here on the old job," Grant declared, sinking into the easy-chair to which his friend had pointed and accepting a cigarette.

"The deuce you are!" the other observed, with some surprise. "I thought since you had become a millionaire you'd turned slacker. I have not heard anything of you for a year or so."

"I've been doing much more difficult and unpleasant work than ever before in my life," Grant confided. "I've been doing secret service work which is only half official. That is to say, that if I get into trouble I'm not acknowledged and if I do any good work the Department gets the credit. That doesn't matter though. The point is that I've made a scoop on my own. There's trouble brewing."

"What sort of trouble?" Stoneham demanded. "Do you mean anything in connection with the invitation from Nice?"

"Well, I'll tell you this for one thing. That invitation would never have been sent but for me."

"Say, you're not pulling my leg, are you?"

"I was never more in earnest in my life. It was touch and go with Lord Yeovil's proposition. There were three votes against it. Four would have barred it. The fourth man had been bought for £50,000. I imitated the methods of the adventurous novelists and abducted him. I kept him out at sea all night and the voting took place without him. If he'd got there in time,, Lord Yeovil's motion would have been defeated, America would never have been invited to join the Pact and the trouble which is even now brewing against her would have developed very rapidly."

"Serious business this, Grant," Stoneham remarked.

"The most serious part of it is that it's the truth," Grant rejoined dryly. "However, the first stage in the battle has been won. The invitation has been dispatched to Washington. Now I tell you where the second stage of the battle begins and where America will need the aid of every one of her loyal citizens. There will be, without the slightest doubt, an immense and cunningly engineered propaganda to prevent America's accepting that invitation. I want to fight that propaganda, Daniel. I want you to help me."

The editor sat back in his chair and his thoughtful gray eyes studied Grant's face.

HER LITTLE BROTHER

He was the little brother. Sister's young suitor was waiting patiently in the drawing-room and Tommy opened fire with:

"Are you going to propose to my sister tonight?"

"Why, I—er—er—er—what do you mean?"

"Oh, nothing; only if you are you ain't going to surprise her. At dinner just now she bribed me an' my little brother to go to bed at half past seven. She's hung four Cupid pictures on the wall, moved the sofa over in the dark corner, got ma and pa to go calling next door, shut the dog in the cellar, an's been practicin'. 'Because I Love You' on the pianner all the afternoon."—[Detroit Free Press.

French Physiologist Responsible for Gland Theory

At the age of seventy-two years Brown-Sequard, a noted French physiologist, who had been at one time professor of the physiology of the nervous system and its diseases at Harvard University, injected into his body a serum made from the secretions of certain animals. The results which followed this were so remarkable that they attracted the attention of physicians and the public all over the world. Brown-Sequard announced that he had restored his youth.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, prepared in tablet form provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen, for men and women, is obtainable at Chambers Drug Co., 1st and Broadway; Henderson-Chambers Drug Co., 3rd and Main; Blaney-Chambers Drug Co., 7th and San Pedro and 5th and Los Angeles; in Long Beach at Oakford Drug Co., 211 Pine ave.; in San Pedro, Wilmington and Torrance at Beacon Drug stores.

HAD TO LET HOUSEWORK GO

So Ill Husband had to do the Work. Completely Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

South Bend, Indiana.—"I was all run-down, tired out, and had pains in my back and bearing-down pains. I was so sore I could hardly drag myself around and was not able to do a bit of housework. My husband worked all day in the shop, and then came home and helped me at night. The doctors said I had female weakness, and there was no help but to be operated upon, and of course that would cost us a great deal. My husband heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the factory and one night he stopped at the drug store and bought me a bottle of it. I had begun to think there was no help for me, but I took three bottles of it and now I feel like myself once more. The price for three bottles wasn't so much as the doctor had charged. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough."—Mrs. DORA OSBORNE, 430 Sherman Ave., South Bend, Indiana.

OPEN DAILY FOR INSPECTION

Those interested in learning how scientifically as well as practically, the ancient custom of entombment has been adapted to meet modern requirements are invited to visit the temple-like structures of the California Mausoleum Company, where attendants are on hand daily for the reception of visitors. By application at the Offices of the Company, 206 Harris Bldg., 110 West 11th St., arrangements can be made to be taken by automobile to one or other of the Mausoleums.

There really is no other way to gain a true idea of the beauty and utility of buildings, surroundings and methods than by actually seeing with one's own eyes these "Chaste Temples" where entombment for perpetuity is provided in such sweet peace and simple dignity.

Illustrated booklet may be had by those unable to visit the Mausoleums, by telephoning MAin 1534.—[Advertisement.

BROTHER OF SLAYER CONVICTED OF TH

LARCENY IN JULY OF A ESTABLISHED AT TRIAL OF ROBERT PERRY

A verdict of guilty was returned in the court of Judge Collier yesterday against Robert Perry on a charge of grand larceny. Perry was accused of the theft of an automobile owned by Joe Star July 19, last. He is the brother of Lewis Perry, who, with [illegible] Bailey and Ed Montijo, is under sentence to hang for the murder February 14, last, of Officer [illegible] Bond, who was killed by bandits.

Edward Stokes, a witness for Robert Perry, attempted to establish an alibi for the accused. Cross-examined by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan, who prosecuted the case, Stokes admitted he committed a murder when he was 16 years of age and that he was convicted five times in Texas for robbery.

OOLIDGE RALLY LAN COMPLETE

torium at Headquarters Ready for Tonight ericks and Lineberger on Speakers List

men of Party to Conduct Hermosa Meeting

Republican leaders of Southern California have completed arrangements for the rally which is to mark the opening of the Coolidge headquarters in the southern part of the State tonight, it was announced by party officials yesterday. Band music, red fire and all of the other campaign accessories promise to make [illegible] one of the most enthusiastic since the last national campaign, they declared.

Speakers who have been invited to address the gathering are Congressman John D. Fredericks and [illegible] F. Lineberger, Miss Belle [illegible] Roberts, Long Beach publisher; Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, director of Coolidge-[illegible] women's activities; Mrs. O. [illegible], National Republican Committeewoman of California; Buron Fitts, Chief Deputy District Attorney, former American Legion commander of California and director of Coolidge-Dawes ex-service men's activities; Mrs. Helen Matthewson Laughlin, dean of women of the University of California, Southern Branch; Joe Scott, local [illegible]; Rex Goodcell, collector of internal revenue, and former Senator Frank P. Flint.

HALL TO SEAT CROWD

Work has been in progress during the last ten days getting the headquarters at 425 South Spring street ready for the opening. Squads of workmen have completed the assembly hall, which is expected to seat the crowd which will attend. In view of the great amount of interest in the campaign, headquarters officials declared that they have provided a number of rooms for overflow meetings which will make it possible for every person who attends to hear the speakers.

Special supplies of Coolidge automobile stickers have been provided and will be distributed at the meeting. Republican platforms in pamphlet form, as well as other booklets will be available for those who attend the meeting.

CHALLENGE TAKEN

Republican women of Redondo, Hermosa, Manhattan Beach and El Segundo will conduct their first big meeting this afternoon at Hermosa City Hall. An organization which will push the Coolidge-Dawes cause in the south district of the county is to be formed at the meeting, it was announced yesterday. Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Josephine Winn, president of the Republican Study Club, and [illegible] A. Stearns, local club [illegible] and chairman of the Republican women's precinct organization, will be the principal speakers at the meeting.

It is understood that Republican leaders of the bay district have accepted the challenge issued at a recent meeting by Long Beach party officials and that an intense effort will be made to get a greater percentage of voters to the polls November 4 than ever before. [illegible] Roberts has offered a prize to the community which polls the highest percentage vote at the coming election.

It is understood that the Long Beach challenge will be accepted by a number of other cities and that a hot race is soon to be

HOPES TO STREW ROSES FOR FLYERS

Gladys Roy

GLADYS ROY, young parachute jumper, who seriously injured herself four months ago by a fall from a horse, had to hurry and convalesce for a particular purpose.

When the world flyers left Clover Field Miss Roy had the distinction, privilege and pleasure of strewing roses in the path of the planes as they were taking off.

Now she is waiting the return of the flowers to Clover Field to strew more roses in welcoming them back.

Miss Roy, who is 24 years of age, holds two world's records in parachute jumping, the high record for women, with a descent of 16,100 feet, and the low record for both men and women, with a drop of 100 feet.

She injured her spine in the mishap that kept her in the Good Samaritan Hospital for several months. She left the hospital a few days ago, and expects to complete her recuperation by attempting hazardous stunts in leaping from airplanes.

Cafe at Venice May be Closed Following Raid

Proceedings to close Wayside Inn, on Washington Boulevard, near Venice, were announced yesterday by George Contreras, head of the county dry squad, following a raid Thursday night. In the raid, Tom Arark, lessee of the cafe, was arrested and charged with selling liquor. The owners, Frank Brenen and Pat Mellon, were charged with maintaining a nuisance.

They were held in $2000 bail by Justice Wilson at El Monte.

This is the start of a campaign, Contreras said, to close up all places selling liquor under the abatement provisions of the Wright Act. Contreras placed officers in charge of the inn with directions to keep the doors closed.

LEAVES $100,000 ESTATE

An estate valued at $100,000 was left by William T. McLaughlin, who died the 10th inst., according to a will fil l for probate yesterday. The estate is left in equal parts to his widow, Laura E. McLaughlin, 308 North Arden Boulevard, and two daughters.

TAILOR-FENCE ENDS LIFE

Louis Ballestero, the soft-spoken diminutive tailor exposed by police as a master fence, took advantage of a temporary lapse in the watchfulness of his detective guards yesterday to whip a razor across his throat and end his life.

A few minutes after his death, Deputy Constable Charles G. Flood of Whittier, the man who had worked up the case against Ballestero and caused his arrest, was himself taken into custody in connection with an entirely different

The dramatic death of Ballestero and the arrest of Constable Flood took place in the little tailor shop at 414 Sunset Boulevard, the rooms of which had been turned into a veritable storehouse of plunder.

NOT UNEXPECTED

The tailor was sorting over the lot of loot piled in a mass on tables and shelves at the rear of the shop, with the detectives nearby, when he picked up the razor from the bottom of a pile of clothing. Detectives and Flood, rooted to the spot by surprise, saw the suspect draw the blade across his throat and fall over the table, his life ebbing out of the jagged

Deputy Constable Flood had accompanied the detectives and Ballestero to the shop to pursue his investigation into the latter's connection with a series of recent burglaries at Whittier. It was his discovery of a tag on the person of a burglar suspect he had arrested which led to the raid on the tailor shop Thursday night and the discovery of the greatest cache of plunder found by police in years.

The deputy constable was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Allen and Sweesy. He was taken to the District Attorney's office to be questioned in regard to the death of Ray Colima, brother of Bert Colima, idol of the Whittier boxing fans.

Colima, whose real name was Rudolf Romero, was shot and fatally wounded by the constable at Los Nietos last Sunday night. He died yesterday at a Whittier Hospital and Flood's arrest was ordered by the District Attorney's office.

The shooting came at the climax of a free-for-all battle in which Colima was said to have been a participant. Constable Flood attempted to separate the combatans. They turned on him, however, and one of them felled him. The officer drew his revolver and fired at his assailants, wounding Romero.

Detectives descended on Ballestero's shop, Thursday night. There they found Ballestero and his wife, who made their home in the rear of the shop. The detectives placed the tailor under arrest and the plunder, including ten suit cases full of rings, watches and other jewelry, was loaded into several automobiles and taken to police headquarters for identification by victims of recent burglaries.

CONFESSION TAKEN

At the police station Ballestero was subjected to a searching cross-examination and confessed, the detectives announced that he was the "fence" and financial genius of a group of bandits and thieves, who converted the proceeds of their work into cash at his place.

NEW MARK SET IN FLIGHT FUND

Contributions for Day Pass $1000 Mile Post

Letter Brings Check from Woman in Omaha

Daily Deposits of Money is Asked by Treasurer

Going up!

Contributions reported yesterday to the Southern California Appreciation Fund for the world flyers crossed for the first time the $1000 mark. The total for the day was $1072.10 and the known total received to date is $3872.03.

One letter brought a check all the way from Omaha. The sender, Mrs. B. C. Stewart, either receives the Los Angeles newspapers or keeps in touch by radio.

"May I add," she writes, "my (widow's) mite? I only wish it might be ten times ten, but perhaps half a loaf is better than no bread. Anyway, I shall feel happier for having done even a little bit. Hoping you will get a huge sum for them, I am, etc."

ROMANCE REVIVED

"The idea for the fund," says the writer, "is splendid. All the young men returning have romantic souls, else they would not have gone. All were perfectly courageous to the last degree and blessed with a perfect moral fortitude, else they would not now be returning.

"The edge of the pleasure to them in their successful physical and romantic accomplishment will not be dulled, but sharpened, by a substantial voluntary gift, as it will show to them that, while we perforce remained on the solid earth, we were not all 'of the earth, earthy' but that every time they took off the ground and breasted the tempests of the uncharted upper air, our hearts were with them, our blood flowed faster, our souls glowed with the sustenance of finer impulses and with pride in the thought that they were men of our race; that they were, in fact, our young men and that they were doing a very great thing in the grand manner that we would have it done.

"It would show them, in fact, that under the spur of their own romance, they had revived the saving spirit of romance in us."

ITALIANS CONTRIBUTE

Another contribution that stirs the emotions comes from the Circolo Italiano (Italian Circle) of Los Angeles, which yesterday sent in through its secretary, Augusto Bissiri, its check for $25, and pledged another $25 at an early date for the American seaman aboard the United States cruiser Richmond, who first sighted Locatelli, the Italian airman, who was forced down by motor trouble off the coast of Greenland.

Neither the members of the committee, which received the check nor the members of the circle who sent it know the name of that lookout, but they may be assured that it will be learned and money reserved for him.

Of the total reported yesterday $447.35 was contributed through The Times, $372 through the Santa Monica "Outlook," $108 through the Citizens' State Bank of Santa Monica and the First National Bank of Ocean Park and $144.75 through J. A. Graves, treasurer of the fund.

The Appreciation Fund Committee and Mr. Graves renewed their appeal yesterday for prompt remittances from local depositories—all banks and all newspapers that are receiving contributions for the fund. The Santa Monica contributions listed above, for instance, have not yet been turned in to the central treasurer.

DEPOSITS URGED

All persons and agencies which are collecting money should deposit it daily. All banks and newspapers receiving contributions should report promptly to the treasurer, J. A. Graves, Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles.

Particularly will this be imperative beginning next Monday, when the many forces already set to work begin to make themselves felt in earnest. On that day 200 solicitors representing the clubs and civic associations, which have indorsed the fund will canvass thoroughly the downtown office buildings. Industrial and mercantile groups are being looked after through the highly efficient associated secretaries.

Consent was obtained from the police department for the Salvation Army to station its workers on Tuesday at busy downtown corners, outside populous office buildings and at the entrances to banks, department stores and other points of vantage.

This is the first time that the Salvation Army ever has lent its services to any cause save its own. It does so now only because it wishes to join a community movement, as acknowledgement of the many favors it has received from Southern California at large.

NOTE GIVES FIRST CLEW TO MARTINS

Stepfather Keeps Futile Vigil After Anonymous Note Promises Return

A mother's heart, grieving over the disappearance of her two young daughters, beat with anticipation yesterday when an anonymous letter was received by her husband stating that if he would appear on a certain street corner in Venice at 10 a.m. the children would be delivered to him unharmed. The letter was received yesterday at 11:30 a.m. by Paul Buus, stepfather of the missing Martin sisters, Nina and May, whose mysterious disappearance on the evening of August 23, last, has precipitated a nation-wide search.

Venice police noted the watching man. When several hours had passed, he was accosted and questioned. His answers were evasive. The officers were almost obliged to use force to move him from the corner. At the police station Buus told his story. Los Angeles police were at once notified.

Chief of Detectives Home immediately dispatched every available officer and detective to the beach city. There they were joined by Nick Harris detectives, who had been notified by Mrs. Buus, and Venice police and a cordon were thrown around an area of four blocks. At a late hour last night no trace of the girls had been found. The stepfather, however, refused to leave Venice, believing the girls are hidden there somewhere.

The letter to Buus was written on the upper margin of a newspaper and in a clear handwriting. An effort is being made to trace the letter. Aid of Federal authorities will be asked.

Escorted by a police detail Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor of the Angelus Temple, and several hundred members of her party, visited Chinatown last night in search of the missing girls. This was done after Mrs. McPherson and her party conferred with Lieut. Hollowell, head of the vice squad. Led by Detective Lieutenant Davis, Sergt. Simpson and Sergt. Sweetnam, Mrs. McPherson was unable to find any trace of the girls.

KEYES NOT CONSIDERING NEW AIDES

Men Under Civil Service Have Right to Oppose Ouster, Says Fitts

No applicants are under consideration now for the twenty-five positions which will be declared vacant on October 15 in the District Attorney's office, according to an announcement made by Chief Deputy District Attorney Fitts yesterday. The list of office holders whose resignations will be accepted has not been announced, but it is known to contain the names of three deputies and twenty-two investigators and other employees of the office.

Mr. Fitts made the announcement of the clean-up in the District Attorney's office when he returned from San Francisco, where he had been in secret conference with Dist.-Atty. Keyes last Wednesday. He stated that other dismissals probably would follow. The names of Maxwell Burke and Frank Ey, both deputies, and Harry Raymond and Jack Dymond, investigators, were on the list of those slated to go. Raymond was appointed a short time ago by Mr. Keyes to head his squad of detectives.

"We have no announcement to make at this time," declared Mr. Fitts yesterday. "Mr. Keyes is still in San Francisco and, I believe, is leaving there tomorrow. I can say that at the present time I know of no one under consideration for the positions which will be open in October. All of the men that are to leave the office have been notified by me and will have the right, if under civil service, to fight this move."

Mr. Fitts said yesterday that he will return to San Francisco early next week to take an active part in the Coolidge campaign.

NEW ITALIAN BAND TO MAKE DEBUT SUNDAY

QUIZ STARTS ON ATTEMPT AT LYNCHING

Sheriff's Office Inquires Why Deputies Neglected to Report Promptly

An investigation was started in the Sheriff's office to determine why a threatened lynching in Hawthorne Wednesday night was not reported until yesterday, although Elliott Hoover of 812 Jefferson street, Hawthorne, accused of an attack on a 6-year-old girl, had been in jail ther for two days. The lynching was averted, according to Deputy Sheriffs Coulter and Gill, when they leveled sawed-off shotguns at a mob of sixty men surrounding the Hawthorne jail and threatened to shoot if they did not fall back.

City Marshall Phillips of Hawthorne arrested Hoover on charges of asserted mistreatment of Beverly Mansion, 6 years of age, of 300 East New York street, Hawthorne, and lodged him in the Hawthorne jail. News of the arrest aroused the community, and within a short time a crowd gathered at the jail and threats of lynching began to be heard.

Phillips telephoned the Sheriff's office for aid and Deputies Collins and Gill were sent over as fast as gasoline could take them. They found the jail still intact, but the crowd growing more threatening in its attitude, they reported. They had to force their way through to the jail door.

"Fall back sixty feet or we'll shoot," the deputies ordered, and the crowd complied.

Then they hustled Hoover out to their car, guarding him with their weapons, and hurried him to Los Angeles.

But the deputies made no report of the occurrence at the time and the lateness of their report caused an inquiry to be started.

WATER AND POWER ACT DENOUNCED

Coast Gas Association in Pledge to Battle Against Proposed Measure

Resolutions denouncing the proposed Water and Power Act, which bobs up again on the ballot this fall despite previous defeat, were adopted at the State convention of the Pacific Coast Gas Association which closed at Santa Barbara Thursday night, according to Clifford Johnstone, secretary, who arrived here yesterday.

The resolutions read:

Whereas, there is again upon the ballot in California an iniquitous initiative measure, the Water and Power Act, the provisions of which are familiar to all, and

Whereas, although this act aims at the socialization of an industry not our own nevertheless we recognize the danger to all public utility enterprises involved in such a measure and its continuous reappearance upon the ballot, therefore, be it

Resolved, that this association through its company and individual members will use its utmost efforts to defeat this destructive measure by a majority which will leave no doubt in the minds of its proponents that further efforts to socialize our industries are useless.

About 100 representatives of Los Angeles companies were present at the convention. Johnstone was elected secretary to succeed William Henderson of this city. He is a San Francisco man but will stay in Los Angeles several days before returning.

TWO HURT IN STILL BLAST

Man and Woman Near Death from Burns; Third is Arrested on Theft Charge; Alcohol Seized

Two persons were burned, perhaps fatally, yesterday in a terrific still explosion which virtually razed a five-room bungalow at 858 North Lillian Way, Hollywood. The still, a giant of its kind with a capacity of 1000 galons, exploded at about 2 p.m. Residents in the district, thrown into a panic by the exposition, summoned police.

Detectives and uniformed officers arrived to find the bungalow enveloped in flames and a woman near the porch so seriously burned that hope for her life virtually was given up at the Receiving Hospital, where she was removed.

The woman stated that her name was Mrs. Margaret Smiley, 33 years of age. She said that she had lived in the house about a month.

Detective Lieutenants Trosper and Taylor of the Hollywood division took up the investigation after the removal of the woman to the hospital. They found near the house a man, who gave his name as A. W. Krieger. He also was burned on his face, hands, arms and body but declared that he had received his burns when he hurried into the house in answer to the woman's shrill cries for help.

He also was removed to the Receiving Hospital, where police surgeons said that his condition was critical. Later he was taken to the General Hospital.

The detectives in their investigation found in the house an automobile operator's license bearing the name of Mrs. Margaret Chester and bearing the address of 513 Court street. They are convinced that the name on the license is that of the woman since her description tallies with that on the license.

While in the house the officers arrested H. W. Harrison of 5948 Barton avenue. They stated that he attempted to steal a pocketbook in the house. He was taken to the Hollywood Jail and there booked on suspicion of grand larceny.

The explosion, the detectives said, was caused by a boy called by the woman to go on an errand for her. While waiting for instructions the boy set fire to a five-gallon can of gasoline. The flames spread to the still, causing the explosion, the detectives declared. In the house the detectives also found 500 gallons of alcohol, which was confiscated.

The damage to the house and it contents was estimated at about $6000. The house is owned by Mrs. L. Waring of 6131 Lexington avenue, it was reported.

Divorce Denied as Woman Says She Wants Mate

Mrs. Margaret A. Weech changed her mind. As a result, she still has a husband and Harry W. Weech still has a wife.

Weech had sued for divorce charging desertion. Mrs. Weech failed to put in an answer and the case was listed on the default calendar, coming up before Judge Summerfield yesterday.

Mrs. Weech ordinarily would not have appeared in court, having defaulted. But after Weech had been heard, she got up suddenly in court and said she had decided she wanted her husband. She denied that she had deserted him.

"We'll have to give you two a chance to make up. There's still a chance as long as one is willing," Judge Summerfield said as he denied the decree.

FOREST BLAZE UNDER CONTROL

Fighters Are Aided as Fog Rolls Into Section

Flames Are Quelled on Most Dangerous Fronts

Shift in Wind Only Danger Now, Says Greeley

The giant brush fire that has raged in the San Gabriel Mountains for nineteen days was brought under control yesterday. This was the announcement made last night by Col. W. B. Greeley, head of the United States Forest Service, who returned to general fire headquarters at Monrovia after traveling on foot and horseback over the fire fronts in the heart of the mountains. When it seemed that the thousand weary fire fighters had put forth their best efforts and could do no more to stop the flames, Mother Nature took a hand.

She rolled a heavy fog in from the ocean, pushed it over the ridge of the mountains and dropped it down into canyons and passes, where it began to smother smoldering flames at an early hour yesterday morning.

As the first damp breath of the fog was felt by the fire fighters in the mountain camps cheers went up from the weary men.

WIND STILL DANGER

Those directing the fight against the fire were not long in taking advantage of the help. By 3:30 a.m. hundreds of men were sent directly on to the fire line to "cold trail" the fire along the entire front. By "cold trailing" the fire the forestry men mean to go on the fire line, scrape the burning embers back into the burned area, beat out the flames where they are burning and make the entire line as safe as possible from a flare-up.

Under such conditions the statement that the fire is under control is good only provided the wind does not spring up and blow embers into the unburned area, Col. Greeley announced.

The work of "cold trailing" the entire fire line where it has been the hottest during the last twenty-four hours is being carried on under the direction of Maj. E. W. Kelly, chief of field operations for the Forest Service, and County Forester Flintham. Both of these men have been on the line for the past forty-eight hours.

The hottest part of the line to be handled extends from a little west of Monrovia Peak, at the head of the Big Santa Anita then dropping down to the West Fork of the San Gabriel River. This part of the line was being worked by Forest Ranger Nash and Deputy County Forester Duries.

The rest of the "hot line" continues north up from the West Fork, veers northwest for about four miles and then swings northeast toward Twin Peaks. This part of the line is being worked by a large crew of men under Assistant County Forester Thurston.

PLAN TO MEET

This crew is working down from the north to meet the crew coming up from the West Fork. It was hoped that the entire line could be "cold trailed" by early this morning.

After this work is done the line will be patrolled by a heavy force of men for at least ten days, Col. Greeley announced. The number

SHOPLIFTER MUST GO TO JAIL OR PAY FINE

Margaret Christie, alias Margaret La Fleur, was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 or go to jail for thirty days by Judge Pope yesterday after she had been convicted of shoplifting. The woman was arrested some months ago in connection with the theft of $20,000 in jewelry from the home of a wealthy resident of Pasadena but subsequently she was released.

DELAY PATENT PAVING VOTE

Councilmen, Trade-Name Backers and Opponents Talk Three Hours; Mead Hits at Method

The City Council yesterday afternoon again listened for three hours to arguments for and against patented paving being admitted, by name, to the proposed new improvement specifications, and then finally postponed action until 1:30 o'clock next Thursday afternoon, when it is expected a vote will be taken.

"I am ready to vote right now," said Councilman Criswell, who is expected to cast his vote with four other Councilmen in favor of admitting patented paving as legal for Los Angeles streets, under trade-mark names.

"I am ready, too," said Councilman Mallard, who with President Workman and Councilmen Allan, and Gregory, is expected to vote for the elimination of patented pavements from the specifications.

But as some of the Councilmen desired to make speeches stating their position in the matter, the final vote was deferred.

Before the specifications become effective, an ordinance establishing them must be adopted and this must be signed or vetoed by the Mayor. In case Mayor Cryer vetoes the ordinance, the votes of six Councilmen will be required to adopt the ordinance over his veto.

The patented paving side of the question, according to reports, has but five supporters in the Council.

MAY BECOME ISSUE

If this is the case, then the new specifications will be defeated, and the present specifications, which include Warrenite as the only patented pavement admitted, will be legal. In case the controversy works out this way, the opponents of patented paving declare that they will place on the ballot at the primaries next May an initiative ordinance adopting the new specifications, minus all patented paving, and the Council candidates running for office at that time will be forced to take sides on the patented paving controversy as a campaign issue.

As at previous hearings on the subject before the Council, both sides were represented yesterday among the speakers, A. J. Hill representing National patented paving, Attorney E. R. Young representing Warrenite, W. F. Chapman representing Chapmanite and C. C. Cottrell representing Willite. All spoke in favor of their particular patented pavements being admitted to the specifications, while City Planning Commissioner Mead spoke against patented paving.

EACH TELLS CASE

In substance, the proponents of patented pavements declared that their pavements were tried and durable products, in most cases wdely used ouside of Los Angeles, and in the case of Warrenite, in use here, that property owners should be given an oportunity to pave their streets with them if they wanted to do so and pay the bills, and that if the bids for the improvements were too high, the Council and the Board of Public Works could and should reject the bids and inform the property owners that the action had been taken for the protection of their pocketbooks.

The Willite speaker pointed with pride to samples of Willite laid on Harbor Boulevard and on Slauson avenue, the Chapmanite inventor said that his pavement on Temple street from Broadway to New High had stood the test of time, the National representative told of the success of this pavement in other cities and the attorney for Warren Brothers cited examples, including Wilshire Boulevard, of Warrenite which had been tested by traffic.

The speakers for patented pavement, which is largely composed of asphalt, paid their respects in, at times, most barbed terms to the so-called "cement trust," which they said was back of the fight against patented pavements.

Planning Commissioner Mead

BISHOPS TO FILL PULPITS

Dr. C. B. Mitchell and Dr. C. A. Burns to Conduct Services at First Methodist Church

Two of America's foremost bishops and most eloquent orators will be heard in Los Angeles tomorrow when they will preach from one of the most elegant homes of Methodism in America, the First Methodist Church at Eighth and Hope streets.

Dr. Charles Bayard Mitchell, who will leave Los Angeles next week for Manila to preside as resident Methodist bishop of the Philippines for the next four years, will address the congregation at the First Methodist Church tomorrow morning. For the last eight years Bishop Mitchell has presided over the Minneapolis Area.

Tomorrow evening the preacher will be Dr. Charles Wesley Burns, recently appointed bishop of the San Francisco Area, including California, Nevada and Arizona. Before being elected a bishop four years ago, Dr. Burns was pastor for three years, of the First Methodist Church of Philadelphia, Pa. Dr. Burns is admired as much for his executive ability and his genius as an organizer as he is for his eloquence as a preacher.

TO DEDICATE CHURCH

Dedicating fine new churches is a weekly habit with Los Angeles people. The big event in this line tomorrow will be the dedication of the Vermont-avenue Presbyterian Church in the morning. The dedicatory sermon for the new church, recently completed at a cost of $100,000, will be preached by Dr. Herbert Booth Smith, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian Church. The pulpit of the latter church will be supplied in the morning by Rev. G. G. Dowey, who will discuss "The Modern Christian's God." Dr. Smith will preach at Immanuel Church in the evening.

EDITOR REJOICES

The will of the majority of citizens of California concerning the question of the use of the Bible in public schools of this State will be expressed at the polls two years hence. Wiley J. Phillips, editor of "The California Voice," is rejoicing in the victory attained in having this question placed on the ballot. When the Appellate Court of California, in its interpretation of the Constitution of the State, decided that the Bible is "a denominational, sectarian book," and could not be placed in public schools or school libraries, Mr. Phillips prepared and printed several thousands of petitions for an amendment to the Constitution, which he sent to various pastors of California for presentation to members of their congregations. The necessary 77,263 signatures have been obtained, the names have been approved by the California Secretary of State and the people will have an opportunity to vote on the amendment in 1926. The initiative measure prohibits the teaching of sectarian or denominational doctrines in schools, but provides for the purchase, with public funds, of Bibles to be placed in schools and school libraries. The measure permits daily study and reading of the Bible in schools, but requires no pupil to read the Bible or hear it read, contrary to the wishes of parent or guardian.

"THE WORLD'S FOOLS"

"The Threefold Secret of a Faith That Triumphs" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Dr. Hugh K. Walker tomorrow morning at the First Presbyterian Church. In the evening Dr. Walker will preach on "The Glorious Company of the World's Accredited Fools," and in the course of the address will discuss "Los Angeles Churches as Seen Through the Kindly Eyes of a Gifted Newspaper Woman."

GRACE CALLS PASTOR

Rev. C. Blair of Fort Recovery, O., has received and accepted a call to the pastorate of Grace Congregational Church, and will arrive in Los Angeles within the next few days to begin work for and with the progressive members of Grace Church. Rev. E. T. Thomas, formerly pastor of Grace Church, left Los Angeles last week to become pastor of the First Congregational Church of Etiwanda.

TO ADDRESS KHJ

Dr. Henry Coe Culbertson, pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church, will be the preacher tomorrow morning for Radio KHJ, The Times. Dr. Culbertson will discuss "The Progressive Principles of Jesus," with special reference to Constitution Week. He will return to his church in time to conduct the regular Sunday morning service. In the evening the picture, "Held to Answer," will be the feature of the Plymouth Church service.

KIWANIANS INVITED

Members of the Kiwanis clubs of Southern California are specially invited to attend services at St. Paul's Cathedral tomorrow evening, when the speaker will be Dr. William B. Stevens, coadjutor bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles. The morning preacher at the cathedral will be Rev. W. Cowans, who will discuss "Essential Characteristics of Worship."

OPEN NEW MISSION

Lutherans of Los Angeles yesterday announced that a new Christian mission will be opened tomorrow morning at the Jordan Theater, Eighty-eighth street and South Vermont avenue. The preacher in charge will be Rev. Daniel Coyner, son of Rev. E. T. Coyner, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Epiphany. Mr. Coyner, Sr., will be in charge of services tomorrow morning at his church at Fifth avenue and West Fifteenth street.

GOING AFTER RUPERT

"Which shall we believe—Christ or Rupert Hughes?" This question will be discussed by Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher at the Temple Baptist Church tomorrow evening, when Dr. Brougher will discuss a recent magazine article by Mr. Hughes in which the author tells "why he quit church." At the morning hour Dr. Brougher will preach on "Does Prayer Accomplish Anything?"

DAVID STARR JORDAN

Dr. David Starr Jordan, California's "grand old man of science," and world-renowned as an educator, will be the preacher at the First Unitarian Church tomorrow morning, when he will speak on "Is War Eternal?" Dr. Jordan will also speak in the evening, at the same church, his subject being "The Search for the Master Key of the Universe."

TAILOR-FENCE ENDS HIS LIFE

Lieutenants Trainor, O'Connor, Romero and Whaples again questioned the suspect. This time he talked freely and offered to assist the officers in sorting over the plunder and identifying it as far as he could.

The detectives, accompanied by Constable Flood, proceeded to Ballestero's shop. There the tailor went to work sorting over the furs and clothing stocked in the place.

He had been engaged thus for but a few minutes when an automobile, containing two Mexicans, drew up in front. Detectives Trainor and O'Connor, believing the two men had come there to dispose of some stolen goods, hurried out to the auto and placed them under arrest.

They were standing near the machine when Detective Lieutenant Whaples raced out and gasped: "Ballestero has killed himself. He cut his throat."

The detectives summoned an ambulance from the Receiving Hospital but Ballestero was dead when the ambulance arrived.

Constable Flood, after being questioned at length in connection with the shooting, was placed under technical arrest in custody of the Sheriff's office and will remain so until the inquest into Romero's death at 9:30 a.m. today at the White mortuary in Whittier. No charges have been filed against him and the entire procedure is looked upon as necessary in the case but reflecting in no way on the officer.

NOT GUILTY, PLEADS 'SILK HAT BANDIT'

Edwards is Arraigned on Charge of Robbing Man in Boulevard Hold-up

James L. Edwards, known as the "silk-hat bandit," and, according to deputy sheriffs, the most dangerous robber in Los Angeles' criminal history with the exception of Harry Dunlap, yesterday pleaded not guilty to one count of robbery when he was arraigned before Judge Avery in Superior Court.

The complaint accused Edwards of taking $25 from John Stiles in a boulevard hold-up the night of May 15 last. On motion of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hill the case was transferred for trial to Judge Crail's department, where several other charges are pending against the suspect. October 6 was set as the date for Edwards's trial on the charge, although it was stated he would probably be tried jointly on all the charges pending against him.

According to Deputy Hill, Edwards has already served a sentence in San Quentin penitentiary, and if a conviction is obtained in the present case he will be sentenced to Folsom with a recommendation that he be compelled to serve the full term prescribed by law.

Harbor Called Best-Planned on West Coast

Los Angeles Harbor, from an engineering standpoint, is the best established and arranged port on the Pacific Coast, declared Charles J. Colden, chairman of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, on his return yesterday from a three weeks' trip throughout the Pacific Northwest. He has been making a close survey of the northern ports since attending the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Port Authorities at Seattle.

"Our belt line and terminal facilities are more modern and better established than those of any other port on the Coast," Colden said. "San Francisco has a superior system of rate distribution in effect for its belt system, but this harbor has the best-engineered system of terminals, wharves and transportation facilities of them all.

"I am back here full of enthusiasm for Los Angeles Harbor, engendered to a large extent by the number of inquiries and the amount of interest displayed in the port by the authorities of the other Coast ports whom I met at the convention in Seattle."

Colden was one of the 336 passengers arriving here from Seattle and San Francisco yesterday morning aboard the Admiral Line's express liner H. F. Alexander. The vessel sailed for Puget Sound late yesterday with nearly 500 travelers aboard.

AID IN ENFORCING OF GAME LAW PLEDGED

Full co-operation with the Federal, State and county authorities in enforcement of the fish and game laws has been pledged by the Baldwin Lake Chamber of Commerce, according to an announcement yesterday. The members of the chamber will work hand in hand with the authorities in the apprehension and prosecution of violators and also will post signs about Baldwin Lake at their own expense directing the sportmen's attention to the game laws and asking their co-operation in running down violators of these laws.

FALLING CABLE HITS, INJURES WORKMAN

C. G. Foster, an employee of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, was knocked unconscious and severely injured shortly before noon yesterday when he was struck by a falling cable at Seward and Melrose avenues. He was taken by Hollywood police officers to St. Vincent's Hospital for treatment. The heavy cable struck Foster across the shoulders, witnesses stated.

FOREST BLAZE UNDER CONTROL

Fighters Are Aided as Fog Rolls Into Section

Flames Are Quelled on Most Dangerous Fronts

of men on the patrol will then be decreased, but the work of patrolling the fire line will be continued for at least another ten days.

In summing up the situation, Col. Greeley said, "I consider the fire under control, but not entirely effaced as yet. I don't think, however, there will be any more danger as long as we have no high wind."

Col. Greeley announced that as a further precautionary measure the firebreak which is being built from Mt. Wilson due north to Barley Flats will be continued on to the Big Tejunga River. This break is being built by the county under the supervision of Assistant County Forester Graves. The fire barely reached the headwaters of the Tujunga and, and should a flare-up occur this extension of the firebreak will give the fire fighters a secondary line of defense in attempting to hold the flames from sweeping down the Tujunga.

After making his inspection tour of the fire lines Col. Greely said the most dangerous spot along the line last night was at the head of the Tujunga. He held no fears for that section, however, as long as the wind kept down and the fog stayed on.

FIREBREAK FINISHED

At the head of the Big Santa Anita, along the ridge running from Monrovia Peak to Mt. Wilson, three miles east of Mt. Wilson, the fire caused the men considerable work for some time. Two or three times the flames coming up from the West Fork jumped over the ridge and down into the head of the Santa Anita, but quick work on the part of the men kept the fire from spreading. The fire break being built on this ridge was completed late yesterday afternoon. With the fog coming, however, it was thought it will not be necessary to back fire along this line.

The northeast front of the fire, all along Bear Creek, was reported by Assistant District Forester Show as being in very good shape, the work of "cold trailing" progressing very rapidly along this line.

Men under the County Forester and his assistants were operating yesterday from Monrovia Peak to Pine Flat, covering more than 60,000 acres, it was announced by Assistant County Forester Davis. Assistant County Forester Thurston with 340 men went to Acton in the Soledad Canyon, lying to the south and east of Mint Canyon and about forty-five miles from Saugus. From Acton he continued up to Soledad Canyon four miles and turned into Aliso Canyon and up the latter for a distance of eight miles to the end of the main traveled road where a first base headquarters were established.

Supplies were carried from there to the Loomis Ranch about seven miles to the southeast and from Loomis Ranch to a second base about six miles from the fire line. A camp also was established by Thurston at Pine Flat, near the United States Federal Ranger station. There is a plentiful supply of food, Mr. Davis stated. It was expected that 200 of the men under Assistant County Forester Graves would be relieved last night.

Col. Greeley characterized the fire as having been a very difficult one to handle. Some of the brush was so dry that it was actually dead and very inflammable. The extreme inaccessibility of the country also made the fire hard to handle.

Along the Calmshell firebreak, where the westward march of the fire on the south slope of the mountain was stopped the fire was reported to be completely out, but a strong patrol is being maintained to prevent a flare-up. With the changed conditions for the better a number of fire fighters are being released from the line; although precautions are being taken to retain a sufficient number of men to handle any situation that might arise.

SETTER OF FOREST FIRE PROVES REPENTANT

To help prove his sincere repentance for starting the San Gabriel Canyon forest fire which has raged for almost three weeks, Andy Gunsalus, baker, has taken out a $5 membership in the American Reforestation Association. George H. Barnes, president of the association, considered Gunsalus's membership such an admirable object lesson that he presented the membership certificate to the baker in person.

"I realize what my carelessness has done," said Gunsalus, "and I want to help repair the damage as best I can. Joining the Reforestation Association will accomplish as much as anything I can think of to do."

President Barnes said he was glad to welcome Gunsalus as a member and hoped the penitent would keep his promise to make all his friends join.

COUNTY BEGINS TO PAY OFF FIGHTERS TODAY

Los Angeles county today will begin paying off between 1500 and 2000 fire fighters who have been battling the forest flames in the San Gabriel Canyon district.

The pay roll will amount to about $54,000, the fire fighters being paid at the rate of 35 cents an hour and meals for the time engaged in fighting the fire.

To tide those over who arrived in the city last night, County Auditor Payne arranged to advance each man $3 until he could receive his warrant today. He kept the office open until a late hour. A force of seven clerks and deputy clerks began work on the warrants at 5 o'clock last night and they will have completed the work by this morning.

County Treasurer Hunt made arrangements to have a deputy clerk at the treasurer's window all day today and all day Sunday. The treasurer's department also was at work last night on the pay roll.

"Why Rupert Hughes Quit Going to Church"

Are His Reasons Sound and Sensible?
Why Movie Stars and Physicians Should Go?

By DR. FRANK DYER

Ambassador Hotel Theater, 11 A. M.
Harry Girard at the Organ

Dear Mr. Rupert Hughes—

Your confessions in a current magazine on "Why You Quit Going to Church" are described by the Editor as so "drastic" as to be irritating to many people.

I have been asked by some college young people to give an answer. I invite you to sit on my platform Sunday morning while I do so. I shall not deny your sincerity—you assert it. I shall question your information and to be frank—your intelligence. I shall deny that 'You are with the majority,'—that you know 'countless ministers who continue preaching what they no longer believe,' 'that America is dedicated to a churchless state' or, that you stay away because you know so much history or science or Evolution.

I shall question your intelligence about the Bible—the creeds and what the ministers preach, and ask whether you have actually heard any preacher for 20 years—and also a few other things.

After all, Mr. Hughes, there is a spiritual side of life to which you owe much and without which, what are men more than sheep and goats?

Come and let us talk it over Sunday and bring all the backsliders you can find in Hollywood.

Very warmly and cordially yours,
FRANK DYER.

BOTH SIDES ARE GAME

In connection with this Chinese embroilment the fighting at Mah Jongg is said to be quite desperate.

AMID SWEET BLOSSOMS

NOTHING LEFT

They are abolishing the left-hand turn in the Loop district in Chicago. If this is adhered to some of the boys will never be able to get out of the Loop by Christmas.

GREAT ASSURANCE

Rodman Wanamaker is the most valuable man in the country from the standpoint of the insurance companies. He has policies aggregating $6,000,000 on his life and any time he feels bad the companies will be glad to stake him to a good doctor.

HOMICIDE ROW

Recent murder trials may have had their effect upon literature. One of the newest books concerns itself with great crimes and criminals and another is a compilation of studies in murder. Another headliner deals with insanity and the criminal. They are put out by different publishing houses and have nothing particular to recommend them.

PISTOL ECONOMY

In the vast police department of the city of London there are less than fifty pistols. The average London cop may never have even held one in his hand. There are not many gun-toters in England and that is perhaps a good reason why there are comparatively few murders there. People are not doing much killing when they have nothing to shoot with.

AMERICA BUILDS UP

Building operations are holding up well the country over. In thirty-six Eastern States the August construction program averaged nearly 5 per cent above July and almost 20 per cent higher than August of last year. The affairs of the country are in pretty good shape and the home building is going on all over the land. We have no monopoly of it in Southern California.

WINGED MONEY

Money is fickle. The death of Alfred Featherstone was reported from Santa Barbara the other day. He made many millions in the building of bicycles in the days before the motor. At one time he was accounted one of the very rich men of the country, but his millions took wings unto themselves and gradually flew away. He had little left when the end came—at least so goes the story.

THE FORD BANK

Now Henry Ford talks of going into the banking business. He has surplus enough to keep five banks busy and he figures that if there is any money in handling his money he may as well make it himself. Henry is becoming a very centralized industry. He is gradually rounding up all the money in the world and now he would show himself how to keep it. First thing we know we will be having Ford banks with every service station.

NO FRIENDLY HAND

La Follette insists that he is being misrepresented in the criticisms as to his loyalty to the Constitution. If he is misrepresented his own tongue is to blame. He never wore a muzzle in the presence of the Constitution. He has many times and oft scorned its terms. Even now he is demanding that Congress be placed above the courts—that if the court hold a law to be unconstitutional it shall be the province of Congress to make it so. He would also recall a judge who might make an unpopular decision.

THE BIRD HUNTER

The Field Museum and the Elgin Audubon Society in Illinois have been somewhat enriched by the feathered collections of young Nathan Leopold, the Chicago murder moron. At 17 his published papers, his photographic studies and his collection of mounted birds made him known to ornithologists everywhere. He had assembled nearly 2000 mounted specimens and some of them were very rare. It seems that a competent and enthusiastic ornithologist was spoiled to make an insouciant murderer. The museums will not feature his contributions. They will be blended with other groups and pass into anonymity.

KEEPING THE PEACE

There is a lot of inflammable material in the world and the red fires of revolution may break forth at any time, but at Geneva there is a feeling that there are numbers of nations, rich and powerful, that cannot by any possibility be gravely imperiled. These afford the needed balance of power. They are stabilizing the world. America may not be an official member of the League of Nations, but the influence of the government in the cause of world harmony is nevertheless made manifest. Geneva is working for the best and confidence in the future peace of the world is steadily extending. Uncle Sam is numbered among the keepers of the world's peace.

OUR CONSTITUTION AND LIBERTY

The Constitution, adopted in 1788, gave greater liberty and greater power to the citizens of the United States than any government had ever before given to the people. It provided, furthermore, for amendments by means of which additional rights have been secured.

At the present time the Constitution, with its amendments, guarantees: Freedom of religious belief, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, the right of petition, the right to keep and bear arms, the right to protest against unreasonable search and seizure, the right of protection for persons and property, the right of trial by jury and the right to vote without abridgment of this right because of race, color, sex or previous condition of servitude.

In short, the Constitution guarantees to every citizen, high or low, absolute freedom in thought and conduct, so long as he does nothing which interferes with the rights or liberties of a fellow-citizen.

Liberty in America today means more than the granting of such rights as are outlined in the Constitution. It means liberty of opportunity; it means that every man may have a home, that every man may have an education, that every man may think and worship as he chooses, that every man may make of himself what he will.

Owning property is not restricted to any social rank. The government, by means of the homestead laws, gave lands to its people at a small cost for fees, etc., asking only that they till the soil and build a home. As a result there are more landowners in the United States in proportion to its population than in any other country in the world.

The opportunity for education is greater here than elsewhere, because the State and local governments not only provide free schools, but also require every child to attend school for a given number of years. Technical and classical schools, colleges and universities are also maintained by many States and are open to all.

Because the opportunity for freedom in religious belief and worship has always been an American ideal it has brought to our shores thousands of those who, persecuted in their own lands, have here found freedom to worship God in their own way; and all are equally free and equally loyal American citizens.

Opportunity to take an equal part in government was likewise a fundamental part of that ideal of liberty which our forefathers sought to secure in the Constitution. That right has been extended even beyond their expectations; and universal suffrage is now an accomplished fact. The right to vote is no longer denied on account of race, color or sex. The man of foreign birth who comes to America as an immigrant may, through naturalization, become a citizen with a vote and a voice in the government. Finally, the greatest privilege that America has to offer is the opportunity for every man to make of himself what he will. The history of our country is that of men who have made their way to the highest positions.

No social caste bars the door to individual advancement. From the well-to-do Washington to Lincoln, the rail-splitter, and Roosevelt, the many-sided patriot of our own day and generation, we see a succession of great achievements, made only possible through the splendid opportunities which are open to all.

Every true American, every true patriot, bears in mind that a bad parent cannot be a good leader of the people. He who is insensible to the duties that he owes is not worthy of consideration. He who acts wickedly in private life cannot show himself noble in public conduct. Men do not change, but the place, merely, is changed.

WHY SO MANY MURDERS?

The tortuous and cumbersome methods of American court procedure in criminal trials as compared with those of Great Britain, with their effective simplicity, often have been commented upon, but rarely have there been better comparative illustrations of a concrete nature than those of the much-talked-of Mahon murder case in Lewes, England, and that of Leopold and Loeb in this country.

In less than five full days Patrick Henry Mahon was tried by a British judge and jury in the Sussex Assizes for the murder of Miss Emily Kaye, found guilty and sentenced to be hanged. In this case legal technicalities were pushed aside, as they often are in British courts, and the murderer was tried and doomed to die in short order. But in the Leopold and Loeb case all manner of technical evidence and argument was admitted and the trial was strung out in a way to make those jealous of the claims of justice chafe with impatience.

Time and again it has been pointed out that one of the best ways to reduce the growing number of homicides in this country is to give the accused in each case a short and speedy trial. Often in cases of confessed guilt the culprit, for some occult reason, is afforded the advantage of having the wheels of justice grind slowly on and of having his case delayed for months and even years. Simple and effective criminal court procedure is one reason why in all England and Wales there were but 200 murders last year, or less than one-twenty-fifth of the number to the 100,000—the usual basis of computation—that are shown by the records of this country.

In thirteen years the number of murders per annum in the United States has nearly doubled. Last year it reached the almost incredible number of 12,500. The rate per 100,000 in 1910 was 5.9, while in 1923 it was 10.2. Of course, the urban districts had a high rate, that of Chicago being 12.7, or 2.5 more than the country at large. In Cincinnati it was 16.3, in St. Louis 26.1 and in Memphis it reached the terrible figure of 65. Philadelphia's rate was 8.3 and New York, the lowest of all, had a rate of 5.5, or 4.7 lower than the average for the whole country. These figures were compiled recently by Dr. Frederic L. Hoffman of the Prudential Insurance Company, a statistician whose work generally has been accepted as that of an authority on mortuary matters.

Dr. Hoffman's report does not specify the number of unjustifiable homicides committed in any city west of St. Louis, but, according to a special report made by the record bureau of the police department of Los Angeles to The Times, the number of murders committed in this city last year was seventy-two, which would give us a rate of about eight to the 100,000, if we estimate the average population during 1923 at 900,000, though it probably was more. This, for the recorded cities, is the next best showing to that made by New York and is a little better than that of Philadelphia, though, of course, altogether too high.

Why should New York, with its large population of criminals of all classes, be able to make so good a record in the matter of homicides? Simply because it has a strict law regulating the sale and licensing of weapons that may be concealed on the person. Where a man finds it exceedingly difficult to become a "gun-toter" he is not likely to do much shooting.

It frequently has been asserted by our magistrates and chiefs of police all over the country that the large number of shootings was due to the ease with which persons of a homicidal tendency could purchase and carry firearms. And New York has furnished ample proof of how strict laws strictly enforced will improve the situation in this regard.

While in our large cities, under our present slow and unsatisfactory court procedure, we may not reduce the number of killings to the very low one of England, where not even the police are permitted to carry firearms, we can, however, by emulating the example of New York, cut it down in these cities by at least 50 or 60 per cent and thus save a large number of human lives. And the best way to do this is not only to talk about it and to write about it, but to go and do it.

A MUCH-ABUSED COLOR

How did the word "yellow" come to be applied to an undesirable trend in journalism and to a detestable streak in human nature? Certainly not from any objectionable quality to be found in the color itself.

Yellow is, indeed, one of the most striking and brilliant prime colors in the spectrum. Mixed with blues and reds it produces the noblest hues for the painter's palette.

Science tells us that a strong, bright yellow is superior to all other colors in visibility and luminosity. The head of the laboratory of the General Electric Company says yellow is "the symbol of light and wisdom" and the best color for automobile license plates and for marking directions, warnings and safety zones.

The yellow light of an oil lamp will penetrate a fog farther than the white light of the electric arc. The bravest and most upstanding of our flowers have painted their petals with the color despised of men. Why should the glory of the sunflower, the fighting robe of the nasturtium, the splendor of the shaggy chrysanthemum, the pungent iridescence of the dandelion be held to degrade "red-blooded" humanity?

Mixed with red yellow produces many shades of bronze; yellow sun rays mingled with the blue of the atmosphere clothe the earth in the green of fruitfulness.

Yellow with attractive sheen is gold, the substance most prized by the children of earth. Green from the yellow pigment of the sunbeams are the vegetables that make man to be of red blood and endow him with a heart of gold.

Again we ask, why have we made a noble color something to be ashamed of?

MOTOR REGULATION

One of the Eastern States proposes to require a small photograph of the driver to be appended to his motor license card. The card is to be affixed to the auto in such a way as to be available for police inspection. When the driver or car is apprehended for violations of the law the card is taken by the officer and turned in at headquarters. It is returned when the case is disposed of. The owner may not drive the car until this is accomplished. This would at least insure the appearance of the driver. There are thousands of cases in which the offender never appears in court. This plan would end this situation.

CRAZY BUSINESS

Now the critics are insisting that the court appoint the alienists used as witnesses in trials where insanity is a plea. In the recent inquiry in Chicago the specialists drew down many thousands of dollars and were still far apart. If the experts were designated by the court and paid $5 a day there wouldn't be so much insanity in crime.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

"Where Do We Unhitch?"

Nawacheto, direct descendant of Chetawajo, the redoubtable last King of the Zulus, is a student at the University of Oxford, in England, and will graduate this year in philosophy. He is amusing the English students with the stories of the first Boer settlers in the veldt of South Africa. Gen. Christian de Wet on one occasion was in conversation with Nawacheto's father. The subject under discussion was the discovery of America. Now the Zulu King had no idea of an ocean, nor of a steamboat. So De Wet put it this way: "Boss Columbus, with all his boys and girls, sat down on a floating ox wagon and drifted away on a river that was as big as the veldt until they came to a land where they saw people with red skins." There are historians who will tell you that Paul Kruger, the President of the Transvaal Republic, was not much better than the Zulu King in his conception of an ocean. When he went to England for the first time he paced the deck nervously on the first night out at sea. The dark was gathering and the old "foretrekker" approached the captain of the ship with the words: "Baas, it's getting dark. Where do you think you are going to 'uitspan' (unhitch) tonight?"

Realizing Past Mistakes

"Notwithstanding the peculiar features of our political situation, we form a part of the economic whole of Europe and the world. We cannot deny that slowly we have been drawn into the mechanism of the political and economic development of the continent," so speaks "Comrade" Sokolnikoff, people's commissar of the soviet union for finance. It's a significant admission and one fraught with the greatest potential changes. For it is an absolute reversal of the opinion held by the impractical theorists who have been guiding the destinies of Russia during the past few years. It is also a negation of the success of the rudimentary form of Communism that has been tried out in Russia. No man can live unto himself alone. Neither can a nation. The interdependence and inter-relation of the peoples of this earth will ultimately bring Russia back within the family of nations. It is fortunate that the leaders are beginning to realize this. An overthrow of Bolshevism, through foreign intervention, for instance, would have resulted in years of careful preparation for another coup d'etat and then a repetition of the Bolshevik experiment. Better to have the leaders realize now the futility of their theories and return to a democratic form of government which includes honorable relations with other nations of their own free will.

RIPPLING RHYMES

ROADSIDE GRIEF

I was driving my old Lizzie down the quiet vale of Heck, when she acted queer and dizzy and disaster was on deck and, with arguments gee-whizzy, I got out and viewed the wreck. It was dark and it was raining and the night wind had a sting, and I did no idle feigning to be happy as a king; but I sent up loud complaining till I made the welkin ring. And my Aunt Matilda, seated on the back end of the boat, murmured "Don't get overheated sounding such a drastic note; let's pretend," my aunt repeated, "that we do not care a groat. Let's recall the happy flivving we have done in days gone by, every hour and mile were giving pleasures money cannot buy; let's recall the joy of living when old Lizzie's pistons fly. We have journeyed without trouble twenty thousand parasangs, watched the quail amid the stubble, seen the cows in cheerful gangs; and I hate to see you bubble with the heat of your harangues. All our pleasures you're forgetting, all our jaunts in glade and glen, as you stand there wildly betting that she'll never run again, as you stand there swearing, sweating, a reproach to modern men." When my aunt's long spiel was spoken I reflected she was right; countless days of luck unbroken are forgotten in a night, when approaching fair Hoboken our old Lizzie's in a plight.

LETTERS TO The Times

The Knoxville Plan

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I think your editorial "Why Not in Los Angeles?" of Sunday, September 15, is one of the most timely and sensible I have read in your paper in some few years, regarding community government.

Personally, the writer considers it a privilege to live in Southern California and incidentally a privilege to pay taxes. But when I hear oft-repeated statements made by tourists, visitors and also by our home folks that they or their friends hesitate to come to Los Angeles because of inadequate police protection, where children's lives are endangered, taxes too high, etc., then the thought comes to me that, if this is what the visitors and outsiders are saying about us, then the Knoxville plan should be broadcast in Los Angeles now. Its good lesson is here for us. The opportunity is here, too, and the Los Angeles Times is the one to start it. Once started, it will go on its own momentum.

A suggestion is that you start the ball rolling by mailing this editorial to every business man, merchant organization and professional man in Los Angeles. Personally I will do anything in my power to aid and here's hoping.

Blundering Humanity

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The plight of the Armenian refugees in and around Constantinople is pitiful in the extreme, notwithstanding some of the desperate conditions of the earlier days have been greatly mitigated. I visited several of the eight camps through the courtesy of the Near East Relief and saw hundreds of the 15,000 men, women and children who seem to be suspended between heaven and hell so far as their future is concerned. In the meantime they are living under conditions that permit but a bare existence.

I saw families in little tepee tents, under the boiling sun, with hardly floor space sufficient to lie down. In a good-sized square room I found a family of three in each of the four corners of the room with all their earthly belongings huddled around them, a few tin dishes and ragged bedding. An old Armenian church was crowded full, every inch of floor and galleries being occupied by these patient, self-respecting, industrious and ambitious people. The effort they make toward cleanliness in the midst of impossible conditions is pathetic. On that crowded church floor, with a family in every few square yards, there wasn't an unsanitary odor discernible.

I was much struck with the faces of the men and women, indicating strength, capacity and self-discipline. And many of the children were wonderfully attractive. That such people should suffer so much, for so long a time, through no fault of their own and with every desire and capacity to do for themselves is a sad comment on our blundering humanity. No American, whatever his racial antecedents, can look upon these scenes of poverty and humiliation and not respond to the call of his heart to lend a hand.

HUENEME, Sept. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your issue of August 25 there was an interesting article on forest fire protection by Dr. Alexander C. Ewing. Dr. Ewing stated "the problem of how to prevent the destruction of forests by fire is being seriously considered all over the civilized world;" and further "we cannot stop carelessness."

I do not agree with Dr. Ewing. Had the doctor restricted his statement to the United States I would readily agree. I know of no "civilized" forested country where the forest officers must contend with such criminal careless Question: Does the English language vary in different parts of the United States as much as it does in different parts of England?

P. G. L.

Answer: It is said that it is harder for a Lincolnshire farmer to understand a Lancashire miner than it is for any two Americans from different sections of the United States to understand each other. The reasons advanced for the uniform standard in America are the wide use of text-books and the fact that our public schools are forced to devote much time to the teaching of English on account of the large number of foreigners in the schools.

Miss Lucky Has Both Kinds, She Tells Official

Miss Tressie Lucky, 28 years of age, of 211 South Lucas street, was lucky and then again she wasn't, according to the story she told Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray yesterday.

The young woman made the acquaintance some months ago of Roy J. Freeman, 408 South Fremont street. They were going to be married, she said, and so Miss Lucky bought an automobile for the use of the lucky man.

One day while they were riding in the prenuptial car, a smash-up occurred. Miss Lucky said she paid for the damage done and that Freeman proceeded to forge her name to a claim for insurance and kept the money paid for the repairs by the underwriters.

Mr. Murray issued a complaint charging Freeman with forgery.

"Wasn't I lucky," said Miss Lucky. "I found out what kind of a man he was before we were married."

SECOND CHARGE WINS

Mrs. E. M. Wagner Gets Decree on Plaint of Desertion

Ethel M. Wagner was awarded a decree of divorce from Charles D. Wagner, contractor, by Judge Frederick C. Valentine yesterday on grounds of desertion. The Wagners previously engaged in a hotly contested action in which Mrs. Wagner accused her mate of infidelity and Wagner filed a cross-complaint charging cruelty. This action was dropped. Wagner did not contest the amended action. All of the community property, valued at $100,000 by Mrs. Wagner, will be sold and the proceeds equally divided. Mrs. Wagner was granted the custody of a 12-year-old adopted daughter.

NEW ENROLLMENT RECORD

A record-breaking registration at the College of Law, University of Southern California, was reported yesterday when enrollment for the fall quarter was completed. According to Charles L. Milliken, assistant to the dean, 325 embryo attorneys are taking the law courses this year. The influx of new students, which has increased the registration nearly 10 per cent beyond the previous high mark, has taxed classroom capacity. Preparations are being made to provide additional courses.

WIDE RESPONSE TO APPEAL FOR FLOWERS

The appeal of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, asking surrounding chambers for flowers with which to bank Clover Field when the 'round-the-world flyers land here, is meeting with tremendous success, according to Secretary Frank Wiggins.

Replies have been received so far from secretaries of chambers of commerce in Beverly Hills, Covina, Gardena, Torrance, Fullerton, Eagle Rock, Redondo, Alhambra, Cudahy, Glendale, San Pedro, Inglewood, Pasadena, Artesia, Lankershim, San Fernando, Hollywood, San Dimas, Santa Monica, Ocean Park and Venice.

FILM CUTTER SUES FIRMS FOR SALARY

Tiffany Productions and the True Arts Corporation were made joint defendants in a complaint issued by Deputy City Prosecutor Concannon yesterday charging them with failure to pay $110 in salary said to be due Caroline Benson. Prosecution was taken after they are said to have refused to settle the claim with the State Department of Labor. According to Miss Benson she was employed by Al Palms, who acted as agent for the companies. She had done considerable work as a film cutter for the organizations, she averred, and always had been paid. When she finished work on "The Unknown Purple," however, she asserted, her wages were refused.

PATENT PAVING VOTE DELAYED

read a statement to the Council to answer assertions that the elimination of patented pavements would be a victory for the "cement trust," which in part was as follows:

Is this merely a contest between a patent pavement trust and a cement trust in which the property owner gets the worst of it no matter who wins?

Will the admission of other patent pavements produce competition and reduce the price of the patent pavement now used in Los Angeles?

Is there any way to permit the use of patent pavement and prevent combinations of contractors to put up the price, not only of the pavement, but of walks, curbs, sewers, grading and other unpatented work when combined in one contract with patented pavement?

Let us answer these questions in the light of the undisputed facts and official records and not as the partisans of some special interest.

First: If when patent pavement is excluded the property owner has no recourse except to use concrete pavement there might be some point to this statement, but if it is true that bitulithic pavement without the trade name can be used without limit and that many forms of asphaltic pavement both for base and surface can be used without paying royalty, then the property owners are not confined to the use of concrete pavement, and there is no point to the pretense that there is no alternative to patent pavement except concrete pavement.

IS IT COMPETITION?

Will the admission of other patent pavements produce competition and reduce the price of the patent pavement now used in Los Angeles? It would produce competition in procuring signatures, but not in bidding. Suppose we admit three or more other patent paving types in addition to the one now in use, after the competition for signatures is over and any one of the various patent pavement types is named in the ordinance of intention, then the bidding is confined to the contractors who can obtain a license for preparing the material for that particular pavement or who are the beneficiaries of a secret rebate of part of the royalty ostensibly charged. The Warrenite contractors cannot bid on Willite; the Willite contractors cannot bid on Warrenite any more than the independent contractors can bid on either one, so that no matter how many kinds of patent pavement are permitted there is nothing to prevent the contractors who are allowed to bid on any particular type from getting together on their bids when that type is specified; so where does the competition come in?

Is there any reason to believe that any of the other patent-paving concerns would do differently than the Warrenite people have admittedly done? Does their record in other places justify such a belief? One of the Willite people has shown recent bids while they were under fire as low as 19 cents a square foot, while the official records of Hawthorne, Torrance, Inglewood, Burbank and other cities where they have laid Willite pavement show that under ordinary circumstances the lowest bid of their contractors is 50 per cent higher than the figures quoted.

REFUSE TO AGREE

Is there no way to permit the use of patent pavement and prevent combinations that will put the price of walks, curbs, grading and other unpatented work at an excessive figure? There is a way, but it will not be agreed to by the patent-pavement people. Before any doctor attempts to prescribe for a patient he first diagnoses the case attempting to find out what the cause of the trouble is and remove the cause. If the reason is known the remedy is comparatively simple.

In the case of patent pavement the reason for extortionate prices charged is well known and the remedy is simple. The secret rebates permitted by high royalties and the license agreement whereby the patentee can license one man to make his own material and refuse to license another is the undisputed cause of the combinations among the contractors that result in high prices. If patent pavement is to be used in Los Angeles the right of the city to prescribe the terms and conditions under which it can be used is unquestioned. The city can make it a condition precedent to the use of any pavement that the royalty be limited to a specific amount, an amount low enough that secret rebates cannot be made to favored contractors, and the city can further provide that no patent pavement shall be specified until a license agreement is filed with the city, giving the right to any contractor that the city considers responsible to prepare his own material in accordance with the patent and make no charge for this license.

The question of whether the patentees would agree to these conditions or not is not material. The city is not compelled to accept their terms, but they are compelled to accept the city's conditions or not do business, and the city is certainly justified in prescribing conditions that will prevent the evils complained of.

DOPE SALE SUSPECT TAKEN IN LONG HUNT

Joe Marvin, 26 years of age, according to police the cleverest drug dispenser in the business, was arrested yesterday by Detective Lieutenant Littlejohn and lodged in the City Jail on a charge of violating the Federal Narcotic Act. Police stated that they had been trailing Marvin for more than a year but he constantly eluded them. Several morphine tablets were found on his person, the detective said.

TWO LINERS BRINGING TROPIC FRUIT CARGOES

ECUADOR AND CALAWAII TO LAND THREE HUNDRED PASSENGERS TODAY

Three hundred passengers will arrive at the port this morning aboard the Pacific Mail liner Ecuador, from New York and Central America, and on the Los Angeles liner Calawaii, from Hawaii. Both ships are bringing unusually large shipments of tropical fruits for West Coast distribution.

Aboard the Ecuador and coming here for his first visit to Southern California is Marquis Ricardo Corrizoa, a member of Spain's royal line and present head of one of Leon's oldest families. Others of note on the Ecuador include S. G. Walton, cashier of the First National Bank of New York; Mrs. Jesse H. Playter and children, the family of the American Consul to Nicaragua, and Julius Oppenheimer, coffee magnate of Salvador.

Twenty thousand cases of canned pineapples, 1000 bunches of bananas and 500 cases of fresh pineapples are in the holds of the Calawaii, loaded at Honolulu, Hilo and Kahului for Los Angeles consignees. The Ecuador also has large consignments of Central American bananas and coffee for local discharge.

SANITY QUESTIONED

The case of J. W. Ramsey, charged with assault with intent to murder his wife, passed from the calendar in Judge Keetch's court yesterday, pending an investigation of the defendant's sanity. Ramsey, according to the District Attorney's office, attacked his wife with a razor in their home at 3994 1-2 South Wall street after accusing her of associating with other men.

PHONE COMPANY ENDS ARGUMENT

Completes Plea for Change in Rates and Service

City and Citizens' Committee Gives First Evidence

Officials Testify Aid from Parent Concern Great

The case for the Southern California Telephone Company in its application for increased rates and service charges was closed yesterday before the State Railroad Commission, and the city and citizens' general telephone committee began the presentation of evidence in opposition. Defense of the contracts between the Southern California Telephone Company and associated and parent companies was presented by several officials, and A. H. Griswold, vice-president of the local company, made a five-point summary of the situation as the last company witness.

He was followed by Engineer Dodge of the commission and the hearing was adjourned after a few minutes, to 10 a.m. Monday.

C. E. Fleager, vice-president of the Southern California company, was the first of four officials put on to prove specific savings through the contracts with the American Telegraph and Telephone Company and the Western Electric Company. He said the saving through the supplying of receivers, transmitters and coils by the parent concern would amount to $225,000 this year, and last year was $181,000.

SAVINGS CITED

E. V. Cox, vice-president of the parent company, declared the savings to the local company this year through its Western Electric contract will be $399,000, and were $311,000 in 1923. F. N. Rush, traffic superintendent, testified the method of calling direct between automatic and manual telephones recently put in operation was a product of A. T. & T. engineers and will save the local company $350,000 this year. I. F. Dix, plant superintendent, testified that improved maintenance methods provided by the parent company will save $176,500 this year and saved the same amount last year, and that improved installation methods from the same source will mean a saving of $205,000.

These items, it was pointed out, total $1,356,400, and are paid for by a fee of 4½ per cent of the gross receipts of the local company. Last year this fee amounted to $385,000 and the amount this year will be slightly greater. These, it was said, are by no means the only benefits received by the subsidiary company for the fee, but were advanced merely because they totaled more than the fee and hence proved its justification.

AID PROMISE SHOWN

A letter from H. B. Thayer, president of the A. T. & T., to the president of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, owner of the Southern California Telephone Company, assured that company that it would receive financial aid for its construction program, such as proves necessary to give adequate service, in future years. At a previous hearing Thayer stipulated that $18,000,000 will be available for this year's construction from the parent company, but the Railroad Commission asked assurance that support from the A. T. & T. would be continued in future years.

Vice-President Griswold followed with figures which he said showed, first, that the Los Angeles exchange had doubled its service in six years and that its rate of growth has been double that of any other exchange in the United States; second, that it has made gross additions of $66,000,000 in the last six years; third, that it is adding more plant each year than the total value of the plant in 1920; fourth, that the operating loss for 1924 under the present rates will be $1,152,000, bringing the total accumulated deficit to $8,633,719, and fifth, that if the rates and service changes asked for were in effect this year, they would produce a net revenue of $3,360,000.

Engineer Dodge, the first witness to follow the conclusion of the company's case began an explanation of his recently submitted zoning plan, proposed as an alternative to the company's plan. This proposes free service between the metropolitan area and each outlying zone and toll service from one zone to another. Carl Busch of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, inquired how this would affect service between Hollywood and Culver City and Dodge was about to explain when the hearing adjourned.

CONSTITUTION HONORED

Constitution Week was observed by Alexander Hamilton Lodge, No. 535, Wednesday, with a program. Masons from Eagle Rock Lodge, No. 422; Benjamin Franklin Lodge, No. 509, James A. Garfield Lodge, No. 566, and James Madison Lodge, No. 572, were present at the ceremonies as guests of Alexander Hamilton Lodge.

HOTEL MAN IS FEARED SLAIN

Police Are Told Wealthy Auditor Drew Money; Left for Ensenada Week Ago; Not Seen Since

Albert O. Boehr, 50 years of age, hotel auditor, has disappeared under circumstances tending to the belief that he had been waylaid and murdered while en route to Ensenada, police were informed yesterday.

Albert O. Boehr

The hotel man made his home with his wife and sister-in-law at 521 East Ninth street, Long Beach. He acted as auditor of the Savoy Hotel here and was identified with the club and social life of Southern California.

Police were informed that on the 11th inst. Mr. Boehr left home with the statement that he was going to Ensenada for the purpose of completing arangements for the purchase of a hotel there. He draw a large sum of money from the bank before his departure.

Mr. Boehr was last seen on the morning of the 11th inst. at Seventh street and Grand avenue. Since then he has not been heard from.

N. H. Peterson, an operative of the Burns International Detective Agency, which has been retained by the family to take up the trail of the missing club man, told police that he has information which prompts him to the belief that several Mexicans of questionable repute were in possession of advance word that Mr. Boehr was coming across the border. It is his belief that these men waylaid Mr. Boehr, carried him off into the hills and there robbed and murdered him.

Mexican authorities have been notified of Mr. Boehr's disappearance and furnished with a detailed description of him. Authorities of all the border cities also have been informed of his disappearance and requested to institute a search for him.

Mr. Boehr is a stout man, weighing about 200 pounds, and about 5 feet 7 inches in height. He was wearing a gray suit at the time he disappeared.

Chinese Causes Fun in Court by Robbery Story

Spectators in the court of Justice Forbes grinned yesterday when an unsmiling Chinese, Jim Gong, told a story of having been robbed by three negroes, two of whom were held to answer on the charge. It was not the fact that the Chinaman had been robbed that seemed to amuse the listeners, but the manner in which he says he was robbed.

Gong told the court that the three men, Jessie Maxie, Manuel McDonald and James Lawrence, entered his room in a hotel at 803½ Central avenue, robbed him and fled down the stairs. Gong says he pursued them yelling for help and that the negroes, every time he shouted for help, yelled "fire" much louder than he could yell.

"Me yell like steamboat whistle, but all the time they yell 'fire,'" Gong told the court.

Maxie faced the oriental and denied that he had participated in the robbery.

"Judge, I wasn't even there a-tall," he declared.

"Where were you?" the judge wanted to know.

"Your Honor, I was in jail at Watts at the time." An investigation revealed that Maxie was in the Watts jail when the robbery took place and the charge against him was dismissed. Maxie told the court that he wouldn't rob a Chinaman, anyhow, as they "ain't got nuthin'."

YOUTH WILL DIRECT BOYS' PARLEY PLANS

NATHAN GOLDBERG NAMED TO PREPARE FOR WORLD CONFERENCE HERE

Thomas W. Myles, Jr., who was elected president of the International Boys' League at Paris last month, has appointed Nathan Goldberg executive director of the committee to have charge of the arrangements for the next biennial conference of the league, which is to be held in Los Angeles in August, 1926.

The local committee is composed of Samuel Zagon, Herman Kretzer, Benjamin Rudnick Simon Zebrack and Roselle Goodman, who will act as secretary. Two other appointments will be made later.

Headquarters have been established in the Chamber of Commerce building and at the Roosevelt High School. Preparations are under way for a new clubhouse, which is to be completed by the time of the next convention. Arrangements are being made to take care of 2000 boy delegates, who will come from all parts of the world.

CHIROPRACTIC ALUMNI MEET AT ALMA MATER

Yesterday brought from various sections of the State alumni members of the Los Angeles College of Chiropractic in a three-day homecoming, which will close Sunday with the dedication of the new college at 918-920 West Sixteenth street. A banquet and vaudeville entertainment will be given the members tonight at the college.

It is believed that during the three-day conclave more than 1000 visitors and alumni members will have been received by Dr. C. H. Wood, president. He will introduce Dr. Marion Tracie Whiting on Sunday afternoon as the principal speaker of the day.

Pair Show Police How to Open Up Cuffs With Pliers

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Sept. 19.—How a man handy with a pair of pliers can get rid of handcuffs in a short time was demonstrated here early today to Officer Franklin. Franklin, about 3 a.m., came on two men loading tires into an automobile at the Lincoln Boulevard Wrecking Company plant and arrested them. He handcuffed them together and directed them to drive their car to the police station while he followed in his.

When they arrived there, the two jumped out and ran in opposite directions. Franklin pursued and caught one, who said he was Ben I. Atchley. Atchley gave his companion's address in Sawtelle and James W. Taylor was arrested there.

Both men confessed, the police say, admitting also a burglary at the Henderson Motor Mart here. Taylor is said to have served three terms in prison in Oklahoma.

Pico Bond Filed; Order Start on Street Widening

The Greater Pico Boulevard Association yesterday filed with the City Council a $2000 bond to protect the city for its expenses in starting proceedings for the widening of Pico street to 100 feet from Santa Fe avenue to Figueroa street, in case the proceedings are later protested by property owners. As a result of the filing of the bond, the Council instructed the City Attorney and City Engineer to start proceedings for the improvement. The widening of Pico street is part of the association's work of making Pico Boulevard a 100-foot traffic artery from the city to the sea.

BUSINESS CLUB NAMES SWIMMING TEACHERS

CARTER AND HOLBOROW WILL SUPERVISE PLUNGERS FOR COMMERCIAL

With the date of actual construction nearing, organizers of the new Commercial Club of Southern California yesterday completed another step in the organization of the club management with the announcement of the appointment of supervisors of swimming in the new business club.

Maj. H. R. Carter, supervisor of swimming for the City of Los Angeles, and Coach Frank P. Holborow of the Wilkinson plunge, it was announced, will have charge of swimming instruction and the development of club aquatic teams and sports.

The club building, which is to be built on Broadway, will have two of the most modern plunges in Southern California, it is planned. The women as well as the men will have their individual plunge.

While swimming as a physical developer will be held uppermost in the minds of the new supervisors, the deep interest held locally in competitive swimming as a sport will not be overlooked. Maj. Carter announced that swimming teams both for men and women will be organized.

Special attention also will be given the children of the club members, who will have access to the plunges.

DINNER, MUSIC, TENNIS ON MALIBOU PROGRAM

The monthly dinner tonight, a concert tomorrow afternoon under auspices of Wilmer D. Hole, and a doubles tennis championship tourney today and tomorrow are features of this week-end's entertainment of members of the Malibou Lake Club and their guests at the clubhouse in the Calabasas mountains. Frank MacDonald will be chairman of the dinner and have charge of the special program. Mr. Hole will be assisted in the concert by Mrs. Virginia Anderson, Spanish songs; Mrs. E. N. Novis, selections; E. N. Novis, songs; Millard C. Murane, songs; Mrs. H. Howard Brown, readings, and Miss Catherine Edwards, accompanist. Among those entertaining parties at the dinner will be J. E. Hathaway, F. W. Foell, S. Higginbotham, A. E. Key, Q. C. Allison, Frank MacDonald and Dr. E. R. Threnclon.

TWO IN WHITE SLAVE NET

Complaints Issued for Man and Woman After Girl Tells Story; Canada Traffic Charged

Efforts to break up what police charge is a White Slave ring were begun yesterday when Dep. Dist.-Atty. MacKay issued complaints against Louis Petiti, charging a statutory offense and against Mrs. Clare Burns, 510 South Hill street, who faces charges involving a 15-year-old Canadian girl.

Officers are seeking Petit and are searching also for another Canadian girl, said to have been brought to the city. The Federal authorities, Dep. Dist.-Atty. MacKay said, will probably take a hand in the investigation.

Alice Jacobs, Quebec, who says she escaped after several days at Mrs. Burns's house, gave the authorities most of the information on which the complaint was based. She told her story first to the Catholic Charities organization and then to the District Attorney. Raids on Mrs. Burns's house and two others followed. One of the raids resulted in the arrest of May Martin on a vagrancy charge, but no arrests were made in the other.

The Jacobs girl asserted she and another girl had been lured from their homes by promises of good positions. She said she was taken to Mrs. Burns's house and forced to remain there by threats, but managed to slip away.

The raids were made by Investigators Smith and Dozier of the District Attorney's staff.

ADDITION TO HOSPITAL TO BE STARTED

Methodists Will Break Ground for New $500,000 Structure Tuesday

Ground will be formally broken for the $500,000 addition to the Methodist Hospital, 2826 South Hope street, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, when Mrs. Margaret Locke Coates, president of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, digs up the first shovelful of dirt.

The addition will consist of a new wing doubling the capacity of the hospital and a new four-story home for the nurses with accommodations for 120. The new wing will have 115 beds, seven operating rooms and thoroughly equipped diagnostic X-ray and pathological laboratories.

Besides $500,000 to be spent in building the new wing and nurses' home, an additional $100,000 will be spent for equipment and furnishings. The structure will be Class A throughout and will represent the very latest word in hospital construction. The superintendent of the institution, Dr. L. R. Reynolds, and Alfred W. Rea of Rea & Garstang, architects, visited many of the best hospitals in a large number of eastern cities about a year ago before completing plans for the new addition.

Brief addresses will be made Tuesday at the ground-breaking ceremonies at which Mrs. Coates will preside. Speakers will include C. H. Repath, chairman of the building committee of the hospital board of directors; Dr. W. B. Kern, a member of the hospital staff; G. W. Olson, superintendent of the California Lutheran Hospital, representing the Southern California Hospital Council, and Dr. Reynolds.

FIRMIN PARK CONTRACTS AUTHORIZED

Council Vote Provides for Land Filling; Objections Are Overruled

The Cabrillo Beach project at Point Firmin, Los Angeles Harbor, was advanced yesterday by the City Council, which authorized the Playground Commission to enter into contracts for filling the land for the protective breakwater at the beach, adjoining the government breakwater, and for filling land for the beach itself. Under a suggestion made by Councilman Allan, the playground and harbor departments will now ask the City Council to instruct the City Attorney to start condemnation proceedings to obtain the ten parcels of frontage at the beach. This request will be granted by the Council, as the bathing beach project yesterday had the favorable votes of seven Councilmen.

Councilmen Gregory and Mallard voted against authorizing the playground commission to proceed with the improvement on the ground that they were convinced the actual cost of the land, the breakwater and the improvements will far exceed the commission's estimate of $250,000 and may be as high as $1,000,000.

The project is to be financed from the $1,500,000 playground bond issue authorized last year. The protesting property owners were represented by Attorney Ernest C. Griffith, who cited engineering data and estimates to support his contention that the $250,000 cost estimate was too low, and said that if there was a way in which the city could guarantee that the beach could be established within the cost estimate, the protestants would withdraw their objections.

New Attempt Made to Rifle Schenck Home

Hollywood police learned yesterday that a second attempt had been made to enter the home of Joseph M. Schenck, motion-picture producer, at 7269 Hollywood Boulevard. Burglars ransacked the place several weeks ago and carried away a large amount of jewelry.

Schenck's butler, John Moreau, told police that on the morning of the 17th inst., someone glued a handkerchief to a window on the ground floor and broke the glass. They evidently were frightened away by the noise made when the window was broken, as nothing was found disturbed in the house.

LIEUT. NOICE IN NEW YORK

A photograph of Lieut. Harold Noice carrying a caption to the effect that he is the lone white man on Wrangell Island, which reports say has been appropriated by the soviet government of Russia, was carried on the picture page in Friday's edition of The Times. Lieut. Noice now is in New York and has been since his return from Wrangell Island a year or more ago. The lone white man on the island at the time the Russian ship "Krasny Oktibar" dropped anchor there was Charles Wells, an American representing Canadian interests.

BUZZARDS REVEAL KILLING

Beady-eyed Vigil of Trio Starts Officers Hurrying to Solution of Great Open Space Mystery

Three tiny specks appeared in the blue vault of heaven far to the north of the highest part of the Hollywood hills. With an ominous swiftness they grew larger and larger until finally they resolved themselves into the gaunt evil-omened shapes of buzzards, the vultures of the California desert.

For a short time they circled slowly above a brush-clad slope of the hills and then, with a fluttering of their great brown wings, settled grotesquely on a large rock overlooking a slight declivity. Walking solemnly back and forth they maintained a beady-eyed glare at something which had brought them miles from the desert.

The buzzards might have come and gone on their ghoulish journey unmolested had it not been that Roland Nelson, who resides at 1633 Genesee street, observed their significant presence on the rock. He first noticed them the 14th inst. Yesterday they appeared again and circled about the same spot. Nelson then informed the police and Officer Morris was detailed to investigate the matter. In his pocket the officer carried several reports of missing women and children bearing a minute description of each.

When Morris arrived at the secluded spot in the hills the buzzards were gone. Searching about, he met Mrs. Edith Eickes of 1637 Genesee street, who told him that on the night of the days on which the three buzzards first put in their appearance she observed an auto stop near the rock. The last faltering light of day was ebbing and she was just able to distinguish the figures of several men moving about as though they were surreptitiously burying some large object.

With this information forming an object for further search Morris again visited the spot and looked about the weird locality. Parting the tangled branches of a heavy growth of brush Officer Morris peered into a vacant spot beyond. He saw the long heap of brown dirt of a newly made grave!

Acting on police orders in cases of murder investigations Officer Morris left the grave hurriedly and called in members of the police homicide squad. With several detectives, armed with shovels, Morris again returned to the ominous heap of dirt. Slowly they began to remove the dirt, shovelful by shovelful. After a few minutes of perspiring work the shovel of one of the investigators struck a hard object with a dull sound. The others simultaneously ceased their work. Then all began feverishly to dig.

Resounding to the urgent calls for apparel for the Salvage Tea which will be given this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell McDonnel Taylor, 11 Berkeley Square, for the benefit of the Children's Hospital, the committee reports an unprecedented successful outcome, as there have been a large number of articles sent in advance and still "they come." Many friends have sent in almost new evening clothes which will appeal to the "extras" who are seeking positions in the film world, and these will be sold at a figure they can afford to pay. Also hats and caps, hosiery and sports costumes, as well as coats, capes and other articles needed for the coming winter. One friend sent an immense box of new bric-a-brac and, as there is no cost for the upkeep of this sale, everything having been donated and the entire proceeds given to the fund, the goods can be marked at a figure within the reach of even the most slender purse.

A group of kiddies from the Children's Hospital who will be motored over to the Taylor home this afternoon and Mrs. Taylor has engaged an orchestra which will be stationed in the gardens and will play for their benefit early in the afternoon and will remain to play for any who wish to dance on the street of the square.

The hours are from 3 to 5 o'clock and tea and home-made cookies will be served. No admission prices are asked but everyone urged to bring a bundle of wearing apparel which may be sold to help swell the fund which is needed to complete the goal of $50,000 as the result of the Salvage Shop's sales during the four years of its existence.

POSTOFFICE RECEIPTS IN LARGE GAIN

Prosperity Reflected in 22 Per Cent Increase for First Half of Month

The receipts for August were light comparatively and yet showed a gain of 8.20 per cent over August of last year, but the first half of September shows a remarkable increase.

Data compiled yesterday show that the receipts at the local postoffice for the first seventeen days of September, including Sundays and holidays, total $336,814. This is an increase of $62,030 over the first seventeen days of September of last year—a gain of 22.50 per cent.

The only unusual thing that could have operated in the increase, other than population and prosperity gains, is the election period. But the campaigns, local and national, have not been conducted thus far so as materially to increase postal business by the use of the mails for campaign letters and circulars. The campaign mail is about one-third as heavy as usual.

Wife Confesses Triangle, Mate Given Divorce

"Fate has spun its web about me. I shall find complete happiness or utter misery," wrote Mary A. Schroeder in a letter which her husband, A. L. Schroeder, produced at a divorce suit hearing before Judge Summerfield yesterday.

"He has given me money and bought me presents. I have lived with him as his wife for a week in an apartment-house," one letter admitted.

"I hope some day you can find real happiness and contentment. Forget me, forgive me and God bless you," the missive concluded

CRAFT CONTEST PLANS SET

Plans for the contest of craftsmanship to be held by the Assistance League of Southern California, were announced at a tea yesterday afternoon held at the Community House, 5604 De Longpre avenue, at which Mrs. Hancock Banning, the league's president, presided.

Mrs. Banning told of the growth of the Assistance League which was established first for relief of those left destitute by the San Francisco fire, and later continued as an auxiliary of the Red Cross during the World War, and within the last three years has enlarged its scope of community service for the needy, the sick and the helpless shut-ins of Los Angeles.

The purpose of the present contest is to establish a higher standard of workmanship, so that those who are offering novelty gifts, needlework, hand-loom weaving, painting, toys, or foods may be inspired to develop a skill that will assure the articles a ready sale. Each piece will be registered with the name of the maker, together with the address in order to compete for the prizes, and must be left at the Community House until the close of the contest.

Full details may be had at the Community House of the types of craftsmanship that may be entered in the contest, which will open Saturday, November 1, and close December 1, 1924.

The league is also developing its location department and solicits the listing of old barns, houses, factories, gardens, or acreage that may be used for moving-picture settings. The fees received from locations are devoted to carrying on the work of service and the establishing of a day nursery. If the person listing such a location desires that a portion of the fee for its use be given to some other charity, the league will be glad to co-operate.

INGRAM TO WORK

NOTED DIRECTOR GOES TO EUROPE FOR TWO

By Grace Kingsley

However difficult it may be to make pictures abroad, Rex Ingram isn't one to be stumped. Wherefore, having rested up thoroughly following the making of "The Arab," he is about to undertake another strenuous mission on behalf of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Mr. Ingram will go abroad soon to make two pictures for that company, according to word just received from the East, following Louis B. Mayer's visit in New York. These two pictures, according to our informant, will be film versions of two important novels, viz., Wasserman's "The World's Illusion" and Ibanez's "Mare Nostrum." Scenes of these will be made in Spain, Paris and Italy.

Alice Terry, in private life, Mrs. Ingram, has left for the East, and will join her husband in New York. Thence the two will go abroad, accompanied by one or two players and technicians, including two cameramen. Miss Terry will appear in at least one of these pictures.

Rex Ingram has been ill, but is now finally recovered, and is looking forward with much zest to his new labors, it is said. Therefore his palace in Algiers won't see him for a while at least.

JULANNE JOHNSTON TO REMAIN ABROAD

Julanne Johnston is one hometown girl whom we have been hearing from lately by cable only. Yesterday her uncle and ward, C. S. Radford of Beverly Hills, received a cable which ought to work on anyone's imagination. It gives breath of "Don Juan," Lord Byron, sultans and whatnot.

The meager dispatch states that the graceful Julanne sails from London the second of October for Constantinople to star in an English-financed feature with an American director, whose name she does not give. Evidently she will be through with her present English work by that time. Filming stops will be made at Gibraltar and the Isle of Malta.

Julanne had originally planned to return after her first engagement abroad, a Berlin-made production under the noted Dr. Wolff's direction. Then she was tempted by one more starring role in an English production, and now comes this latest news.

Gertrude Short In It

Following the announcement of Lasky having signed William K. Howard to a long-term directorial contract, comes the news that the small cast of his next production is completed with the signing of Gertrude Short as comedienne and that the company leaves this week-end for a month's location at Payson, Ariz. This is the original locale of the Zane Grey story, "Code of the West," which Paramount officials expect to make their sixth successful Grey story to be picturized by them within two years. Owen Moore, Constance Bennett and Lillian Leighton are the other principals of the cast.

Virginia Pearson Returns

Virginia Pearson, looking more bloomingly pretty than ever, has returned from New York. She has received three offers since coming home, and expects to sign a contract shortly.

Vernon Steele Goes East

If you have been wondering why you haven't been meeting the English actor, Vernon Steele, on Broadway these days you may be assured that he is quite all right. To be exact, Mr. Steele is now speeding east to play the leading male role in Tom Wilkes's production of "In His Arms," the Lynn Sterling play starring Margaret Lawrence, which Mr. Wilkes produced here at the Majestic. Steele created the part out here which he will do in New York.

Mr. Steele wrote me from Kansas City stating that he has been playing a season of six weeks in San Francisco with Doris Keane in "Romance" and "The Czarina," under Frank Egan's management.

"I had already agreed to play a two weeks' tour with Miss Keane," writes Mr. Steele, "after the San Francisco engagement, so was not able to leave immediately, but Mr. Egan, whose courtesy and consideration are never failing, arranged to let me off the last three days of the tour, during which 'The Czarina' will be played.

"I am looking forward hugely to seeing New York again, but I think that about next spring I shall be looking forward hugely to seeing California again. Mr. Egan and Mr. Curran have some extremely interesting plans for the future, and I have hopes of playing in Los Angeles and San Francisco again all through next summer."

The Los Angeles climate may rest easy that it has Mr. Steele's approval. But he simply refuses to press-agent Sacramento.

"New York is uninhabitable in July and August," he says, "and the Coast seems to me to be the ideal place in which to work during the summer. I emphasize 'coast' because I have just recently been playing three days in Sacramento, and the only use I can see in it is as a training place for the ultimate destination."

Newcomers on Two Screens Today

J. Warren Kerrigan
Alexander Carr and Betty Blythe.

Costume and Comedy

J. Warren Kerrigan appears in "Captain Blood," which reopens the Rialto Theater today, and Alexander Carr and Betty Blythe are featured in "In Hollywood With Potash and Perlmutter" at Loew's.

Tom Blank is a man who indulged freely in the luxury of inertia.

"Tom," he was asked, "which do you think are the least undesirable, sins of omission or sins of commission?"

New Photoplay Holds Mission Screen Monday

"The Virgin," adapted from the prose classic "The Virgin of San Blas," has been secured by the Mission Theater to open a world premiere Monday. The story is laid in South America and contains all the adventurous action, intrigue and romance characteristic of the Spanish people, with a comedy relief that is new and refreshing.

Although the action takes place in South America the comic opera element, usually connected with a story of this nature, is entirely missing, the story dealing with the conflict between love and hate in the heart of a beautiful woman. It is enacted by a cast that includes Kenneth Harlan, Walter Hiers, Sam De Grasse, Alice Lake and Dorothy Revier. The management is surrounding the feature with a program that will include a variety of novel features.

DANCE STUDIO OPENS TODAY

Constantine Ellwood Carpenter, a dancing teacher of Philadelphia society and who has recently made his home here, announces the opening of children's classes at his spacious studio, 6461 Sunset Boulevard, this afternoon. A demonstration lesson is to be given, illustrating the method employed in training children. Mr. Carpenter has made a lifetime study of his art, and grades his pupils as in any graded school. Social dancing, deportment, Russian and Italian, toe, group, folk, interpretative and classical dancing will also be features of the school.

CHILDREN'S FANCY DRESS DANSANT

Adeline Leone McAdam, principal of the McAdam Normal School of Dancing, will give a children's fancy dress dansant this afternoon in the Long Beach Virginia Hotel ballrooms, in honor of Master Raymond Stuart Baird. Master Baird is a child artist and has been requested to appear before King George of England and to conduct the royal band. The lad is known as "Little Sousa," is but 8 years of age, has composed and conducted, and is now touring the world.

"AMERICA" COMES TO TALLY SCREEN TODAY

Famed in poetry and in prose, the historical ride of Paul Revere was never before invested with the significance, the thrills and the daring that are in D. W. Griffith's "America," which will have its Broadway premiere at Tally's Theater today.

SUSPECT HELD UNDER BOND

Justice Forbes was sympathetic yesterday when Arthur Maas, who was arrested on a charge of suspicion of robbery, told him that he had been a bandit but two short weeks when arrested, but held Maas to answer on two counts of robbery. Bond was set at $2000. Maas is charged with the robbery of Clark, 506 North Arden Place, and Mrs. F. C. Delano, of Monterey Road, South Pasadena.

WORLD COUNCIL FOR SOUTHLAND

International Relations to be Sphere of Body

Dr. Moore, University Head, is Elected President

Many Organizations Join in Launching Project

Dr. E. C. Moore, president of the University of California, Southern Branch, was elected president of the Southern California Council of International Relations by the vote of 100 representative citizens of the Southland who met at the Clark Hotel yesterday to form the organization.

The board of directors of the council, formed for the purpose of dealing unofficially with all international problems, and especially those which affect the Southland, is composed of the following persons:

Dr. James A. Francis, pastor of the First Baptist Church; Mrs. Shelley Tolhurst, representing the Friday Morning Club; Charles H. Scott, president of the Pacific Palisades Association; Mrs. Seward A. Simons, representing the State Federation of Women's Clubs; K. S. Beam, secretary of the Church Federation of California; Dr. E. S. Bogardus, instructor at the University of Southern California, and E. M. Boddy, publisher of Los Angeles.

OTHERS TO BE NAMED

Other officers will be elected at a meeting to be called by President Moore some time in October. In the meantime the board of directors will choose a committee which will operate to make the work of the council more effective.

The board of directors, under the chairmanship of Dr. Francis, was authorized to send letters to all Congressional candidates in California asking them to outline their policies in regard to international matters.

Persons attending the meeting, representing business, social, civic and religious organizations, were authorized to send to the next meeting delegates from their respective clubs, societies and churches. These delegates will become active members of the council, having a voice in the official deliberations and acts of the organization. The council formed yesterday is to be the central organization for similar branch councils which it is expected will be organized in various cities of the Southland.

AIMS ARE TOLD

The functions of the council, which is to include a speakers' bureau and bureaus on research work, information and extension activities, will be to strengthen, co-ordinate and extend the efforts to improve international relationships, now being exerted by many similar organizations and by individuals. Financial support will be provided by contributions and by membership fees.

The council plans for an annual conference, which will last for several days and at which vital international problems will be presented and discussed by experts and practical methods for their solving will be outlined.

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL CLASSES STILL OPEN

EVENING PUPILS WILL BE ACCEPTED IN SPANISH, PATTERN MAKING

Additional enrollments will be accepted at Lincoln Evening High School in classes in Spanish and in the elementary and advanced classes in pattern making, it was announced yesterday by C. E. Nihart, principal of the school. The pattern-making classes are proving very popular, Mr. Nihart said, and but few vacancies remain. The elementary group in this course will study work of special interest to machinists and draughtsmen and the advanced group will concentrate on problems in built-up patterns and case-box construction. These classes will meet every Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7 to 9.

The class in intermediate Spanish also meets every Tuerday and Thursday evening for a detailed study of this language and practice in conversation in this tongue. Instruction in all courses is free and those desiring to enroll should call at the school on either Tuesday or Thursday evening. The school is located at 3625 North Broadway.

A Coat of Varnish

COAST SEEN IN FOREIGN TRADE ERA

E. P. Erckenbrack, Shipping Board Official, Will Go to Europe Post Soon

The Pacific Coast is entering its greatest era in foreign trade, according to E. P. Erckenbrack, who arrived at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday aboard the Admiral liner H. F. Alexander. Mr. Erckenbrack, shipping's best-known operating executive on the Pacific, has just been appointed director in Europe for the United States Shipping Board and is here to confer with Southern California shipping leaders before his departure for London.

"The European situation is particularly active at present," said Mr. Erckenbrack, "and will afford me an extraordinarily favorable opportunity to do good constructive work in advancing and further establishing American shipping, both at home and abroad.

"The interchange of commodities between the ports of Continental Europe and the United Kingdom, coming within the field of my new duties, and the Pacific Coast is increasing steadily in volume and importance."

Mr. Erckenbrack goes to his new post, which includes all home ports of the United Kingdom, French, Baltic and Scandinavian ports, the Portuguese and Azores ports, and all ports on the Mediterranean, from duty as director of the North Pacific district of the Shipping Board. Prior to assuming that office in May, 1923, he was South American director for the Shipping Board, with offices at Buenos Aires.

The Pacific-Argentine-Brazil line, operated from this port to the east coast of South America by Swayne & Hoyt, Inc., is the greatest factor existing, Mr. Erckenbrack said, in fostering the growth of trade between North and South America.

EDUCATION SEEN AS AID TO INDIANS

Instruction Fails to Kill Love of Bright Blankets, However, Says Official

Though education may teach the Indian how to compute the distance from the earth to Sirius, it often fails to eradicate his innate love of bright red blankets, according to Miss Annie Laurie Hardesty, secretary to the Committee on Indian Affairs in the United States Senate.

Miss Hardesty, who is touring the West on her vacation, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday and is a guest at the Biltmore. During her service as secretary she has made a study of Indian education and has visited many of the schools established by the government for the red man.

"Indians are apt pupils and the schools that have been established for their education have been eminently successful. It is true, however, that some of them revert to the ancient customs of their tribe when they leave school and return to their homes. Nevertheless, the civilizing influence of the white man seems to be of benefit to the Indian for the tribes are increasing in population, numbering at this time some 300,000 throughout the United States, which is a greater number of Indians than it is estimated were found within the boundaries of what is now the United States upon the advent of the white man."

JEWEL STORE BANDIT SUSPECT TO ANSWER

BOND SET AT $5000 FOR MAN TAKEN IN GUN BATTLE IN HOLLYWOOD

Eddie Middleton, who was arrested last week after a gun battle in a Hollywood jewelry store which he is said to have tried to rob, was held to answer yesterday by Justice Forbes on a charge of attempted robbery. Bond was set at $5000.

Middleton was identified by Sam Prager, owner of the store, as the man who entered the store and attempted to rob it at the point of a gun. Prager seized his own gun and several shots were exchanged, the would-be bandit surrendering.

BRUIN AND CITY LIFE DON'T AGREE

Pet Out of Place in Apartment-house

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smileah and Teddy

This is the story of a bear that has become a white elephant—at least C. H. Smileah, 111½ North Olive street, says so, though his wife doesn't agree with him.

"Teddy has always been a pet," explained Smileah as they led Bruin into The Times offices last night, "but that was when we were living at White River in the White Mountains of Apache county, Ariz. She had all outdoors to frolic in but some how they don't want her frolicing around here in an apartment-house.

"My husband was employed at White River by C. H. Elkin, an Indian trader, and the Indian trappers brought Teddy to me when she was the cunningest little cub you ever saw," interrupted Mrs. Smileah.

The Smileahs have no children.

"We've grown real fond of her," Mrs. Smileah went on, "brought her all the way in an automobile. She stood behind the driver's seat with her head between our shoulders and was real interested in the trip."

"Of course, I didn't stop to think how it would be taking care of Teddy here," Smileah added ruefully, "but I guess I'll have to sell her for we have no home here."

THE TRAIL OF THE PERSIAN FELINE

Head of County Dry Squad Finds Six Persons Loved His Cat for Itself Alone and Finally Recovers Valuable Pedigreed Animal After Relentless Search

George Contreras, head of the county dry squad, has his lost pet back. His Persian kitten, gone almost a week, is again at his home at 1852 North Occidental Boulevard after passing through the hands of six persons who loved it for itself alone, without knowing it has a pedigree dating back almost to the time of Zoroaster and has a market value far beyond its size.

Contreras had caused considerable annoyance to his neighbors by setting out feasts for cats which lured strays for miles around, but did not bring back the pedigreed Persian. Yesterday he met a man.

"I see by The Times you lost a cat," the man remarked. "I think I saw it over at the power house."

"Yes, I saw a kitten like that," said the power-house foreman. "I saw the track foreman petting it."

"Yes," said the track foreman, "one of the workmen picked it up."

"I picked it up," said the laborer, "and gave it to a little girl."

The little girl, it appeared, had been forbidden to keep it and had given it to a man who runs a pneumatic drill. The driller, interviewed, shifted his quid to the other cheek and said: "Hell, yes, I gave it to the foreman."

"Have you seen my Persian kitten?" queried Contreras of the foreman, determined to see the thing through if he had to interview everybody up to the general superintendent.

"Shure, I seen it," said the foreman of drillers, who comes from the island that contains Kilkenny, most famous of all cat centers. "I took it home to me ould woman, an' she has it yet."

This required an automobile trip somewhere out in the southwest part of the county, but at the end of it was the kitten.

SNAKE TENT LINGO BAFFLES

Ex-Charmer of Reptiles Writes Judge "Everything is Jake," So He Drops Attempt to Kill Charge Against Husband, But That Word "Jake" Had Him Guessing

A letter from Mrs. Marie Schadt to Justice Baird led to the dismissal against her husband, Justus Schadt, of a charge of attempting to kill her.

"He is a good man, now, judge, and everything is jake," the letter said in part.

The judge was a bit puzzled over the "jake" part and instructed the court attendant to consult the dictionary. The attendant reported that there is no such word in the dictionary.

"Your Honor," Schadt said, "the wife means that she is sitting pretty; that everything is all right. You see, she used to be a snake charmer with a South Main-street show and uses words like that real often. We've made up now and I'm a changed man, yessir."

Xerophagious Cow on Liner in Local Port

Triptoleme, the xerophagious cow of the French liner Georgie, paid her second call to Los Angeles Harbor yesterday morning. Her record is five years of deep-sea faring.

Triptoleme, although she has traveled more than 150,000 miles at sea, has never partaken of one bit of nourishment while out of sight of land on the high seas.

Clarence Ernest, the ebon-hued chef superieure of the Georgie, says she can always tell when land is in sight. Triptoleme invariably begins mooing for fodder before any member of the crew has made the landfall.

The vessels of the French line fleet are unique among the foreign ships calling at this port. They are the only ships which boast fresh milk and cream in their mess.

The Georgie also always leaves her home port with a dozen head of sheep aboard—that the officers and crew may have fresh mutton en voyage. She is here from Antwerp, via La Union, with 3000 tons of general cargo for Los Angeles.

DISBARMENT IS ASKED IN FUND WITHDRAWAL

A request that Walter Gould Lincoln, attorney, be disbarred from practicing in the State, was filed yesterday in Superior Court by attorneys for the Los Angeles Bar Association. Lincoln was accused of violating his oath in his asserted failure to put all the facts of a case at law before Judge Reeve in obtaining an order for the withdrawal of $481 held by the court in escrow while the case was on trial.

Woman Takes Own Life Over Niece's Death

Shortly after Mrs. Teresa Amoto, wife of Joseph Amoto, wealthy fruit dealer, living at 604 Forter avenue, Van Nuys, returned from the funeral of her favorite niece, who was buried yesterday, neighbors heard a revolver shot and rushed in the Amoto home to find Mrs. Amoto dying from a self-inflicted wound from a .38 caliber revolver.

Mrs. Amoto was about 39 years of age and the mother of several children. Friends of the family say despondency over the death of the child caused the deed.

The body was taken to the Noble undertaking parlors at San Fernando. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

HARBOR LICENSE TAX OPPOSED AS ILLEGAL

Asserting the license tax placed against its wharves at the harbor was unconstitutional as it was a burden on interstate commerce, the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company yesterday filed a petition in Superior Court asking that the city, the Board of Harbor Commissioners and other city officials be enjoined from collecting the tax.

In the petition the company recited its gross receipts in 1923 totaled $1,262,216.31. The company stated it had been assessed 1 per cent of this amount, $12,622.16, as its license tax for the year ending June 30, 1925.

The contention was made that the company's receipts were due largely to interstate commerce and that any tax on such receipts would be contrary to the Constitution. The petition was prepared by Attorneys Gregg, Powell & Reynolds.

CONSTITUTION LOYALTY URGED

Judge Bledsoe Addresses Crowd in Pasadena

Citizens Who Make Joke of Nation's Law Assailed

Jurist Calls Document Pact of All Americans

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 19.—Deploring the attitude of substantial citizens that "joined the reckless in making a joke of the Constitution," which he insisted was a contract between 110,000,000 people of the United States, United States District Judge Bledsoe of Los Angeles tonight delivered a stirring address before a large audience at Tournament Park. He spoke on "Our Federal Constitution" at a Constitution Week rally fostered by the Lions' Club of Pasadena.

James W. Foley, poet and philosopher of Pasadena, introduced Judge Bledsoe and Rev. Merle W. Smith offered prayer. Clifford B. William, president of the Lions' Club, presided and Miss Tilda Rower sang a number of patriotic songs.

After stating that it had become the fashion in different sections of the country for people to criticise adversely the Constitution of the United States, Judge Bledsoe attacked the critics, insisting that there was no justifiable grounds for their criticism.

INDIVIDUAL VIEW

He pointed out that they were wont to base their criticism on the hypothesis that the Constitution had outgrown its usefulness but he insisted that generally the critics meant its usefulness to them instead of to the nation as a whole. They criticised, he insisted, from an individual, modern viewpoint. Another class, he declared, criticised the Constitution adversely because they said it was unresponsive to the needs of a progressive people, while still another class of critics was loud in demands that the Constitution should be made easier to amendment.

Judge Bledsoe pointed out that the Declaration of Independence received at all times the full support of the people and he then compared it with the Constitution, showing that both should receive the support of all good citizens.

As a contract it was binding, he insisted, on all citizens, being a guarantee to all freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of religious worship, trial by jury, right to own property, right to contract and in fact rights not enjoyed by the citizens of other countries.

PROHIBITION LAW

Touching upon the Eighteenth Amendment he said:

"It is a deplorable fact that some of the most substantial citizens in the United States have failed in this respect, failed to take a serious view of the law and the effect of breaking it. Some of them are joining with the reckless in making a joke of the Constitution."

Judge Bledsoe insisted that the Constitution, a contract among the people of the United States, provided a sound structure for the government and as such should receive the undivided support of all good citizens.

SIX SPEAK ON CONSTITUTION IN COURT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Sept. 19.—Activities in Police Judge Helwig's court were halted this morning for nearly two hours, while six speakers addressed the assembled prisoners, court attaches and spectators on respect for the law of the land and the Constitution. The occasion was a Constitution Week program sponsored by the Long Beach Bar Association.

Judge Hanby of Los Angeles delivered a stirring plea for observance of the Eighteenth Amendment, saying in part:

"This amendment is in the Constitution and it is not only our duty to see that it is observed, but the duty of every good citizen as well.

"The last few decades we have been drifting away from government and laws," he said. "Let us turn our way and become true, upright and devoted citizens."

Crossing Fight at Newhall Is Won by County

Forty years use by the public failed officially to establish as a public thoroughfare a grade crossing in Newhall over the Southern Pacific tracks, so the State Railroad Commission yesterday took official recognition of the situation and authorized the Board of Supervisors of the county to construct the street across the tracks.

Market street in Newhall is one of few traffic outlets in the town, so the public took the convenience of crossing the Southern Pacific tracks. Recently, however, a freight train tied up traffic longer than five minutes. The county complained and the true status of the crossing came out. The commission found that public convenience and necessity demanded the crossing.

The commission granted the South Park Water Company permission to increase rates, abandon irrigation water service and issue and sell $97,000 worth of stock in payment for the property of the South Park Land Company. Rates will be raised from 50 cents for 5-8-inch meters to $1.25 and from $1 for 1-inch meters to $3. Irrigation service will be discontinued by December 31, next.

Application was made to the commission by the Security Van and Storage Company for a certificate to operate an auto freight truck service from Los Angeles to the Bay Cities district and intermediate communities.

LECTURES FOR TOURISTS

A course of illustrated travel lectures will be conducted next week for prospective European tourists by the European Travel and Lecture Bureau, 628 South Ardmore street. A preview of places of historic and scenic interest will be shown, while they are described in the lectures. The lectures will be given at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

young men under 21 years of age? What can the church do to stop the crime wave? What can parents do?" These questions will be discussed by Dr. John A. Eby in a sermon on "Parentage," to be preached tomorrow evening at the Wilshire Presbyterian Church. The subject for the morning sermon is "Let's Go Fishing."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Matter" is the subject of the lesson-sermon at 11 a.m. tomorrow at each of the seventeen Christian Science churches of Los Angeles. First, Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth and Thirteenth churches will repeat this service in the evening. All churches conduct Wednesday evening meetings, which include testimonies of Christian Science healing.

TO FIGHT "KID" SATAN

Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor of Angelus Temple, announced that she will enter the ring for a ten-round bout with "Kid" Satan at the Temple tomorrow evening. If the fire-eating champion of Hades fails to show up, Mrs. McPherson will give her audience an account of past conflicts in an address on "The Arena of Life." The subject for morning is "Baptism With the Holy Ghost and Fire;" the topic for the evening sermon being "The Raven and the Dove."

DIVINE POWER CHURCH

"Health Fallacies Versus Divine Healing," is the subject of a sermon to be preached at the Morosco Theater tomorrow morning by Mrs. Leila Simon Castberg, pastor of the Church of Divine Power. "The constant change in methods of curing disease today is astounding, but the average person is ignorant of this progress and clings to outworn theories concerning the combatting of physical ills," said Mrs. Castberg. Sunday-school and a song service will precede the address.

"THE WORLD'S NEED"

Rev. H. Gordon Palmer, chaplain of Post No. 8, American Legion, and pastor of the South Park Baptist Church, who recently returned from a trip to Europe, will be in charge of services at his church tomorrow morning and evening. In the morning Mr. Palmer will preach on "The Book We Forget," the subject for evening being "What Does the Old World Need?"

TO DISCUSS HUGHES

Rupert Hughes has been sent a special invitation to attend services at the Ambassador Hotel Theater tomorrow morning when Dr. Frank Dyer, pastor of the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church, will preach on "Why Rupert Hughes Quit Going to Church." Dr. Dyer will tell his audience "why film stars and physicians should attend church." "There is a spiritual side of life to which we all owe much and without which men are little, if any, better than sheep or goats," said Dr. Dyer.

"THE UNPARDONABLE SIN"

"Are all things possible to him who believes? If miracles are not possible today, what do we mean by saying that Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever? What is the unpardonable sin?" These and similar questions will be discussed by Dr. G. A. Briegleb in his sermon on "The Man Whose Faith Removed Mountains," to be preached tomorrow evening at the Westlake Presbyterian Church. The subject for the morning discourse is "The World-Wide Significance of Prayer."

"VISUAL EDUCATION"

One of the interesting subjects to be considered by the Los Angeles Graded Union of Church School Workers at the meeting of that organization on the 24th inst., is "Visual Education in Religion." The speaker will be Rev. Donald A. Clary, pastor of the Haven Methodist Church. The meeting will begin at 9:45 a.m., in Burdette Hall, Philharmonic Auditorium Building, and Mr. Clary will give his address at 11:30 a.m.

"IS PRAYER A LOST ART?"

"Mind Your Own Business," is the topic of a sermon to be preached by Dr. J. A. Francis tomorrow evening at the First Baptist Church, 1728 West Sixth street. The subject for the morning discourse is "Is Prayer Becoming a Lost Art—and if so, Why?" Bible school will be conducted at 9:30 a.m. and the B.Y.P.U. will meet at 6:15 p.m.

STARTS NEW PASTORATE

The annual conference of the United Brethren Church, which recently convened at Riverside, assigned as pastor of the First United Brethren Church of Los Angeles Rev. Sanford B. Kurtz, who served as missionary to the Philippine Islands for seventeen years and who is the present religious work director under the federated Protestant mission bodies, carrying on work at the Indian school at Riverside. Rev. Everett E. Johnson, former pastor at Selma, was appointed to the pastorate of the Second United Brethren Church of Los Angeles. Rev. W. H. Blackburn was returned to the Third Church, and Rev. J. Sherrill to the Church at the Palms.

TO START REVIVAL

Rev. J. Roy Weakland, noted evangelist of New York, will begin a "Back to the Bible" revival campaign tomorrow evening in a tent at East First and Hicks street. Mr. Weakland's daughter "the 8-year-old evangelist," also will speak in the evening, her subject being "The Greatest Thing in the World." Services will be conducted every evening next week and many churches of the district will co-operate at the meetings.

"AMERICA'S CRISIS"

"American Manhood Meeting America's Foes in the Hour of America's Crisis" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Rev. Bob Shuler at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the Trinity Methodist Church. Among the questions which Mr. Shuler will discuss are the following, "Is the blazing cross the cross of Christ? Is the sacred bond a holy alliance or a badge of commercialization? Is Americanism a lure or a challenge?" A series of revival services will begin at the church tomorrow morning under the leadership of Rev. Harry Vom Bruch. Mr. Vom Bruch will also preach in the evening and will conduct services at Trinity Church every evening for the next three weeks.

"THE LAW OF HEREDITY"

The "Back to the Bible" campaign will be continued at the Church of the Open Door next week and Dr. French E. Oliver will speak every evening, excepting Monday and Saturday. Dr. Oliver's subject for tomorrow morning is "Restore Such an One," and in the evening he will discuss "The Inexorable Law of Heredity."

CHURCH NOTES

Dr. William A. Brown, pastor of the University Methodist Church, has returned from his vacation trip to Alaska and will be in charge of services at his church tomorrow morning and evening. Dr. Brown's sermon subjects for morning and evening, respectively, are "Dreamers and Workers Together" and "If I Were in School Again."

Mrs. Margaret C. LaGrange, president of the National New Thought Association, will give a free lecture on "The Tissue of the Life to Be" tomorrow morning at the Ebell Club Auditorium.

"The Spiritual Shoe" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Dr. Benjamin S. Haywood tomorrow morning at the Wilshire Methodist Church. Services will also be conducted in the evening.

Rev. C. L. Waite, pastor of the Pico Heights Christian Church, will preach tomorrow morning on "What Does Real Prayer Accomplish?" The topic for evening is "The Only Creed All Christians Can Accept."

Hollywood Christian Church, Rev. W. F. Richardson, pastor. Morning topic, "The Three 'Alls' of the Program of Jesus;" evening, "The Savior of Death and of Life."

Rev. S. H. Saager, pastor of the El Sereno Lutheran Church, will discuss "The Holy Bible" tomorrow morning at the Cameo Theater on Huntington Drive.

Berean Congregational Church, Rev. W. P. Hardy, pastor. Morning theme, "The Coming Revival;" evening, "Steps in the Christian Life."

"The Secret of Happiness" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Rev. F. E. Hagin tomorrow morning at the Figueroa Christian Church.

Hoover-street Baptist Church, Rev. J. A. V. Pieters, pastor. Morning topic, "Jesus Christ as Superior Over All;" evening, "As It Was in the Days of Noah."

Gospel Hall, 1225 West Jefferson street; Christians gathered unto the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ. Breaking of bread, 11 a.m.; preaching in the evening; prayer meeting, Wednesday evening; Bible reading, Friday evening.

Swedish Baptist Church, West Eleventh and Bixel streets, Rev. Carl Antonson, pastor. Preaching services will be conducted in the morning and evening. Sermons in English are preached the second and last Sunday evenings of each month.

North Wilshire Congregational Church, Dr. E. T. MacMahon, pastor. Morning topic, "Co-workers Together With God."

Highland Park Lutheran Church, Rev. W. G. Ruehle, pastor. Morning topic, "Manifestations of Ingratitude Among Christians." Mr. Ruehle will preach at 2:30 p.m. at the Masonic Hall on Eagle Rock Boulevard.

Hyde Park Congregational Church, Rev. J. M. Schaefle, pastor. The morning sermon will be by Rev. J. L. Maile and the evening address by Rev. J. K. Higginbotham.

YEAR'S GREATEST USED CAR SALE
Starts Saturday, Sept. 13th, closes Sunday, Sept. 21st. Walter M. Brown says: "Sell $50,000 worth of used cars by the balance of this month. Give the public a good liberal discount and charge the loss to advertising. Let us make it a banner month."
SO. LET'S GO!
How's 20 per cent discount on any car, including 1923 models? This is a bona fide reduction. Check up our last week's advertising and satisfy yourself. In order to make this a whale of a sale we have decided to include all our famous Challenge used cars, which means you can choose from the cleanest, most representative used car stock in the city.
100 late model standard makes to choose from—all models—Sedans, Coupes, Sport Roadsters, Tourings, Special California Tops, several speed trucks and light commercial panel and delivery wagons. A few suggestions:
Durant Standard Roadster, cannot tell from new.
Durant Touring, perfect condition.
Star Sport Sedan, like new, guaranteed.
Cleveland Sport Coupe.
Chandler 4-pass. Coupe.
Chevrolet, 1924 Touring.
Chevrolet 1923 Touring.
Ford 4-door Sedan, 1924.
1923 Buick Touring, sport model.
Packard Light 6, Sport.
Willys-Knight Touring, late model.
Overland Touring, a good one.
Several Star Sport Tourings, used as house calling cars.
Several Star Standard Tourings, all guaranteed.
If you are in the market for a good, honest used car at a bargain price, you will find it at this sale. Compare values and prices.

AN OLD PENSION ABUSE

A newspaper item furnishes material for an interesting "footnote to history." In 1782 Admiral Rodney of the British navy defeated the French fleet commanded by De Grasse which had previously, in 1871, assisted Washington in defeating Cornwallis and thus assuring America's independence. Rodney's victory, though it came too late to affect this happy result, made him a hero in Great Britain and secured him a title and a perpetual pension amounting to $10,000 a year for himself and his heirs. This sum has been paid annually from the British treasury ever since, but it is now, according to the newspaper item above mentioned, proposed to commute the pension by the payment of a lump sum. The terms of the agreement are said to be now before the House of Commons for decision.

Admiral Rodney, as stated above, was victorious in the encounter with De Grasse, who surrendered his three-decker to Rodney and was taken as prisoner to England. His capture so elated the English admiral that he failed to follow up the victory, and over a score of his French ships escaped. At least this was charged by Admiral Hood, one of Rodney's subordinate commanders. The pension of $10,000 seems liberal, but it did not prevent the English admiral from being "sorely straitened for money" during his last years, authorities say owing to his extravagant habits.—[Outlook.

LENNON STIRS ELKS SESSION

Call to Patriotism Issued by State Jurist

Bakersfield Cinches Trophy for Drill Teams

Charter for Burbank Lodge is Announced

BY ARTHUR F. PANGBURN
"Times" Staff Correspondent

AVALON, Sept. 19.—More than 800 accredited delegates to the tenth annual convention of the California State Elks' Association were stirred to a high pitch of patriotic fervor at the opening session today by Thomas L. Lennon, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of San Francisco, during his address on the ideals and aims of Elkdom. Groups that base their aims on creeds came in for a flaying at the hands of the State jurist, who declared that Elkdom, whose ritual is based on the American flag and the Bible, can do nothing else but stand unqualifiedly behind the Constitution of the United States. Elkdom, he said, ignores creeds and isms and, being a distinctly American organization, is unswerving in its loyalty to the flag and in its devotion to the country.

The Strand Theater, scene of the business sessions of the convention, was packed when President Howard B. Kirtland of San Luis Obispo called the convention to order this morning. On the stage with the president were Arthur H. Dibbern of Glendale, first vice-president; Harry C. Hutchison, Oakland, second vice-president; James T. Foyer, Los Angeles, secretary; C. W. Haub, Sacramento, treasurer; W. M. Abbot of San Francisco, Past Grand Exalted Ruler of the order; Judge Lennon, and a number of members of the board of trustees together with past presidents of the State organization.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A memorial service for Elks of the State, who have died during the past year was held at the close of the morning session.

At noon today 885 accredited delegates had registered at the Hotel Atwater headquarters. This is by far the largest number of delegates attending the State convention since the creation of the organization ten years ago. The previous record was that of 1922 when 720 delegates registered at Santa Monica.

Catalina Island steamers continued to pour additional crowds of Elks from all over the State into Avalon today, one of the busiest days of the convention. Each steamer was met at the dock by the bands of Oxnard and Pasadena lodges and by reception committees from the Long Beach lodge, which is playing host to the visitors.

In a ritualistic contest that lasted until long after midnight last night, and in which five of the crack lodges of the State, each representing a district, participated, San Francisco carried off the honors and was awarded the State Association trophy. So excellently was the ritualistic work of the order presented by the officers of the competing lodges that the judges had considerable difficulty in determining the winner, San Francisco winning over the Hanford lodge by only eight-tenths of 1 per cent. The stand of the lodges in the contest was as follows: San Francisco, 99 and 96-100; Hanford, 99 and 8-100; Alhambra, 98 and 79-100; Ontario, 98 and 53-100; Stockton, 98 and 37-100. Considerable praise was given the Ontario lodge officers for the courage and fortitude shown during the past year in entering the elimination contests against many of the older lodges of the State. Ontario lodge is one of the newer organizations. Judges of the contest were Richard C. Benbough, past State president of San Diego; C. G. Dodge of Oakland, and George Post of Fresno.

BAKERSFIELD WINS

Two contests that drew thousands of visiting Elks and their women folk today were the drill contest at the Chicago Cubs' training grounds and the band contest at the open-air theater. Bakersfield lodge drill team, holder for the past two years of the State trophy, was given stiff competition by the drill teams of the Oakland, Pasadena, Visalia and Huntington Park lodges.

The State drill team trophy was won for the third time and cinched for all time by the Bakersfield Lodge.

Trophies in the annual band contest went to Glendale Lodge in the Class A contest. San Pedro Lodge Band carried off the honors in the Class B contest. In addition to the State trophy for each class the winners were awarded valuable trophies by the Long Beach Lodge.

With Maj. George Ruhlen, Jr., Capt. J. C. Stephens and Capt. Arthur W. Burton of Fort MacArthur, as judges, the drill teams presented what was later described by experts as an hour and a half of the snappiest drill work ever staged in California.

TEAMS COMPLIMENTED

In appearance, accuracy of maneuvers, knowledge of the manual of arms and military precision, the drill teams were so closely lined that selection of the winners was a matter that required considerable time, following the closing of the contest. The drill team of Bakersfield Lodge, No. 266, clad in the white and purple uniforms that represent the colors of Elkdom, was one of the last to appear on the field and the work of the twenty-two uniformed men evoked the admiration of more than 5000 spectators.

Five lodges were represented in the band contest at the dancing pavilion in Class A comprising bands of thirty pieces or more, Santa Monica, Pasadena and Glendale lodge bands competing. The award went to the latter. In Class B, bands of less than thirty pieces, San Pedro and Oxnard lodges were the entrants. So excellent was the work of the various bands that the judges here also had difficulty in making the awards. San Pedro was finally declared the winner in the Class B contest.

HIGH JINKS PLEASES

Every purple and white bedecked man and woman on the island gathered this evening at the open-air theater at Avalon to witness the annual high jinks entertainment, as staged by Ed Culin of Berkeley Lodge and his assistants. Many startling and novel features kept the visiting Elks in an uproar of merriment for almost three hours.

Appetites were being whetted all day today for the mammoth midnight barbecue to be given near the Century Club tonight. Catalina mountain sheep in numbers sufficient to feed 7000 people were being prepared for the feast late this afternoon by Jose Romero, barbecue chef, and his helpers. John Steven McGroarty's Mission Play dancers are scheduled to provide the entertainment in connection with the barbecue.

Four modest and retiring men wearing delegates' badges landed at Avalon yesterday and became the center of attention when it was learned that they hold the record for the largest number of miles covered to reach the convention. The delegates represented Susanville Lodge, of Susanville, a lumber town in the extreme northeast corner of the State. Granted a charter only last May, the lodge is one of the baby lodges of the State. Its membership is close to 250 and it already possesses its own clubhouse. In order to reach the convention here the delegates had to travel through a good portion of Nevada, by way of Reno and Truckee.

CHARTER TO BURBANK

Announcement was made on the floor of the convention today, through a telegram from Grand Exalted Ruler John G. Price of Columbus, O., that by dispensation of the Grand Lodge, a charter has been granted the Elks Lodge at Burbank. The announcement was greeted by cheers from the delegates, and representatives of Glendale Lodge offered and had adopted a resolution of congratulation to the baby lodge of the State.

Tomorrow, the closing day of the convention, promises to be the busiest for the delegates. The business session will open at 10 o'clock and following the adoption of committee reports nomination and election of officers will be in order. All opposition to Edgar B. Davis of Long Beach, chairman of the convention committee, for the presidency has died out, it was said today and the Long Beach Elk probably will be the unanimous choice of the convention. No definite slates, so far as other officers of the State Association are concerned, have been prepared in advance. Adoption of an amendment to the constitution of the State organization this morning provides for the elimination of the titles of first, second, third, fourth and fifth vice-president. The newly elected vice-presidents will be known as vice-president southern district, vice-president southern central district, vice-president bay district, vice-president central district and vice-president northern district.

DEATH CAR RIDER RELEASED

Long Beach Woman Who Testified Husband Shifted Blame May Avoid Five-Year Term Imposed

Tears of joy streaming down her careworn face, Mrs. Edna Bledsoe of Long Beach yesterday was escorted from Judge Avery's courtroom by a group of friends after she had been admitted to probation for five years in sequel to her conviction on a charge of manslaughter.

Mrs. Bledsoe was charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Francis M. Brunton of Long Beach. Brunton met his death in an automobile accident at the beach city last Christmas

The case developed into what Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hill described as one of the most unusual manslaughter cases ever prosecuted by the District Attorney's office. A criminal complaint was issued against Mrs. Bledsoe accusing her of driving the automobile which caused Brunton's death. Several months later, while Mrs. Bledsoe was confined to her bed, she wrote a letter to her mother intimating her husband, Marcus L. Bledsoe, actually was the driver of the death car.

A supplementary investigation of the letter resulted in a criminal complaint also being issued against Bledsoe. Mrs. Bledsoe, however, was tried and convicted and the charge against her husband was dismissed.

Eleven of the jurors that heard the testimony in the trial signed a petition asking that Mrs. Bledsoe be granted probation, and one of them expressed the belief yesterday that Bledsoe had been driving the car and had tried to fix the blame on his wife

On the witness stand, the woman denied that she had driven the car. She told Probation Officer Mrs. E. M. Ladico that her husband was at the wheel at the time of the accident, but had asked her to assume the blame as he thought she would stand a better chance of being acquitted than would he.

In view of the circumstances, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hill, who prosecuted the case, also recommended that probation be granted. It was stated that Mrs. Bledsoe and her husband are now living apart. Mrs. Bledsoe is the mother of two small children.

SUSPECT HELD HERE

Baltimore Officials on Way After Asserted Bigamist

Detective Lieutenant Murphy, Baltimore, will arrive today from Sacramento with extradition papers for Charles Heflinger and will seek to take him back to Baltimore to face a wife, who, police charge, has neglected to divorce. Heflinger, arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Fox, Schultz and Luker, was released by Justice Baird in custody of his counsel for appearance today. Heflinger, after divorcing one wife, married Mrs. Vernie G. Heflinger, and acquired Mrs. Loria E. Smith Heflinger as wife No. 3 without bothering the courts, according to Detective Murphy.

SEVENTY-TWO BECOME AMERICAN CITIZENS

Seventy-two men and women of foreign birth became Americans yesterday when they received their final papers in Judge Bledsoe's department of the United States District Court. It was one of the largest naturalization classes in recent months. As is usual here the onetime British subjects headed the list in point of numbers. The class was divided as follows in regard to former nationality: Great Britain, 38; Russia, 6; Italy, 6; Germany, 5; Rumania, 2; Jugo-Slavia, 2; Sweden, 2; Hungary, 2; Czecho-Slovakia, 2; Switzerland, 2; France, 1; Greece, 1; Poland, 1; Turkey, 1; Norway, 1.

RED CROSS CHIEF COMING

Dr. George H. Richardson, director of first aid and life saving in the Pacific division of the American Red Cross, San Francisco, will visit Los Angeles today. Lou Breker, chairman of water first aid in the local chapter, and Jack Donovan, chairman of Santa Monica committee, will meet Dr. Richardson at the Union Pacific this morning and escort him to the office of the Los Angeles chapter at 213 South Broadway. On Monday at noon, a cafeteria luncheon is to be given at the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A. cafeteria, 715 South Hope street, to which all life-saving enthusiasts are invited. Dr. Richardson is to conduct a round-table discussion on life saving. It is expected that representatives from Santa Monica, Pasadena, Long Beach, Balboa and other chapters of the red cross will be present.

UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR JAILED HERE

Oregon Man Denies Guilt at Hearing on Charge of Failure to Provide

Dr. Ernest Sutherland Bates, head of the English department at the University of Oregon at Eugene, was haled before Police Judge Pope yesterday on a warrant charging failure to provide for two minor children. He pleaded not guilty and was released on $1000 bail for trial on Tuesday at 11 a.m.

The children are Roland, 10 years of age, and Vernon, 7, and are at present with their mother, Mrs. Rosalind Bates, at 717 Imogene avenue. Prof. and Mrs. Bates are divorced and the warrant was sworn out by the latter.

Dr. Bates declared, when brought into court that the charge was a trumped-up one designed to annoy him. He said the children had been awarded to him by the divorce court and that he had allowed them to go to their mother for a visit as a matter of courtesy.

"When I was arrested," he said, "I was preparing to leave Los Angeles for Massachusetts, to claim my share in the estate of my mother, who died recently."

According to a statement made last night by the mother of Mrs. Bates, the children have been living with their mother ever since the parents were separated six years ago.

"Mr. Bates has never contributed a cent for their upkeep," she stated. "For six years their mother supported them alone."

Editors From Southland to Meet Monday

The Southern California Editorial Association will hold its annual convention Monday at the Clark Hotel and, according to reports from the committees, it promises to be one of the greatest gatherings of newspaper men in this section.

The convention is to meet at 1 p.m., after a noon luncheon, when it will take up unfinished business. A feature of the session will be a get-together banquet.

J. R. Gabbert of Riverside will preside and the nomination and reorganization committees will read their annual reports.

Don Francisco, the Pacific Coast manager for Lord and Thomas, will speak, after which there will be an open discussion of advertising rates, commissions and practices. A report will be read on the newspaper fund work for the reception of the 'round-the-world flyers.

Canada as a Playground

Canada since the war has become almost a region of holidays and the Mecca of tourists. Visitors to the country in 1923 spent approximately $136,000,000. Canada estimates that the revenue from tourists, which is a new source of income, has been wrought with greater ease and rapidity than the revenue from the exploitation of any of the other great natural gifts of the Dominion. Persons acquainted with the mineral deposits, fisheries, fur-bearing regions and forests would not think of comparing the tourists' resources with them, but the statistics prepared by the Dominion Parks Board indicates that in a material sense the tourist traffic is worth more than the majority of them, since it is exceeded only by agriculture, mining, forestry and manufacturing. The revenue from fisheries, furs, electric power and construction is less than that from tourist traffic.

Will Pay for Fresh Eggs

The idea of exploiting "day-old" eggs originated with the farmers of northern New Jersey and it certainly proved successful from the start. They were marketed principally in New York City and the eggs were handled through an association. The eggs were carefully sorted in size and general appearance and some advertising was done at first. The public soon took advantage of the opportunity and showed a willingness to pay an advance in price. In the case of the New Jersey association it was shown that they were perfectly willing to pay on an average of more than 6 cents, the greater part of which reached the grower. The idea has since been extended to other sections.

A SHY NOVELIST

A friend of Thomas Hardy, O.M., who recently celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday, says that he is probably the shyest great man in the world. Any sort of notice almost hurts him, and in Dorchester kindly people avoid greeting him, knowing that he shrinks even from such attentions. Mr. Hardy was a regular caller at a quiet little inn for a glass of port. He came daily for a fortnight, and then someone at the inn said to him: "Good morning, Mr. Hardy." He looked up with frightened eyes, finished his port, and went. And never again entered that inn.—[St. John Globe.

SHORN SAMSON SHOCKS COURT

John Jones, Decrepit Wreck of Humanity, Responds

'Liquor Did It,' He Wheezes; They Carry Him Out

The name of John Jones was called in Superior Judge Avery's court yesterday. Its owner was to appear for plea on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. A guttural remark from a tottering and palsied old man, clinging to the jury box for support, was the only answer.

The judge's eyes passed him by. Then again:

"John Jones."

LOOK FOR TARZAN

John Jones was charged with attempted murder. He had beaten his wife brutally with his fists. John Jones must be a young and powerful savage with the physique of Tarzan. Again the judge scanned the courtroom.

"Here, Your Honor," the shivering old man beside the jury box replied with an effort.

John Jones was a withered man, weazened and wrinkled and with trembling legs. He clung tenaciously to the jury box to prevent himself from toppling to the floor. He was so old and so weak. He was the "cave man" who had beaten his wife with his fists.

John Jones pleaded guilty to a charge of simple assault. The charge of attempted murder was dismissed. He said he must have been drunk at the time. The reason?

HOME BREW DID IT

"Home brew," John Jones admitted. He brewed it himself.

"Do you recommend your home brew for others?"

"No, Your Honor."

"Do you think you could take another drink of your home brew and yet live?"

"No, Your Honor."

"Four months in the County Jail, John Jones."

"Thank you, Your Honor."

And John Jones, whose palsied hands had been given the kick of a Missouri mule by his own home brew, was carried from the witness stand by two husky bailiffs. He was so old and so weak.

SOUTHLAND HUNT FOR VETERAN REQUESTED

Police and sheriffs in Southern California cities were asked yesterday to aid in the search for Joseph Hagan, World War veteran, who mysteriously dropped from sight ten days ago. Hagan, who was 34 years of age, was injured in a fall while serving in the aviation service and his mind, according to his wife, Mrs. Alice Hagan, has become effected as a result. Hagan left his home, 4501 Alumni street, Eagle Rock, a week ago Wednesday. He was driving a Buick touring car, model 1918, No. 496-102. He went to the Veterans' Bureau, 420 South San Pedro street, where he was to have taken a treatment. The physician was busy. Hagan left and has not been seen since. Hagan is five feet, nine inches in height, has blue eyes, light red and curly hair, weighs 180 pounds, is smooth shaven and heavy set. He wore a khaki suit with pleated coat, tan shirt, brown felt hat and brown shoes.

HOW PARROTS LEARN TO SPEAK ENGLISH

Three hundred parrots, perched in a long row, taking their first lesson in English. The school is the wild-animal farm of W. A. King on the outskirts of Brownsville, Tex.

The teacher brings the birds by thousands from the tropical forest regions of the States of Campeche, Yucatan and Tabasco, Mexico. Usually it requires a course of six weeks to perfect the parrots in the rudiments of English—a tiresome task for the teacher because the instruction must all be done by rote. Repeat, repeat, repeat.

"Polly," says Prof. King.

Sometimes there is no response until this word has been repeated for an hour. Then suddenly one of the birds perks its head in a quizzical, amusing way and utters the word. At this unexpected sound the other parrots become much excited.

"Polly," again says the teacher.

The lesson has been driven home and there comes a chorus of "polly" from the long row. One word gradually is coupled with another until the birds acquire a vocabulary. Some of the class learn quickly while others are backward. Promotion is given birds showing most adeptness and they are placed in a higher class, which might properly be called English 2. During the daily instruction periods the pupils are grave and earnest, although not infrequently a prankish bird may temporarily interrupt the classroom work.

When their English course is completed the birds are ready for shipment to the markets of the world. Mr. King conducts his school all year.—[Kansas City Star.

NOT LIKE HOME COOKING

When old Mr. Seerton made his first visit to the city he saw and heard a great many new and strange things, but he was always wary in his comments.

One day his little granddaughter enticed him into a tea shop and, leading him to a small table, proceeded to order some eclairs, a delicacy of which she was extremely fond.

"I know you'll like them, grandpa," she said, coaxingly, and the old gentleman bravely tackled the unfamiliar object.

"Isn't is delicious, grandpa?" inquired the little girl, seeing a strange expression come over her grandfather's face as he took his first mouthful.

"Well, it may be," said Mr. Seerton, in a noncommittal tone, "but doesn't it appear to you to be a little mite underbaked in the middle?"—[Kansas City Star.

GUILTY UNDER DRY ACT

Frank V. Mahoney and W. M. King were found guilty of transporting illicit liquor when tried by a jury yesterday before Judge Bledsoe in United States District Court. They had been arrested by Federal agents while riding in an automobile along Sunset Boulevard. They disavowed knowledge that liquor was in the car and asked for a trial. Judge Bledsoe fined them $500 each.

HOLLYWOOD CHEST DRIVE HEAD PICKED

George R. Dexter was appointed Hollywood chairman for the Los Angeles Community Chest campaign to be conducted November 10-20 at a luncheon meeting of thirty Hollywood citizens in the Hollywood Athletic Club yesterday. Other members of the executive committee appointed were C. H. Keck, Gilbert H. Deesemyer, Dr. Willsie Martin, M. F. Palmer, C. E. Toberman and Dr. William H. Snyder.

George H. Coffin and Charles H. Christie were appointed generals to lead the Hollywood forces. George L. Eastman will serve as Gen. Coffin's adjutant and Gen. Christie will have G. G. Greenwood.

There will be five geographical divisions in the Hollywood sector. Gen. Christie will command two of these divisions together with the motion-picture industry while Gen. Coffin will take charge of the work in the other three sections.

Col. Walter Smith, commander of the Hollywood Post, American Legion, will have the 575 active members of his post organized for duty under Gen. Coffin.

The budget committee of the Community Chest organization will make its report next week, it was announced yesterday. After many weeks of investigation those in charge of determining the exact amount of money to be raised for the support of the various charitable and welfare agencies uniting in the campaign almost have finished their task.

There are more than 100 organizations under the Community Chest banner and the work and needs of each separate agency had to be investigated. Arthur Braden, president of California Christian College, yesterday pledged that institution's support to the movement. The Inglewood Lions' Club appointed Clarence W. Schouboe its representative to promote Community Chest plans among the citizens of that city.

Plot Suggested in Discovery of High Explosives

Discovery of several pounds of black powder, dynamite fuse and a can of gasoline in the rear of a pool hall at 2121 East Ninth street, caused police yesterday to begin a search for what they believe to be "bombers" or professional incendiaries.

The powder and fuses were discovered by Detective Lieutenants Blight and Lansing. The explosives were turned over by them to Capt. Phelps, explosive expert of the police department.

QUITE A DIFFERENCE

The little son of the vicar was spending his first term at a preparatory school, and he was very proud of much of the new knowledge he acquired. Every night he came home and imparted something new to his proud father.

"Father," he began one evening after supper, "my master says that 'collect' and 'congregate' mean the same thing."

"Does he?" said the vicar offhandedly, being engrossed in his next Sunday's sermon.

"Yes," replied the small boy. "And do they mean the same thing?"

"Perhaps they do, my son," replied the clergyman, who had had a great deal of parochial experience, "but you can tell your master that there is a vast deal of difference between a congregation and a collection."—[Exchange.

WILD DUCK UNABLE TO FLY

Catching birds by running after them and sprinkling salt on their tails is proverbially difficult. On one of those lonely island specks in the largest of oceans, known as the Hawaiian bird reservation, is a peculiar species of teal which has lost the power of flight. This wild duck can be easily run down by a man on foot. But as men do not come to this island once in a blue moon, it would seem safe. However, it has to have fresh water and the only fresh water on the almost barren island is a small pool. Should the encroaching sands cover the pool, which seems likely, this rare flightless duck must die.—[Exchange.

PROVING HIS CASE

When should a man retire? Not until he is more than 100 years of age, or is incapable mentally or physically of doing his job, says Dr. E. J. Slade-King, who has refused to resign from the position of medical officer of health at Ilfracombe, Devon. Dr. Slade-King who is within a few months of being 100, told a deputation from the Council he would not retire. "Younger men want to step into my shoes," he said to a reporter, "but let them strike out for themselves as I had to. I am hale and hearty and do my job every day." Dr. Slade-King also holds the position of Coroner.—[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Missed the News

Olga Nethersole tells the following story concerning a little maid she employed. One day, while dressing for the theater, there was an unusually heavy downpour of rain, and Miss Nethersole, peering out of the window at the overflowing gutters, remarked:

"Flood, miss?" queried the girl.

"Yes, the flood. Noah, you know, and the ark."

"I never has no time to look at the papers, miss," explained the girl apologetically.—[Exchange.

World Has Speeded Up

Last week a Ford car traveled across the same territory over which the Israelites made their pilgrimage from Egypt to Palestine, the "Promised Land." It took the Israelites forty years but the flivver made it in four hours. The distance is about 130 miles, most of it a wild barren desert.—[Capper's Weekly.
